The Improvements in the Law Department have not yet been completed. They will include in addition, the carpeting of both rooms with matting the addition of 270 volumes of English Reports, and the Reports of several additional states. For the present the student librarian system will be continued, but in the near future a librarian who will give his entire time to the work will be secured. These changes are the result of a special appropriation by the last legislature.

The first drill of this college year occurred yesterday afternoon. One hundred and forty-seven, seventy-four of whom were of the "early apple" order, were present. Companies, both in and out near future. The student librarian system will be continued, but in the near future a librarian who will give his entire time to the work will be secured. These changes are the result of a special appropriation by the last legislature.

The Vidette-Reporter

TUESDAY, THURSDAY, AND SATURDAY

The Vidette-Reporter was a weekly newspaper. Its mission appeared to be to find fault with everybody and everything. This was why it was so prevalent that at least almost every issue contained several articles grumbling and complaining about matters that went wrong around the University. Chronic complainers were among the only contributors, and enough instructions to the Faculty were published to fill a book. It was a hand-book on etiquette.

We mention the above because already complaint has reached our ears about matters that went wrong around the University. Chronic complainers who cannot work were almost everywhere. We, which the people of Iowa should know, would like to have better results.

The portrait of Mr. Charles E. Borden, a graduate of S. U. I. in early times and the Principal of the Preparatory Department from 1864-67, has been recently presented to the library.
