Important Faculty Action.

At a meeting of the Faculty yesterday afternoon, term essays were abolished and election made entirely optional. Delinquent work, however, in both cases, must be made up.

Term essays were abolished for the reason that too small an amount of good was derived by the individual student from the immense amount of work done in correcting the essays by the professor. Electionary work was made optional in response to a general demand for such action until a regular chair of election be established.

Junior Meeting.

Class '96 held their annual meeting at Irving Hall last Thursday. Much spirit and good feeling was manifested. The filling of vacancies on Junior Annual Board and election of officers were the principal matters considered. The former was left to the board of editors. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Fred Brasted; vice president, F. W. Marshall; treasurer, Jesseann Jones; editor, Reuben A. Butler.

S. U. I. Band.

The S. U. I. band has been reorganized. About twenty members have already been enrolled which number probably will be swelled to twenty-five. The first two rehearsals have been exceedingly satisfactory. The men are almost all new. The reed section is very strong and several good soloists in the departments have joined. New music will be purchased. Monday evening they played in front of the Opera House and received well desired marks of approval. This year we shall have a band, in fact.

Political Science Seminary.

The Political Science Seminary had its first meeting Thursday evening, from five to six, in the Political Science alcove of the Library.

The members are: Kelley, Shambaugh, B. F., Monnet, Nelson, Morse, Cartwright and Elliott.

In addition to the regular work, Prof. McClain, Wambaugh and Patrick will give an evening each to the discussion of subjects of special study on their part.

Other members of the Faculty will also probably take part, but the program has not been definitely made out.

Lecture Course.

The Lecture Bureau announces the following engagements for the season: George Kennan, October 29; Robert Nourse, November 29; Ignatius Donnelly and John C. Freeman, January 12 and 13; Edward Eggleston, February 15.

Notice.

We wish to announce to members of the Faculty, and all organizations and committees, that the columns of this paper are open at all times for brief notices of meetings, etc. They will be published without charge, and we would suggest that officers will find this a convenient means of notification. Any short announcement dropped in the box before 8:30 A.M. of the day of issue will be in time for publication.

The Iowa Wesleyan.

Mt. Pleasant, La., Sept. 23, '91.

Ed. Vidette-Reporter.—Thinking of a sister institution would like a word at times from a near relative, I send you a few lines:

Our College opened the 9th inst. with a large increase of attendance, the number of new students being variously estimated from eighty-five to one hundred and ten. The full quota of old students has not yet returned, and as usual many are reluctant to abandon the summer vacation and resume the tiresome routine of college life, hence they are still straggling in.

Our new President, Dr. C. L. Stafford, is an alumnus of L. W. U., so it is not like coming among strangers. He is well liked by all with whom he has come in contact in college duties.

Prof. W. T. Ferguson resigned the chair of Greek, and resumed ministerial duties in Baldwin, N. Y. Prof. Adams, from Simpson College, takes his place, but as yet has not arrived.

Tennis is all the rage. By the way, our boys are becoming quite proficient in the art of serving. Foot ball fever is also raging.
Local and Personal.

The gymnasium will be ready for use by Monday. About 250 have already signed as members of the Y. M. C. A.

Illness prevented Mr. Stephenson from meeting his classes Friday.

Leon Brown, '90, of the Des Moines News, is in town for a few days.

The Iowa Wesleyan University will soon have a new science building.

Carl Weinrich, '93, of Burlington, will not be at the University this year.

The Republican boys at the University are talking of organizing a club.

Miss Aurora Goodale, '91, is teaching in the grammar school at Lake City.

Miss Smith, who took the Pharmacy Course two years ago, is with us again.

David O. Holbrook, a graduate of Shattuck School, at Faribault, Minn., has entered the class of '94.

E. A. Bobb, '92, has returned a week late. He has been suffering for several weeks from a severe attack of malarial fever.

H. O. Weaver, who expected to graduate with Law, '92, is in the office of Attorney L. A. Riley, at Wapello, Iowa.

President Schaffer has reported 190 names to Lieut. Reid, who will be required to drill in the battalion. Of these, 74 are freshmen.

M. J. Kenebeck, who has been assistant surgeon at the Soldiers' Home in Marshalltown this summer, has gone to the Chicago Medical College to finish up.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean will continue this year the fortnightly college edition, which was so well received last year. The first issue will be on Saturday, Sept. 26.

Gilman Drew, '90, after spending a few days at S. U. I., left last night for Johns Hopkins University, where he expects to take a postgraduate course in the physical sciences.

We are glad to note the increase of dailies in the library reading room. With such advantages as are ours no student can afford to be ignorant of the issues of the day.

Instructor C. S. Searles, of last year's Dental class, is located at Dubuque. Mr. F. T. Breene will take his place, while Mr. Glasgow will be promoted, Mr. Ed Baumgardner taking Mr. Glasgow's position.

F. W. Myers, formerly of '94, has just returned from Europe, where he has been for the past six months as a special agent of the government, investigating the influence of Polytechnic schools upon students. He will enter S. U. I again in a few days and finish with the class of '92.

The professional students do not take advantage of the privileges of the general library to such an extent as they should. Every student may find there special works in his particular line of study. For example, each law student should familiarize himself with such standard works as Maine's Ancient Law, some good work on Political Economy, Finance, etc.

Then also under the present arrangements everyone has access to the leading magazines of the day such as the North American Review and the Political Science Quarterly.

No one should let a week pass by without reading at least one magazine or article on some subject of present interest.

Henry H. Griffiths, once a member of our class, but a graduate of '91, is in the office of Berryhill & Henry, Des Moines.

The firm of Polk & Gilman, of Minneapolis, has dissolved, and Prof. Gilman will practice alone. He has recently purchased a pretty suburban home with plenty of yard room.

The secretary would be glad to prepare a report of the class on September 1st each year. It would greatly facilitate his work if each member, upon making any change in location or business, would promptly advise him of the fact. It has been suggested also that those members who have entered into partnerships of a matrimonial nature since graduation, mention the same for the next annual report.

E. M. Nealley, Sec'y.

Tribute of the Law Faculty.

The following touching memorial to the late Judge James M. Love, is made by the Faculty of the Law Department, and published at their request.

The death of James M. Love, a member of the Faculty of the Law Department, which occurred on July 22 last, and after the close of the last collegiate year, renders it proper that on this, the next suitable occasion, the Law Faculty shall put on record some memorial, and after the close of the last collegiate year, renders it proper that on this, the first suitable occasion, the Law Faculty shall put on record some memorial, inadequate though it must be, of his services to the University as a professor, to the nation as a judge, and to mankind as a scholar, a searcher for truth, an upright citizen, and a man exemplary in every walk of life.

Born in Virginia in 1820, admitted to the bar in Ohio in 1840, and after attaining a successful practice, having served as captain of a company during the Mexican War, the subject of this memorial came to Iowa in 1856, entering at once upon the practice of his profession and achieving immediate prominence therein. During the sessions of 1852 and 1854, he served in the State Senate. In 1856 he was appointed by President Pierce to the position of Judge of the District Court of the United States for Iowa, which appointment was confirmed by the Senate in 1856. In 1875 he was appointed to a professorship in this Department, which he held until the time of his death, having been from 1857 to 1860 Chancello
