Asso­ciation.

Those who have had three years' drill and who have taken the prescribed examination will be considered for membership in the Seminary to pay special attention to original work.

Seminary in Pedagogy.

A Seminary has been organized in Pedagogy by Prof. McConnell. Each member of the Seminary is assigned a subject for special work during the term. In order to secure definite information about these subjects correspondence will be carried on with leading officials and educators of this and other states. From the information thus secured together with other reading, the student writes his thesis. It is the object of the Seminary to pay special attention to original work. The Seminary meets every Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Following are the members:

Lyon, Nelson, Stowe, Houser, Sollenbarger and Miss Brown.

Miss Grace Mc Gee, '91, left Tuesday evening for Boston, where she will per-sue her studies in music.

The Faculty now occupy as a reading room the room formerly used by Prof. Loos as a recitation room.

Let all students who possess any vein of humor, art, versification, story-writing or dramatization be ready to compete for the prizes which will soon be off ered by the Hawkeye for 1892.

Course tickets for the lecture course are now on sale at the book store, and may also be secured from the following members of the Lecture Bureau: Chantland, Bannister, Stevenson, Flynn, Jacques and Mc Callister.

Chancellor McClain has distributed to the class in Elementary Law the appendix to a "Report of the Committee on Classification of the Law," appointed by the Bar Association of Iowa.

To quote from the preface: "... the committee have not attempted to originate any new scheme, but rather to adapt to practical use those notions of classification which have generally been accepted by English and American writers on the subject."

The printing of the full text is awaited with interest, as is the publication of any document with which Prof. Mc-Clain has to do.

Kansas State University this year has given an optional course on the condition of woman in the United States.
It opens with a brief review of the position of woman in all countries down to about 1800 A.D. Then follows a more systematic study of her condition during the century preceding American colonization—the fatherland influences.

Next comes a consideration of woman in America, in colonial, revolutionary and early nineteenth century periods.
The course will end with an examination of her present legal, political, industrial, educational and professional status in the several states.

Ladies remember cloth garments are of the latest novelties in garments, and you will find Horne is always one season ahead of his competitors in cloak novelties.

At 14 Clinton street can always be found the freshest candies. We make them ourselves, Morgene & Hatch.

Ladies you will find by attending Horne's cloak opening to-morrow that he is showing the latest and correct things for 1891-'92. We are not showing a class of garments that are passe, but just inspect our beautiful line of cloth jackets and capes in chamois, silk mattasses, Bedford cords, wide weight worsted, broad cloths, glassa worsteds, camels hair, and all the leading cloth materials in fur trimmed or plain, you can find at Horne's.
