Law Literary.

The Law literary society extends to all the lovers of forensic oratory in the University a cordial invitation to be present at 8 o'clock Friday evening, to listen to the following program:

SPEECH—"The Irish Statesman—Parnell"—L. M. Krotz.

DEBATE—Resolved, That all sumptuary laws should be repealed.

The managers of the World's Fair have made no provision for a separate building to be devoted to education. This is unfortunate and it is being strongly urged in various quarters that the oversight be remedied. In America, the birthplace of the public school, and the home of hundreds of colleges, it is peculiarly fitting that in any national exposition of our resources and progress these institutions should receive full recognition.

There are four institutions of higher learning at Lincoln, aside from the State University. The newly elected Chancellor of the State University, J. H. Coufard, has under advisement a plan for concerted action among them which may result in a great advance for education in Nebraska.

What Our Exchanges Say.

The Vidette-Reporter comes out first issue this fall, as a tri-weekly, somewhat reduced in size, but promising to be a valuable addition to the journals of the State. We wish the Vidette-Reporter success—Cornell Breeze.

The Vidette-Reporter is this year a tri-weekly, published Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Its editors contemplate making it a daily paper. The Board of Managers have decided to make it solely a college newspaper.

The Vidette-Reporter, which now appears before us for the first time as a tri-weekly, promises to be a new sheet—Lombard Review, (Galesburg, III.)

The S. U. I. seems to be quite productive of editors. The Vidette-Reporter is now published three times a week. A new publication was also started with the beginning of the year—Iowa Wesleyan.

The Vidette-Reporter has taken a departure from the beaten path of western college journals, and now appears three times a week. Its aim is a college newspaper, and we doubt not but that it will admirably fill its mission as such. We commend its enterprising spirit and hope soon it will be on a level with many of its sister universities and issue a daily.—Collegehum Forense, (Des Moines Baptist College).

The Vidette-Reporter, of S. U. I., a four page tri-weekly, is a regular visitor. It is devoted to local and personal.—Simpson Observer, (Omaha, 14a).
Local and Personal.

Alumni Notes.

Mr. Robert Bonson, L. ’90, is at Columbia College law school.

Earl Rice, W. Maytum, and John Barthel, all of ’91, practice the healing arts on the prairies of S. D.

Shields, L. ’87, is now counselor for the “greasers” on the Texas borders. It seems that S. U. I. talent is needed and appreciated even among successors of the intelligent Montezumas.

Browse, L. ’91, stopped in the city a day on his way to Lincoln, Neb., where he will settle down for the practice of his profession.

Dr. V. L. Traynor, M. ’91, was married to Miss Susie Clark, Monday evening, in this city.

It is with regret we learn that President Northrup, of the State University of Minnesota, will be unable to be with us at the dedication of our Y. M. C. A. building. In a letter recently received he writes that previous engagements makes it impossible for him to accept the invitation received.

The Faculty of the Law School will issue from time to time, for the benefit of students in that department “The Law Bulletin.” This will contain matters supplementary to the regular lectures, e.g., hypothetical cases and questions. The first number, which will be issued in a few days, will contain exercises in contracts, carriers, chattel mortgages and perhaps some other matter.
