Kansas vs. Iowa.

The foot-ball team will leave here Friday evening for Kansas City, where they will play the Kansas University team on Saturday. Kansas has not lost a game this year, so a hard-fought battle may be expected.

Won By Good Team Work.

The work of the foot ball team in the game with Nebraska State University at Omaha on last Thursday was such as will long be remembered, and, although the score—S. U. I., twenty-two; Nebraska, nothing—was not very close, the game was a very good one. Nebraska, however, found S. U. I. altogether too strong, and up to the last minute played a desperate and plucky game. They showed their lack of practice, while S. U. I. never played a steadier team work game. The interference of our team was a special feature and did much towards gaining the victory. The blocking of the rush line was also very efficient. The wedge almost constituted the sole play, and in our opinion was played altogether too often, for the few end plays that were made invariably gave good gains. Of the individual efforts we have little to say, for every member of the team did his share of the brilliant work; although Sanford, Larrabee, German, Ferren and Elliott probably distinguished themselves more particularly. Bailey, Kallenberg and Larrabee did some fine tackling, while Woolston, Pierce, Stiles and Hall should be mentioned for excellent work in blocking.

For Nebraska Flippin, the colored left half back, undoubtedly did the best work, though Johnston's sprinting gave many gains. To Flippin, however, who never played in a game before, too much praise cannot be given. White, Pace, Anderson and Stockton also rendered very good service in their respective positions.

Through the kindness of the Faculty the team was excused from duty Wednesday and the memorable trip was begun at 4:40 a. m. The fact that it had snowed slightly the evening before and that Omaha was reported to be covered by some six inches of snow tended to dampen the ardor of the team just a trifle, but when the sun found a weak spot in the clouds about 9 o'clock, Manager Chantland's brow lighted up and hopes and expectations in general soon were way above par.

At 1:15 the train pulled in at Omaha, where the boys were met by Director Sheldon of the Y. M. C. A. After dinner they donned their suits and at the Y. M. C. A. building indulged in a short practice game at the tennis grounds. The hospitality of the Christian Association was here again manifested, for besides being allowed the freedom of the entire building, the men were given the use of the dressing and bath rooms. After supper an invitation to the Omaha Athletic Club's new building was accepted and a pleasant evening was the result. This club but so recently organized has a membership of over 600. Their gymnasium is a model of beauty, containing all of the finest apparatus and a running track. A billiard room occupies the upper floor and a bowling alley and bath rooms the lower. To this association the members of the eleven wish to extend their heartiest thanks for the kind and hospitable manner extended them. Besides being invited to use the building at any and all times, S. U. I. is indebted to them for many other courtesies.

Thanksgiving morning was spent in sight-seeing.

At the ball park in the afternoon when the team arrived considerable surprise was manifested to find that goal posts were not yet up; neither had any provision been made for keeping back the crowd. Not a policeman was on the grounds, and had it not been for the valuable assistance rendered by Mr. Geo. Wright and several other old S. U. I. men, it is possible that the game would not have been played. After some parleying the posts were erected and everything was in readiness.

Between 1,800 and 2,000 people were present, and among them a great many S. U. I. graduates. Although the day was not a model one for spectators, it was an ideal one for foot ball.

At 3:20 p. m. the game was called and the two teams lined up. To the unprejudiced spectator the weight of the two lines appeared about even with the odds slightly in favor of Nebraska.

S. U. I. opened its game with the ball, and a wedge gained ten yards. After Ferren had gained seven yards through the side he fell, but retained possession of the ball. German around the end and Ferren through the center again gained but three yards. Another V gave Ferren the ball and four yards. Kallenberg gained two yards. A series of plays followed, but four downs did not give the required distance, so Nebraska took the ball. Several trials were made through the center, but Capt. Johnston saw the fruitlessness of such attempts and the next time by a bit of brilliant sprinting with the assistance of Skiles, he made an advance of thirty yards and was only stopped by Larrabee's fine tackle. A pass forward gave S. U. I. the ball and German gained five yards. Another wedge was formed and Ferren came out with the ball and met some very good interference. He advanced to within a few yards of the goal line. Here our old reliable fake V was brought into effect and even the Omaha reporters gave German credit for the first points, while in reality Sanford, entirely unmolested, scored a touch-down. In the trial for goal Stiles accidentally placed the ball on the ground and Larrabee, who was aroused by Nebraska's cry, "the ball is in play," made a quick kick and the ball went high over the center of the goal. Score, S. U. I. 6; Nebraska 0. The ball was speedily put into play and Nebraska gained six yards. Several wedges gave only short gains, and with only one and one-half yards to gain, Nebraska was forced to yield the ball and again did S. U. I. resort to its favorite mode of advance, the wedge, and Sanford with a dash through the center gained ten yards. Elliott then found a weak spot in the right end and with some good interference gained twenty yards. White, by a fine tackle, succeeded in bringing him down but not without injury to himself. Mosher was substituted. Sanford was next signaled for the right end and Johnston's sprinting alone saved a touch down. A series of wedges and runs gave small gains and then German was pushed over the line. The punt out, however, proved too far for Larrabee's capabilities and the referee decided no goal. The ball was then brought out to the twenty-five yard line and Johnston gained but one yard. Again Johnston attempted to make a run, but Kallenberg by a quick tackle downed him with a loss of seven yards. Nebraska now again was forced to kick, Larrabee making a good catch, but while the former disputed the fairness of the catch the ball was passed to Sanford who made a long run of twenty yards. A gain of nine yards by Elliott through the center and one of fifteen yards around the left end by Sanford followed. Larrabee was then pushed over with the ball. No goal was kicked. Score, S. U. I., 14; Nebraska, 0. Only three minutes remained and Flippin, with the ball in a wedge, gained five yards, but Referee Holbrook declared the ball not in play, and it was brought back just as time was called.

ball in play by a V. Sanford by a good tackle stopped Flippin after he had gained ten yards. Flippin again took the ball and forged through a hole in the center for four yards. Several attempts to gain were fruitless, Flippin fumbled and Nebraska lost the ball by Woolston's good fall. Ferren found a weak place in the left end and with good interference gained seven yards. S. U. I. here made a fumble, Pace secured the ball and Flippin was instructed to run the right end, but Bailey's territory was well guarded and the result gave no gain. Again Nebraska punted and S. U. I. got the ball. German and Elliott each gained ten yards and German dodged through the right end with twenty-five yards to his credit. Larrabee was given the ball in a wedge and gained five yards around the left end. Bailey gained four yards around the right end and another wedge gave the ball to Sanford who made a run of ten yards to the left. Elliott and German then made gains of thirteen yards each. Another wedge forced Larrabee and the ball to within two feet of the goal line. A strong resistance by Nebraska forced S. U. I. to down the ball without a gain, but the whirling V set the crowd to applauding, and German scored another touch-down. Larrabee again failed at goal kick. Score, S. U. I., 18; Nebraska, 0.

When the ball was brought out Nebraska made its usual five yards gain on the wedge. Flippin made two gains of three yards each, but Johnston's slow starting again gave him a loss of four yards by Kallenberg's quick tackle. Another punt by Mosher took the ball back twenty yards, and before Kallenberg could make a fair catch he was tackled. This gave S. U. I. twenty five yards and the ball. Bailey then took the ball for five yards and Ferren went around the left end for the same gain. A V gave German the ball, and a run through the side gave him eight yards. Larrabee was next given the ball and a wedge advanced him to within one yard of the line, from which place German easily scored a goal. Another fall of goal and the score stood S. U. I. 22, Nebraska 0. The ball was immediately started from the twenty-five yard line and Johnston made a good run, but Larrabee's tackle stopped him after an eighteen yard gain. A V gave Nebraska five yards, and Johnston's fumble a few moments later gave Bailey the ball. Time was called immediately afterwards.

We congratulate the foot ball team and the University in general upon the outcome of last Thursday's game with the State University of Nebraska. Nothing can do us more good in so short a time and at so little expense as a winning game of foot ball. As a means of advertisement, athletic success can not be equalled. Furthermore, the acquaintances we are making this year with the State Universities around us, through the medium of foot ball, is invaluable. We begin to live in the active world of colleges. Nor is the advantage all on the side of the University. The modern way of looking at inter-state athletics is to regard it as a kind of university extension. A game of Rugby played in a large city like Omaha before an audience of two thousand people is just as much of an educator as a lecture in politics, history or science.

Notice.

Since all expenses were cleared on the Omaha trip and no part of the guarantee called for, it has been decided by the foot ball management to consider those guarantees as holding for a game at Kansas City with the Kansas University team, unless there are objections. This is done merely as a matter of convenience to all concerned, and if any one objects, of course his or her name will be taken from the list.

A Course of Free Lectures.

This evening at Close Hall Professor Calvin will deliver a lecture on "Pre-historic Iowa." This will be the first one of a course that has been arranged by the Iowa Historical Society. Other lectures in the series will be "The Indian Tribes of Iowa, by Dr. J. L. Pickard; "The Louisiana Purchase," by Dr. C. M. Hobby; "Civil Law in the Mississippi Valley," by Professor McClain. The lectures will follow one another at intervals of three or four weeks and will all be held at Close Hall.

The presentation of this valuable series of lectures to the public is wholly gratuitous on the part of the Historical Society and the lecturers, and their public-spiritedness and generosity will doubtless be taken advantage of by a large number of University students.

Musical clubs will meet in the armory this evening at 7:15.

Erodelphian Reception.

Last Tuesday evening the Erodelphians gave a reception to alumnae and Freshmen at Erodelphian Hall. Fred served an oyster supper and a general good time was enjoyed. The toasts given are worthy of special mention, each member being required to contribute in some way to the program without previous warning. The music and impersonations were especially effective. When ghost stories were in progress and lights turned low the society had a narrow escape from being locked in, but a short argument with Jimmy made everything right.

Professor and Mrs. McBride entertained the members of the Botany class at their home on Thanksgiving evening. About twenty-five were present and all unite in pronouncing the evening a delightful one and in thanking Mr. and Mrs. McBride for their kindness.

Mr. S. M. Sayford, of Boston, arrived in Iowa City Saturday evening and on Sunday held two meetings for young men. Sunday evening he spoke at the Congregational Church and last evening talked again to a large number of young men. This evening at 6:40 there will be a meeting for both men and women; to-morrow afternoon a talk to young women, and to-morrow evening at 6:40 a talk to young men.

Reception at Close Hall.

Last Friday evening occurred the second reception of the year in Close Hall. Students from all departments were present. Plays and games were numerous and everything was done to make the occasion a pleasant one. After spending an hour or more renewing old acquaintances and forming new ones, all assembled in the Chapel to listen to the following program: Vocal quartette, Swanson, '93, Dewy, D. '94, Chantry, L. '92, and Carl Miller, D. '92. Recitation, Miss Hedrick, subject, "Domestic Mutual Improvement." Cornet solo by Morrell. Recitation, "Geneva," Bessie Parker, '93. Declamation, H. F. Rall, '91. Vocal solo, Miss Wheeler. Every number of the program was excellent. Mr. Rall received an encore on his declamation and proved equal to the occasion by giving a second one as good as the first.

At 10 o'clock about 350 students marched down to the depot to meet the foot ball team. Tin horns were numerous and these together with the music by the band and the hearty yell showed that S. U. I. enthusiasm was up to a high pitch. Headed by the band the crowd marched up to Close Hall where a general jollification meeting was held. L. L. Elliott gave a short account of the game at Omaha. Prof. McConnell congratulated the team in behalf of the Faculty. His remarks were heartily received. J. C. Monnet, '92, congratulated the players in behalf of the students. Three rousing cheers were then given the team.

After this reception a quiet little banquet was given at Fred's to the members of the team who had returned. They were Dutcher, Elliott, Harlan, Larrabee, Ferren, Wright, Kallenberg, Stiles and Hall. Several courses were served when Lyon, as toastmaster, called upon Larrabee to respond to "How we did it." Dutcher, who was a substitute, told "How it looked outside the ropes." Kallenberg compared the eastern with the western teams and expressed the opinion that we have the material for the best team west of the Mississippi.
