Gymnasium Exhibition.

Under direction of Instructor Kallenberg the gymnasium classes will give an exhibition at Close Hall, on Saturday evening, March 19th. An admissi­ ion fee of twenty-five cents will be charged.

A Curious Specimen.

A specimen of Zaria integrifolia was this week received at the Herbarium by Professor McBride. This plant is from southern Florida and is of peculiar interest because it is merely a remnant of ancient vegetation. It is one of the Cyclus which composed a large part of the early vegetation of Great Britain. By earlier botanists it is classed between the conifer and the fern, but it is now thought to be more closely related to the former. The cone has been removed and placed with the fruit collection. Portions of the plant are kept for mounting, while the root or bulb will be planted with the expectation of reproduction.

Inter Class Collegiate League.

The committee appointed by the four Collegiate Classes met in Professor Loos's room and organized the S. U. I. Inter Class Collegiate Base Ball League. A constitution was adopted embracing the following resolutions. The league to consist of teams chosen from the Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes. A governing board consisting of a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, one officer to be chosen from each of the four classes to have complete control. Each team is to play one game with every other team and in case of a tie for first place a series of twenty games will decide the championship.

The trophy or pennant will be awarded the winning team, and all expenses incurred will be divided equally between the classes. The question of admission charges has been left with the Board, although it has been suggested that season tickets be sold at nominal rates and after paying all expenses the surplus to be turned over to the athletic association. The board are now arranging a schedule. The following officers were elected, President E. C. Holman, Vice-President, F. W. Neal, Secretary, W. A. Lomas, Treasurer, Burt Germain.

Dental Commencement.

Fifteen hundred people gathered at the Armory, on College street, Thur­ sd y night to witness the graduating exercises of the Dental Department.
The large building was supplied with six hundred chairs, and since they were insufficient to accommodate the large crowd which it was known would attend the graduation of the Dental class, these chairs were spread apart and planks were laid over them so that the room was taxed to its utmost seating capacity. The seats were crowded, many people filled the aisles, and the gold gallery extending the full length of both sides of the hall and dressing rooms was completely filled.

At about 7:30 the University band opened the program with one of its finest selections. Invocation was offered by Dr. Watson, Rector of Trinity Church. This was followed by music by the well-known T. K. Quartet, of Davenport. This popular organization, consisting of Messrs. Harry E. Downton, Arthur Atkinson, E. J. Peck and Louis Knoke, was secured by the graduating class especially for the occasion and only shows the extent to which the Dental graduating classes are always willing to go towards enjoying their commencements themselves and towards making them enjoyable for their friends. The quartet was enthusiastically encored. Dr. John J. R. Patrick, of Delville, Ill., lecturer on Orthodontics, and a very popular man among the students of the department, delivered the annual address. As is usual on such occasions, the address was filled with sound advice, founded upon long experience, advice which, to many of the graduates will, no doubt, be of lasting benefit. As Dr. Patrick finished, a hearty cheer went up from the front part of the audience, showing plainly the feeling existing between the students and their professors. The T. K.'s then rendered another beautiful selection, which was twice encored. The large platform was then cleared and Dr. Hunt, Dean of the Dental Faculty, announced the graduates, who, as their names were called, took their places on the stage. As the names of the three lady graduates were called the audicence applauded. President Schaeffer then conferred the degrees, and the plain student, by a sudden revolution, became a dignified doctor. The T. K.'s were called out by the audience and many two more selections were given in public exercises closed; but while the audience wended its way homeward, the "Dents," their ladies and invited guests, went to the St. James to partake of the BALL AND BANQUET.

About 9:30 o'clock the orchestra struck up a waltz and dancing began.
Besides the members of the faculty and wives, graduates and students, several alumni, ladies, and out of town guests were present, among whom were Dr.
W. C. Davis, '91, and wife, of Oxford, Mrs. Dr. S. A. Garber and daughter of Tipton, Dr. Skidmore of Moline, Mrs. entire evening. Every graduate wore words, "Denta's and is attested

A most excellent and agreeable tonic and appetite. It nourishes and invigorates the tired brain and body, imparts renewed energy and vitality, and enlivens the functions.

German Reception.
One of the pleasantest events of an eventful week was a reception given by Professor and Mrs. Wilson, at their home Thursday evening, to the members of the Sophomore and Senior German classes, and the German Seminary. Games, some of which required German conversation, helped to pass away the time, which went all too quickly. Dainty refreshments were served, at which souvenirs, bearing German quotations and tied with old gold ribbon, were given. Their guests unite in thanking Professor and Mrs. Wilson for an evening full of pleasure.
