Law Reception.

Professor and Mrs. McClain held their annual reception last evening. In spite of the continuous rain, almost the entire senior class, of seventy-three members, was present, and everyone seemed to enjoy himself very much in spite of the weather. Besides the law students there were present, President and Mrs. Schaeffer and Miss Elizabeth Schaeffer; Professors Perkins, Loom and Wambbaugh; Mr. and Mrs. Wamb­

Baugh, Mrs. North, Misses Bessee and, Mann Griftith, Miss Fred Cochran, Mrs. Risey, and a number of University girls, including Misses Nellie Ahekesy, Julia Rogers, Laura Clark, Frances Rogers, Beth Wilson, Besse Bowman, Redella Gilchrist, Nellie Peery, Julia Crawford, and several others.

An article in the May number of the Library Journal on Iowa Library Legislation by Mr. Charles Aldrich, in speaking of the increased liberality of the State toward public libraries, contains a very complimentary recognition of the work of Mrs. North. "The improved feeling in Iowa," says the writer, "is mainly due to the efforts of a few individuals whom I wish to mention. Mrs. Ada North, Librarian of the State University at Iowa City, has written many articles for our newspacers, in which she has ably and elocently urged the claims of all our libraries for better support. I am quite certain that she is the foremost Iowa writer upon library topics. It seems hard to get the public ear; but I am convinced that her judicious and always able writings have had a powerful effect upon the public sentiment of Iowa."

The Zetagathian and Hesperian societies are making arrangements for the purchase of a new piano, and expect to have one placed in the south­ hall by the beginning of next term.

The Ames team, if the above is true, apparently neglect all thought of the expense of $600 caused by their trip, and the fact that if the game had been played, the financial result would have been considerably different with our already depleted treasury. This paragraph has caused considerable comment among the students of the University and the sentiment against this unwarranted attack is very strong. S. U. J. always has had a great desire to meet the Iowa Agricultural College in a base ball combat and, for them to make such statements is simply absurd.

But a little over one week of this term remains, but it is the hope and wish of every one interested in base ball that arrangements may be made so this game may yet be played and there will then be time enough for Ames to cry out.

At a very late date word has been received that Dr. Schraun cannot deliver the commencement address here as he had intended to do. This is an unfortunate circumstance, but perhaps it is not yet too late to secure a good speaker to take his place. Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus of Chicago is to deliver the commencement address at Iowa Wesleyan University at about the same time of the graduating exercises here. Dr. Gunsaulus is too well known as an educated man and an eloquent pulpit orator of the modern type, to need further commendation. It would be a good thing for the University if he might be secured. A prominent man, a good speaker, and a man of ideas, is needed for such a place. It would be a thing much to be deplored, if no one were secured, or no attempt made to secure one. It seems that Dr. Gunsaulus is the most available man.

The Junior Law Class at a meeting held yesterday morning decided by a vote of 26 to 21 that as far as the class is concerned June 3 is not to be a holiday. It is a matter of regret to us that so little University spirit should be shown with reference to State Field Day. We all appreciate by this time the intrinsic value of athletics and certainly should not be so cramped in their success. The weather for the past three or four days has been of a decidedly discouraging nature but at present prospects seem favorable for Friday. It is to be hoped that every student who is half way able to go to Des Moines will do so.

Notice.

The meeting of the Junior Annual Board of '94, for Friday, 3:00 p.m. is postponed till Saturday, 10 a.m., at Cloie Hall. This is the last meeting of this year and all should be present.
