Tennis Tournament.

The following communication was received last week. What will our tennis team do about it?

GRINNELL, IA., Oct. 4, '93.

President Tennis Association, S. U. I.,
Iowa City:

DEAR SIR.—We are working to have the Fall State Tennis Tournament meet here. May we hear from your Association in regard to the matter. The tournament must come off soon, as the season is late. Very truly

H. L. BROWN,
Pres. I. C. T. A.

Exchanges.

A fence is to be erected around the athletic grounds at Coe, and a grandstand is under construction.

The Unit takes the Grinnell Herald to task for a recent article in that paper, which seemed to imply that an undue prominence was being given to athletics in Iowa College.

Lyman, formerly Capt. of the Grinnell eleven, plays quarter on the Wisconsin team, and has been chosen Captain.

The recitation periods at Yale have been changed from one hour to fifty minutes.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of Cornell University will be celebrated Oct. 7, 8, and 9. Chauncey Depew and Governor Flower will be the principle speakers.

The Daily Princetonian complains of a lack of enthusiasm on the part of the spectators at foot-ball games.

The Yale Co-operative Society has issued a notice to all New Haven merchants that through the medium of the society students may be received to act as clerks, stenographers, and janitors.

The inter-collegiate tennis tournament began at New Haven, last Tuesday. Larned of Columbia, appears the most probable winner.

The Princeton Glee Club has offered a prize of twenty-five dollars for the best humorous topical song.

A new athletic field has just been completed at Dartmouth, at a cost of $20,000.

The campus at Yale is to be lighted by electricity.

The fifty-ninth annual meeting of the Delta Fraternity is being held at Madison.

Law Literary.

The Law Literary society met in the South Hall Saturday evening. The regular program was carried out before a very small audience. Leroy Cox read an excellent paper on Dudley Field, giving a sketch of his life as a lawyer and codifier.

The debate was on the question, Resolved, "That Senators should be elected by direct vote of the people." Huston and Van Allen for the affirmative showed a lack of preparation, Judge and Martin for the negative did much better. Judges speech, however, had the appearance of being a "set speech." The decision was given two in favor of the negative.

Schedenhelm then gave a speech on Women's Suffrage. Terrill's "Talk to the Boys" which followed, was well received. He emphasized the value of collegiate training as a preliminary to the law course.

The last number on the program was a very interesting sketch of "The Rise and Fall of the Populist Party of Kansas," by Hale, who was so fortunate as to be at Topeka last winter during the trouble between Gov. Llewelling and the legislature.

The society then adjourned to meet in the North Hall next Saturday evening.

Baconian.

The principal talk of the evening was given by Dr. Gilchrist on "Reminiscences of Travel in Venezuela." These reminiscences were called up from a trip the Doctor made through Venezuela about thirty-five years ago.

Venezuela may be divided into three sections, either from east to west or from north to south. Commencing at the eastern extremity of the coast line, about a third of the sea coast is low, marshy and uninhabited. The next third is habitable and along here are found the few forts of the company. The western third has steep, rocky inaccessible shores and is wild and unpeopled.

From north to south there is first, a stretch of country back to the first mountain range and through this territory quite a number of towns are found. Then comes a zone of mountain ranges, and south of this is a region of plains. The first fort entered was that of La Guayra, the fort of Caracas. This fort probably looked then very much as it would look to a traveler entering it to-day, for it is a feature of Spanish-American towns to remain the same from decade to decade. Upon entering La Guayra, two things are strikingly noticeable. The first of these is the temperature which is very warm, the average for the year being about 95 degrees F. The other striking feature is the great number of priests. There are many holidays commanded by the church here, and many processions connected with these holidays. When a procession goes by every person is expected to kneel as it passes, and any stranger who fails so to do is soon given to understand what is expected of him.

There is another class that make themselves very obtrusive. These are the military class. The officers of these military commands are gorgeously uniformed, though the dress of the common soldier is of the poorest kind.

Another feature of the society in these coast towns is composed of the peons. These are persons who have been arrested for debt, perhaps for the most trivial amount, and are forced to work for their creditors like slaves, for, although they are nominally paid wages, yet the charges for their board and lodging balance these wages all the time.

After leaving La Guayra the next place reached was Porto Cabello. This town is situated on a plateau, and is larger than La Guayra. It carries on a large export business, sending out hides, tallow, sugar and indigo.

From this town the party struck into the interior of the country. Even at this time it was dangerous to travel to Caracas except in large parties, and these parties were usually made up of long donkey trains. The roads wound around over the mountains, along dangerous heights in many places.

When the plains were reached, and in crossing these, a new class of people were met with. These were the ganchos, or plainsman. Among them are to be found some of the most magnificent horsemen in the world. These ganchos claim to be Christians, but they have some queer ideas of what it takes to make a Christian. They are a mixed race, and have mixed with their Christianity many of their heathen superstitions. The one evidence of Christianity required by them under all circumstances is the possession by a person of a cross of some kind.

In the southern part of Venezuela numbers of the aborigines are to be found. The country is marshy, and these people live on elevated platforms and in the trees. Cannibalism is practiced by them, and in every way they must much resemble the Indians found along the coast when the country was discovered by Columbus.

Professor Patrick gave a report on the "Correlation of Mental and Physical Powers." He gave some statistics compiled in English universities to show that the students who ranked highest in mental ability also averaged well in physical powers. At the next meeting Professor Jameson will read a paper on "The Evolution of the Locomotive."

Saturday's Game.

The game with Coe College, played here Saturday, while pleasing in its outcome to University patriotism, can hardly be considered a standard by which to judge of the strength of the team. The most marked improvement over last year, was shown in defensive play. When Coe got the ball for a kick-off, and started with a wedge, the University stopped the rush almost instantly. The Coe line was not heavy, but not even against as light teams as Coe last year, did the University show such defensive work.

S. U. I. chose the east goal, and in less than five minutes from the call of play, had secured a touch-down.

A description in detail of all the plays would be wearisome. In nearly every case, a touch-down was made almost immediately after the ball was secured.

Myers got the most to his credit, and while he had the most chances, he made all the gain possible out of each trial. In following his blockers, and in turning in after a run-round the end, he furnished an example which was not always followed by other runners. Carr, at half, also showed up well as a ground gainer.

In interference and tackling the play was not consistently even, sometimes in those particulars it was excellent, and at other times, not nearly as good as the men should be capable of doing.

In what is called "rough play," while simply following coaching-instructions, it might have seemed at times that the play was unnecessarily rough, especially against a much lighter team, and one that could not follow the same tactics.

Rogers at center was effective. Ingersoll played grand, excellently, and displayed an agility with which he had not before been accredited. One touch-down was secured by him.

The ball was not kicked often and so the ends had no chance to show any improvement they may have made in following a kick down the field, a play in which they have at other times seemed rather slow.

The team lined up in the order published in Saturday's VIDETTE, the ends being changed at the beginning of the second half.

The score, 56-0, is larger than the one made against the same team at Cedar Rapids last year.

College Notes.

The University of Wisconsin is fortunate: The will of the late Mrs. Carolina S. Markham disposes of an estate of $20,000, all but $4,000 of which goes to the University.

De Pauw University's exhibit at the Fair must have been as poor as ours, judging from a paragraph in their Weekly.

The '93's of Cornell University left, as a memorial, three cups to be striven for by the inter-scholastic league in foot-ball, base-ball, and track athletics.

New York Tribune: The absolutely necessary expenses of a girl who attends the leading women's colleges are said to be: Bryn Mawr, $475; Vassar, $409; Smith' $350; Wellesley, $350; Women's College of Baltimore, $300; Mount Holyoke, $200.

Chauncey M. Depew, '56, of Cornell University, will deliver the oration at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the birth of his alma mater.

Blair, L. '93, spent Saturday with his S. U. I. friends. We understand that he is about to form a partnership with Gillette, '96, for the practice of law at Toledo, Iowa.

The new seats in the Medical amphitheatre have cost the State $17.80 each. This of course includes the rebuilding of the entire amphitheatre necessitated by the reseating.

Habbager, L. '93, came in from Omaha, Sunday morning to spend a few days with Iowa City friends. He is practicing law with the firm of Rich, O'Neal & Sears, of Omaha.

Wold, D. '94, is a member of the firm of Kemper & Wold, at Alma, Wisconsin. He reports a prosperous business and regrets that owing to the illness of his partner he cannot return to graduate with his class.

Entered at the Iowa City Post Office as second class matter.

The Unit in last week's issue takes up the wall started by the The Cedar Rapids Gazette's reporter at Mt. Vernon, about S. U. I.'s professionalism in athletics. Quoting the last sentence of our editorial in which we spoke of not having to fill our ranks "with Howes, Keefes and Swallows" it adds "How about McCluskeys?"

For the satisfaction of any who might otherwise be lead to believe this malicious insinuation we have taken the following from the record books of the law department:

Henry McCluskey entered the department Jan. 5, 1892, took the full Junior work as laid out in the course and entering again Sept. 28, 1893, took the full Senior work and having passed all the examinations required for graduation was graduated in June 1893 with the degree L. L. B.

During this time Mr. McCluskey did the only work in athletics that he ever did as a representative of this institution.

It was stooping pretty low for the Unit to countenance the hiring of men for the Iowa College Athletic teams last year, but to attempt in this manner to drag others down into the same mire was hardly to be expected.

Last Friday afternoon considerable excitement prevailed among the students of the medical department owing to the action of the medical faculty, in a special meeting held that afternoon, in suspending two of the Junior students of the department, and the natural feelings of sympathy for classmates caused many to express in strong language their disapproval of the faculty's action.

We believe, however, that when all the facts are considered no candid, fair-minded student will fail to see that this action was forced upon the faculty and that there was positively nothing else to be done.

The seating of the Medical amphitheater with handsome and exceedingly comfortable opera chairs, which was just completed at the opening of the term has added much to the real comfort with which medical students may hereafter pursue their work in this institution. But the faculty by this improvement has done much more. It has increased their financial responsibility for the proper care of this additional and by no means unexpensive portion of the equipment of the building.

Now every student knows that it is utterly impossible for the old and pernicious custom of "passing down" and "passing up" to be continued in this amphitheater over these new seats, as it was practiced over the old ones, without serious danger of damage to the seats.

The faculty knew this and at the very opening of the term stated in positive terms that this old custom must cease. In the very face of this statement the ancient custom made its appearance on last Thursday while the amphitheater was packed full of students. And we do not believe that any candid student who knows how such things grow, will disagree with us when we say that if swift and decisive action had not been taken by those in authority to check such things at its very beginning, it would not have been a week before the old familiar scenes of other years would have been repeated in the amphitheater.

It is possible of course that those upon whom this punishment falls most heavily are not the only ones who assisted in this attempt to revive the forbidden pastime but it is certainly evident that they were implicated and that the only reason that other guilty ones have escaped is that they have not yet been found out.

We believe that our medical faculty mean exactly what they say in this matter and we hope and believe that they will not be many weeks in establishing the good order, which of right ought to exist in their department.

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE
BEST LINE TO THE WEST
SUPERB DINING CAR SERVICE.

1852. 1892.

As long a time as David reigned, so long has the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway run trains westward from Chicago. The Rock Island has for forty years been marching on in the work of civilizing a vast and fertile but primarily a nonproductive country and accomplished its fair share in rendering millions of acres capable of returning a fruitful abundance.

The equipment is thoroughly complete with vestibuled trains, magnificent dining cars, sleepers and chair coaches. All the most elegant, and of recently improved patterns.

With a double all steel track from Chicago to Rock Island, and heavy pattern rail on excellent ties and road bed to the Rocky Mountains, on which runs solid vestibuled trains, renders this route preeminently attractive, and because of its safety in transporting passengers—a most desirable one for traveler, visitor, tourist or business man.

A very popular train on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway leaves Chicago daily, at 10 p. m. It is called "THE BIG FIVE," is only one day out, and passengers arrive at Denver, Pueblo or Colorado Springs early the second morning. The train is a magnificent one, equipped with brand new Coaches, Chair Cars (free), Pullman sleepers of latest designs and improvements.

The Rock Island has become a popular Colorado Line, and the train above referred to his Vestibuled and carries the Rock Island's excellent Dining Car Service.

"Little Nugget."

On Wednesday evening "Little Nugget," a very funny farce comedy, will be presented at the Opera House, and indications are it will be greeted with a full house. The company producing this funny home comedy is a grand collection of comedians, headed by the great eccentric Irish comedian and originator of the character Barney O'Brady, Herbert Cawthorn, whose reputation is known the wide world over. Chas. A. Mason, the famous German dialect comedian and originator of songs and parodies, plays the character of "Jakey Kumpfer." Miss Florence Wheeler, a bright, charming soubrette, in the character of "Little Nugget," will surely captivate the house—she is called the Electric Dancer, as her execution is said to be a work of art. The other members of the company are on a par with the few above mentioned.

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

SKOOKUM ROOT HAIR GROWER

is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither minerals nor oils. It is not a Dye, but a delightfully cooling and refreshing Tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Skin Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.
