NO. 89

The State University of Iowa.

(Concluded from last issue.)

Rev. Dr. Thacher was elected to the presidency in 1871, and in 1877 he was succeeded by Christian W. Slagle, A.M., who was at the time, and had been prior thereto for eleven years, a member of the Board of Regents. Mr. Slagle held the presidency but one year, and remained a regent until 1882.

During Dr. Thacher's administration the Normal and Preparatory departments became less important and showed a marked falling off in attendance, and in 1873, the Normal was merged into the Collegiate and the chair of didactics was established. The chair of civil engineering was also established (1873), and in 1876 the department of civil engineering was organized, but two years later it was merged again into the Collegiate, and the chair of civil engineering again established. The Homeopathic Medical department was organized in 1878, and there was a steady development in all the departments, and the number of students largely increased.

In 1878, Josiah L. Pickard, LL.D., having been elected to the presidency, entered upon his duties. He spent the summer months of that year visiting the cities of the state, making the acquaintance of the citizens and the public schools. In 1879 the Preparatory department was abandoned, and connection with accepted high schools and academies made possible, their graduates being admitted to the Freshman class upon certificate. The requisites for admission to the Collegiate department were advanced at least one year, and the professional schools ceased to admit without either certificate or preliminary examination. The course of study in Law was extended to two years and that in Medicine to three. Both the Dental and Pharmaceutical departments were organized under Dr. Pickard's administration, the former in 1882, the latter in 1885. A lecture hall was erected for the Homeopathic and a large brick building for the regular Medical department. Science Hall was built in 1885, and the Museum, which theretofore had been insignificant, except in its collection of corals, received much attention and grew unprecedentedly. Laboratories in natural science were established, with superior furnishings. In 1878 the University could boast of the possession of two microscopes and a small and well-worn physical apparatus, but the improvement in these directions grew apace with the growth of the school in the thoroughness and efficiency of the work in all departments. As an illustration, instead of the two, we find twenty compound microscopes, and the libraries, both general and special, were particularly fostered. Quality more than quantity was advanced, and the period of Dr. Pickard's administration was prosperous and fruitful. There was an increase in number of students, and an addition of seven to the force of instruction.

During the administration of Dr. Charles A. Schaeffer, who succeeded President Pickard in 1887, the number of students has more than doubled, the enrollment now being about 1,200. The teaching force has increased from fifty to eighty-five, and the income has reached $133,000, an increase of $50,000.

The curricula in all courses have been materially expanded. In the Collegiate department many new studies have been added, the seminary method of instruction introduced, and engineering and psychological laboratories established. The natural history museum is now an overcrowded depository of rare and valuable specimens, the department having received much attention and large increase, and various expeditions in the interest of the University have been made, among the most notable being two to the Bahama Islands, one to Nicaragua, one to the far north, being the most important expedition made during the last few years in the interest of any college, one to Lake Winnipeg, another to Southern Mexico and Nicaragua, and one to the Bay of Fundy. There has also been a general development in the line of research, as is evidenced by the periodicals in the various departments, among which, besides the historical monographs, we find The Natural History Bulletin, The Law Bulletin, The Transit, The Homeopathic Medical Bulletin.

In the Law department, instead of two resident professors, we find four, and a law librarian, who gives his entire time to the duties of the office, besides an increase in the number of non-resident lecturers. Both Medical departments have made great advances in their requirements for graduation, laboratories for practical work in the various subjects have been established and the old ones much improved, as well as an increase in the number of years required for graduation. The same may be said for the Dental and Pharmaceutical departments.

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy is no longer provided for, and that of Master of Arts is only conferred after one year's postgraduate resident study, or upon the pursuit of a prescribed course under the direction of the Faculty, with final examinations and thesis, and if the candidate is a non-resident, then only after three years' study. Four new buildings have been added, two of them during the present school year, and the library has doubled in number of volumes.

Dr. Schaeffer's administration has also been the period of the development of athletics, and the activity of the various student organizations, the fraternities have increased both in number and membership, and clubs, literary, scientific and social, have multiplied.

We give in another column the entries for the Dual Meet which takes place Saturday. Both teams are undoubtedly in good shape, and to predict which will be the possible winner would be an impossibility at the present time. There are persons in the University who have absolute confidence that our team will win, and perhaps they are right, but at any rate we will venture to say that they are not going to win an easy contest. Grinnell has never furnished us with an easy opportunity to win an athletic contest in the past, and we predict that this will be no exception. But which ever way the contest goes let us be present in goodly numbers to witness the sport as it will undoubtedly be the most interesting athletic contest that has ever occurred in our city. A one fare rate has been secured on the railroad so that it is quite probable that a large delegation will come down from Grinnell.

Hesperian.

A comparatively small audience was in attendance at the Hesperian Society Saturday evening on account of the rivalry of the mass meeting of students at Close Hall. The program was opened by a recitation "Como," by Daisie Kimball. This recitation was of an exceedingly high order. The effects produced by her voice were excellent and her gestures graceful.

Next followed a speech by Cora Dorcas. Miss Dorcas set forth in a witty and sympathetic manner the woes of the 'new man' when the 'new woman' shall have taken the reins. She went on to say that this was the characteristic idea of the times in regard to the future relation which man and woman were hurrying into; and proceeded to emphasize the importance of their endeavoring to find just what position would harmonize most with both, instead of railing over a state of affairs which existed only in the future.

Miss Van Meter next favored the audience with a vocal solo.

The debate, "Resolved that chairs of music, art, and oratory should be introduced into the University," was affirmed by Misses Shaw and Van Meter and denied by Misses Horine and Gray.

Belle Shaw, the first speaker for the affirmative, set forth with suitable argument the following points: First, music, art, and oratory should be introduced that we may make our University what its name implies and place it on a level with other institutions of its kind. Second, in order that our young people may have an opportunity to become instructed along these lines. Third, to broaden our ideas by bringing in a desirable class of students. This was Miss Shaw's first appearance on debate, and she did herself credit, her debate throughout being logical and delivered in an earnest, convincing manner.

Ora Horine followed for the negative. She considered that music, art and oratory did not furnish the practical kind of education which students desired; and further that in order to introduce them our other departments must be weakened, to meet the expense.

Margaret Van Meter answered this by the argument that increased appropriation from the state and an increased number of students would make it unnecessary to weaken any department. She then went on to set forth the refining and socializing influence of art, etc. Miss Van Meter had good points but her manner of presenting them was disconnected.

Miss Gray closed the debate by showing that art, etc., are not needed in practical life.

The debate was decided in favor of the affirmative.

Lola Ozias next gave an excellent recitation entitled "Robi de Roma." This was a humorous piece and held the audience by its vivacious and polished manner of delivery.

The program was closed by a piano duet by Misses Von Stanfen and De Sellum.

Through the instrumentality of Professor Loos, J. L. Kinmonth and W. R. Patterson have been offered scholarships for next year in the Wharton School of Finance and Political Economy of the University of Pennsylvania. Both Mr. Kinmonth and Mr. Patterson have specialized to a certain extent along this line of work and the increased advantages thus offered them will certainly afford them opportunities to pursue this line of work with a greater degree of satisfaction.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address,

LATEST STYLE HATS AND FURNISHING GOODS AT BLOOM & MAYERS.

Tuesday evening Tabard initiated another six: Misses Rita Stewart, Beulah MacFarland, Messrs. F. H. Noble, Lawrence, Kinmonth and Kiser.

Mr. Smith's botanical collections from Tehautepec are arriving. Two packages came to the Herbarium on Wednesday and fourteen more are on the way.

Mary Alford, Gertrude Fairchild and Fanny Davis returned Tuesday from their trip to Minneapolis, where they attended the Delta Gamma convention.

Bert Barrett, M. D., has just returned from a trip to Independence. He will go back in a few days to enter upon pathological work in the Insane Hospital.

Owing to lack of space we are unable to give an account of the athletic meeting held at Close Hall last Saturday evening. We can say, however, that an organization was perfected and plans will be formulated for securing permanently and improving the athletic park.

The trustees of the British Museum have recently brought out a volume on the Myxomycetes, slime moulds, by Dr. Arthur Lister. In this the most notable English publications on the subject, the Natural History Bulletin of Iowa, finds abundant mention and quotation. Professor McBride's review of Dr. Lister's work has recently appeared in the London Journal of Botany, and Botanical Gazette of this country.

The Third League Victory.

WE DEFEAT CORNELL BY A SCORE OF 8 TO 6.

The Cornell team put up a strong article of base ball against our men yesterday, and the result was a close and interesting game throughout. They were unable to win, however, and S. U. I. settled the silver bat question, for another year at least, by bagging this, the third and last league game of the season. The day was cold and disagreeable and not particularly adapted to base ball playing. Bailey pitched a very good game, but was not as strong as in the game against Northwestern. Cornell has a good man in the box this year, and his playing adds remarkable strength to the team.

A full account of the game will be given in Saturday's issue.

Junior Laws vs. Freshmen.

The first class game of the year occurred Saturday between the Junior Laws and Freshmen, and resulted in a victory for the latter, the score being 21 to 16. Although the game was not characterized by any brilliant playing it furnished considerable sport. The men played in the following positions:

LAWS.	FRESHMEN.
Larrabee, 2 b.	Turner, c.
M. H. Kepler, 1 b.	Eaton, 1. f.
Morris, 3 b.	Soleman, p.
Kepler, 1. f.	Blinn, s. s.
Nothe, c. f.	Smith, c. s.
Stillwell, r. f.	Miller, r. f.
Rank, p.	Moore, 3 b.
Hayes, s. s.	Eby, 2 b.
Curtis, c.	Eustis, 1 b.

Umpires, Reno, Hobbs.

The game was opened by a pretty hit of Dyke; he was forced to second by Kepler being hit by pitched ball, but was caught out at third. Morris was caught stealing third, and Nothe caught out at first. For the Freshmen, Turner got his base on balls, stole second and third and scored. Eaton went out on a fly. Soleman got first on balls, second on Blinn's sacrifice, but died on third when the short stop caught Smith's fly.

In the second inning both sides scored four runs, and at the beginning of the seventh the score stood 6 to 6. Then the fun began. The Freshmen, aided by a decision of the umpire, scored six runs. The Laws in their turn changed the score to 13 to 12, and things began to look serious; but the Freshmen settled down and the Laws were only able to score three more runs, while nine Freshmen crossed the plate.

NOTES

The Freshmen excelled in batting and team work, and with little more practice will make one of the strongest of class teams.

Soleman pitched a fairly good game, striking out eight men. He received fair support.

Eustis' playing on first was of first-class order, and Eby's stop of Kepler's hard drive was the feature of the game.

The Delta Gamma Convention.

The Delta Gamma fraternity held its ninth national convention at Minneapolis, May 8th, 9th and 10th.

Delegates were present from all the chapters and were entertained at Hampshire Arms, where the meetings of the convention were held. A thorough revision of the constitution mainly occupied the time of the business sessions. The government of the fraternity will hereafter be vested in an executive council instead of a grand chapter as heretofore. The chief social event was the reception given at Hampshire Arms Thursday night to the Greeks of the U. of M. and other friends. The convention closed with a banquet Friday night. Saturday morning Mayor Pratt gave the girls a delightful buckboard drive to Minnehaha Falls and Fort Snelling.
