A Glee Club.

A school is known by her representational activities, and can put out no better advertisement of its best qualities than a good foot ball team, track team, orchestra, or glee club. These are making rapid strides in that direction. But there is another method which is of value, a method of finding our name and letting outsiders know who we are. This is an institution which, in past years, has never been as successful as it was this year, when it was too late to do any particular good.

We certainly have musical talent among us, and those who would make competent leaders of a glee club or mandolin and banjo club. The University would give them financial backing. Last spring a club was organized, but this time the majority of the best in the University closed. If a club could be got together, and a trip laid out for the Christmas vacation, a great many who dislike joining and training for the mere practice of it, would be glad to work hard to take the trip. A trip through Iowa would be of very small expense, and the better the trip, the club could probably be self-supporting, and later in the year might be able to take an active part in the glee club contests.

Glee and banjo concerts are always well patented, college songs are a natural part of the celebration in honor of the musicians closing the evening. So the pleasure of the trip would regale many weeks of training and rehearsal, and the benefit the University would receive from a representative glee club would be by no means inconsiderable. The Viaduct feels sure that there are those in school able and willing to assume the leadership. Let them step forward. They will receive hearty support, we doubt not.

A Favorable Comment.

The Davenport Times, comments upon that city's college of students who are spending the University, and speaks in commendatory terms of the prospects for the institution. It says:

"The Davenport colony of students at Iowa City have again entered upon their work at the University, which institution has never before opened a school year under more promising circumstances. The University at any time is an institution of which the state may be justly proud; but this year all previous records will be exceeded. The early arrival of such a large number of students in the different departments, speaks well for the institution and the confidence which the people of Iowa have in its excellence.

"The freshman enrollment figures are not attainable at this early date, but as near as can be estimated there are at least 1,300. The attendance at the college, which excels the last year's enrollment by at least 200 persons, is a manifest indication that this year is larger than ever before and the numerous additions made in the Faculty are showing results.

"The athletic department is prospering finely and the greater portion of the wardrope which was purchased a hard effort is being made to secure a good foot ball team for the coming season. The team of last year, under the direction of always the season's $300 short, and the Faculty have decided that unless this team is made up, it would be necessary to FX a team organized this year. In consequence the students are doing all they can to procure the necessary amount to permit the organization of another team.

The Fraternity Compact.

You notice an absence of rushing, and running, and piquing and partying, on the part of the fraternity girls, don't you? Well, that is not because the girls have lost their energy or their interest, because they haven't an attractive class of Freshman girls. It has been a matter of show attentions. It is because of a contract drawn up in a truly imposing legal form, in which each chapter's fraternity, and the individual members of it, binds themselves to give no "spreads," receptions, or any entertainment for new students until after October 2, 1895, and to give no invitation, nor, on invitation of any kind, to join the fraternity before October 18, 1895. This is to give the girls both the new and the now possible time which to become, before they take each other for better, or for worse, during their University course, for then is what joining of fraternities vitally amounts to, and to give every girl time to become better acquainted, before any choice is made. That's a sensible step on the part of the ladies, and thus far has worked admirably.

"So Freshman girls if you are invited to a spread, or even an invitation to join a fraternity before those "authorized and fixed" October days, you will know you have been had and can act accordingly.

Zetagthian.

The Zetagthians gave their first regular program for the year last evening, to a large and enthusiastic audience. It was the doleful large class of Freshman girls. Zetlal last evening was demonstrative of the fact that the vacation period had tended only to intensify the interest and admiration of all for the program given by the members of the south hall. Not only did the Zetas present their visitors with one of the best programs ever given, but they also had the pleasure of receiving them in their newly furnished hall. Together with the Heptas, the Zetas had made some fine improvements in their hall this past week, which have added much to its attraction and impressive appearance. Roll call found a hearty response, with nearly every name called, which shows that all are showing the enthusiasm that the society has so long held, and which it will continue to hold by the aid of its ambitious program.

The program was opened with a vocal selection by Miss Williams, rend¬ ered during a delightful melody not after which W. H. Clark, the presi¬ dent-elect, was introduced by Harry Keele, had that evening extended in a few well-chosen words, which sounded in patriotism for old Zet. Mrs. W. H. Clark was the inaugurator of this program, her past efforts, and appealed strongly to her colleagues. Rolla Brown fol¬ lowed with an oration entitled "That of the "Hastings," which received merited applause. It seemed the prevailing opinion is that the delegation secured a sufficient amount to permit the organization of another team.

The Military Department.

This year the battery will have a full force from the University, com¬ posed of Juniors. The old revolution¬ ary canons which have done service heretofore will be replaced by modern breach-loading pieces.

The military management is well pleased with the number of victims they have under control the ensuing year. Probably the battalion will number 28, the Freshman class sup¬ plying about half the number.

B. E. Wood was the first drill of the year and was accompanied by the usual demonstrations. The Freshman marched amid waving banns and cries of "hep, hep, hep," their faces bearing the white smiles with (sic of pleasure). There was the usual humming among the raw recruits, and the corporals and sargent's, who are all but one a "scout," did ample justice to their long training, giving their orders in a way that would become a veteran.

To a great many new students, and some old ones, the question, "Why wasn't I in the battery," marked the opening address, and for their benefit we give the arguments generally set forth, as collect¬ ed from one of these opening ad¬ dresses, and also from private interviews with the authorities on this subject:

"I am a war-irrig which, with¬ out the aid of the University battalion, would not result disastrously to this country.

"II. The tuition is very light. You should make it up by investing in a military suit and be ready to help your state in time of distress.

"III. It is good exercise and discipline.

"IV. You are too young to know how you should employ your time. Take our word, drill four years and you will never regret it.

Other minor arguments are also brought forward.

The captains and 1st sergeants (the highest honors of the Senior and Jun¬ ior classes respectively) are as follows:

Co. A-Captain, Jackson; 1st Sgt., Schaeffer.
Co. B-Captain, Clark; 1st Sgt., Lar¬ ravee.
Co. C-Captain, Enny; 1st Sgt., Hutchison.
Co. D-Captain, Smith; 1st Sgt., Sears.
Battery-Captain, Radach; 1st Sgt., Willis.

At the meeting of the Junior class the following officers were elected: President, J. Don Kiser; Secretary, Miss R. M. Martin; Secre¬ tary, Miss MacFarland; Treasurer, Clux. Bishop; Sargent-at-arms, Iver¬ son and Peterson. Larabee was elected manager of the foot ball team. Sam Holmes was elected captain of the "60s, and the Capt. was elected captain of the foot ball team.

Medical Department.

Mr. Blintle, 97, returned last Tuesday from the hospital where he remained for two weeks.

Mr. Patterson, class of 90, who for the past two years has been a student at the university and has attended him at

Jr. College, has entered the Junior class.

Hereafter separate lectures will be given to the Junior and Senior classes in anatomy, a great improvement on the plan heretofore.

The following have entered the Junior class from other schools: G. N.

Bosshingt, Contra Dejong, E. B

Henderson, J. E. King, J. H. Mettlin, and P. O'Nial.

Mr. Andy Schmidt, M. W. 97, was telephoned by his parents from Independence the other day, but no one knew here of his whereabouts, be having not appeared here.

Dr. Guthrie, in his opening lecture to the Junior and Senior classes, said: "Our Medical Department is not in a large center of population, yet thoroughoughness has always been the reputation of this school."

The Medical chemical laboratory is very crowded this year. About 210 students will be taking laboratory work. It does not mean that there is great need of enlarging the laboratory to accommodate all the students.
