The Vidette-Reporter.

The Vidette-Reporter, issued from the Republican Office on Washington Street, Iowa City, Iowa, Tuesday, July 1, 1884.

The new University will probably receive a large appropriation of $75,000, and will amount to $110,000 on the unfinished part of the building as a part of the appropriation therein contained.

The new University is a general education institution wherein a great number, if not the largest number, of the representatives of the people, indirectly and personally interested, have been so strenuously exerted in its behalf.

The world is demanding specialists. In the primitive development of a country, and in a new community, diversified duties fall to the lot of every individual in his relations with society about him. But as society becomes more complex, special work is to be done. The art of a doctor or a lawyer, is assumed by one individual, who makes that business his calling or profession. He explains his work, thus securing for himself a reasonable chance for success, because he directs his energies within narrow channels, and does not allow them to spread promiscuously over a wide area. Thousands of young men and young women are in their institutions of learning are guilty of this to a larger extent. Induction is the basis of life, and especially of college life. A general knowledge of men and affairs should not be underestimated; neither is a general education the least important factor in our intellectual development, but if we are to succeed in life, success must be obtained through straightly directed effort. The great men of today are great not in many lines but usually in one alone; and this success has been possible to them through energetic effort and special preparation. Long years of training, with a definite purpose in view, supplemented in later life by business tact and energy, produce men whose influence is felt. The college and the university are the places for this special training, but so often this advantage is abused. Too frequently the student allows himself to drift, choosing those studies which present few difficulties in mastering, and losing sight of the ultimate benefits he should derive from the time and labor thus spent. This is a mistake most serious and far-reaching in its consequences Education, if it means anything, means preparation, and this preparation should precede for life work, which must necessarily be along a definite line. — Ex.

Notice.
The delay in issuing the Hawkeye has seemed as unavoidable as it is undesirable. We are able to promise positively that the Collegiate and Law students will receive their book in the early part of next week. Due notice will appear in the next issue of the Vidette-Reporter.

Ex. Board Hawkeye.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than in all other disease put together, and in the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It offers one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for testimonials and address.
