Judge Ney Honored.

The handsome and interesting dinner evening contained the following:

The lecture room of the Law Department was the scene of an interesting and suggestive episode this forenoon. About 10:30 o'clock which Judge J. N. Ney, one of the most popular members of the Faculty, was lecturing in his usual interesting manner upon equity, President J. M. Wilson, of the Senor class, rose up and interrupted the speaker. This was not an importunate act, however, for as Mr. Wilson paid a high tribute to Judge Ney, his man and instructor, Will Larron stepped forward and presented the surprised professor with a gold-bound book. Besides the speeches by these two Senors, brief addresses were also made by F. W. Bank and L. W. Ray, in appreciation of the unanimous sentiment of the class that Judge Ney was a gentleman in whom his students reposed the greatest confidence and for whom they entertained the highest regard. Considering his emotion, the professor responded in a speech full of feeling.

The case is a very handsome one and, in the words of his Friend, is in contrast with the legend: "Presented to John J. Ney, by Law Class '94." The gifts, expressions of appreciation, emotions and amicable relations existing between the teacher and the taught, has, for a struggle to secure more than a friendship, for it attests the fact that the University's future will be bright, so long as students are irresistibly led to admire and esteem their professors.

Medical Department.

In closing our work as correspondent for the Virginia-Reporter, we cannot but feel thankful to the Board and especially Manager W. T. Evans, for the ample space and kind treatment we have received. The Virginia-Reporter has fully proven itself a friend to the Medical Department, and we earnestly hope that next year the paper may even have a moral and intellectual support from the Medical Department than it has had this year.

An exceptionally large audience greeted the Senate last evening. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Beamer, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Buttrum. The opening number of the program was a guitar solo, by Mr. David, which was received with great applause.

Next was a well-delivered declamation by Mr. Ashcroft. This was followed by Mr. M. E. Riding, of "Chief," by Mr. Kitinger. This production showed great promise.

The next number was a declamation by Mr. Keefe. This was delivered in excellent style.

The discussion of the Lowell Bill

"Resolved, that there should be a property and educational test for suffrage," was affirmed by Messrs. Roewell and O'Connell, and denied by Messrs. Hamilton and Colton.

The affirmative hold that this bill would eliminate many of the evils now in our political lead to better end and give a higher standard of citizenship. That it would not be an infringement on the principle of freedom.

The negative said it was a cause of legislation: an infringement on the principles of liberty, and it would unjustly disfranchise many of our best citizens.

The discussion was then thrown open to the house and Messrs. Tourtellot and Geiser spoke in favor of and Griggs, Bates and Birt hitford against the measure. A vote on the bill resulted in 2 ayes and 2 nays.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, Howard Tipton; Vice-President, Herman Cecil Smith, Atlantic; Secretary, Hoffm an Sumner, Iowa City; Treasurer, Thomas Talbot, Arion.

State Athletic Constitution.

The committee appointed by the Intercollegiate Athletic Association for the revision of the constitution, which met at Cedar Rapids, Ia., took many advanced steps which will have an important bearing on future athletics. The colleges represented were Drake, St. G., Grinnell, U. I. State, Normal and Cornell. Ames was not represented. The constitution will be presented for adoption at the annual convention in June.

Some of the more important changes embodied in the new constitution are: limiting officers to fourteen, one president, one vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, and making them elective instead of by rotation; an executive committee of seven, one from each school not holding an office; giving each school the privilege of entering four men for each event and starting two, forbidding one man to compete in the games for more than four years; dividing the profit or apportioning the deficit of the yearly meet among the schools in proportion to the number of men competing, except that the school having the location shall not share the profit and defining the word "Amateur." The last was made especially plain. The following is the definition: "An amateur is a person who has never competed in an open competition, or for money, or under a false name, or with a professional for a prize, or with a professional where the money is charged; nor has ever at any time taught, pursued or assisted in athletic exercises for money or in any valuable consideration. But nothing in this definition shall be construed to prohibit the competition between amateurs for medals, cups, or other prizes than money. And it is hereby expressly declared that this definition is retroactive." It prevents any misunderstanding in reading this definition the committee have embodied a large number of ex-

The Vidette has at last made its appearance, and as a monument to the labors of the class of '97, it reflects great credit on its authors. It is a neatly and well-bound book of one hundred and sixty-eight pages. Every department in the University is well represented and it is strictly a University publication. In some schools the society is for the Annual to be a feature of one department, and '97's Board is to be commended on putting forth a work which is of interest to every student. As was expected, this is undoubtedly the best Annual ever published; and this is not in the least detracting from the former publications. The group pictures are far superior to those in former years, and have a fine tone and finish. The work of the art editors is especially fine and the book contains selections of rare literary merit. A short review of the work can not do it justice—the book speaks for itself. The publication is a financial success, and a success in every way. The Junior class may well be proud of the results of their hard labor.

As announced in our last issue the tax bill has passed both houses of the Legislature, and the means it provides may now be safely received as a part of the resources of the University. No doubt the sentiment which is aroused by this news is not entirely unmixed with gratitude; but it should nevertheless be held in mind that the Legislature has done only what it was under obligations to do. But be that fact as it may, certainly the effect of the measure can not be a matter of doubt. The growth of the attendance at the University is in the face of many difficulties been phenomenal. With the additional equipment assured by the appropriation the attendance must increase much faster and the efficiency of the University more rapidly than ever before. It is impossible at this time to calculate all the advantages which will accrue, but certainly they will be marked.

All the departments have been somewhat eulogous in their appeals for aid, and no doubt all of them need it. The distribution of the money for the buildings of the various departments is not yet a settled matter, we presume, but we sincerely trust that enough is settled to insure the College Department what it actually needs. That those needs are urgent is a fact too plainly evident to warrant a further representation of them. We hope we may be able to urge our readers a more definite idea of what may be expected.

The interest manifested by the students in Close Hall, in a practical way, is evidence that they will not permit the work of the Christian Associations to remain in their present hampened conditions. The amount now raised for this purpose is about $1,700.

The advisability of removing Union College from Schenectady to Albany is being seriously considered.

A library is planned at Harvard to accommodate 1,500,000 volumes, with a possible capacity of 3,000,000. A memorial tablet has recently been placed on the grave of John McCosh, the late president of Princeton.

Twenty-four men have presented themselves as candidates for the Princeton nine. This number does not include the old players still in college.

The first number has just appeared of the Alumni Register, a paper of twenty pages, published by the General Alumni Society of the University of Pennsylvania.

Caspar Whitney thinks that the grounds and buildings of the University of Wisconsin are the most beautifully located of any he has seen. He says also that the gymnastum, for practical purposes, is the best in the country.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country that all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Mr. O'Connell, one of the representatives of the Hammond Law Senate in the debate between that organization and the Zetas, has resigned, and Mr. Devitt has been chosen to fill the vacancy.

The Junior Law, in acknowledgment of their appreciation of the excellent course of lectures on Guaranty and Suretyship, by Justice Doerner, presented him with a fine gold-headed cane Friday afternoon.

Dr. Pickard delightfully entertained his Bible classes at his home Wednesday evening. During the evening, Professor Netflix gave a most enjoyable and instructive talk, with stereoscopic views of Pompeii and Herculaneum.

Professor Isaac A. Loos, of the State University, will lecture this evening at the Unitarian church upon "The Geniuses of the State." He will speak upon the same subject Sunday evening, the two lectures being the third and fourth of the course of University Extension lectures given under the auspices of the young people's religious union. Professor Loos was called to the chair of Political Economy at the University from Westerns College, at Toledo. He is a hard worker and a deep scholar. He is one of the prominent members of the college section of the State Teachers' Association, and a popular lecturer.—Des Moines Leader, March 13.

"The North American Review for March contains a clever and intelligent view of "Japan as a Field for Investment," by his Excellency, Sir Henry A. Blake, the Governor of that famous West Indian island.

Millions of savings bank depositors throughout the country will be interested in the opinions regarding "Free Silver and the Savings Banks" as expressed by Mr. John P. Townsend, President of the Boyce Savings Bank, New York, and Mr. Charles H. Smith, President of the Denver (Col.) Savings Bank.

Professor N. B. Shaler contributes an able and noteworthy article on "The Natural History of Warfare." Professor Shaler contends that the motive of the war spirit is an inheritance from the remote past of our kind in man and brute, and trusts, now that business people are gaining control of the world's affairs, there is hope that an end is to come of this ancient ill. Under the heading of "The Excise Question," are presented two carefully prepared papers. The first by the Hon. Warner Miller, who summarizes the "What Shall We Do with the Excise Question?" and the second by the Right Rev. Wm. Crumwell Doane, Bishop of Albany, who writes upon "Liquor and Law." "Congress and its Critics" is the title of a symposium in this number, the subject being skillfully dealt with by Senator H. C. Hamsbrugh, of North Dakota, the Hon. Nelson Dinsley, Jr., Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and Representatives Wm. Elliott, of South Carolina, George B. McClellan, of New York, and Charles P. Taft, Ohio.

Among the short articles published are: "Recent Photographic Invention," by Elvirene Wallace, M. D., "Woman's Wages," by Kate Stephens; "A Guerilla Girl," by Felix Oswald; and "Champion Lenders" by Peter Townsend Austin.
