The Battalion Abroad.

Through the courtesy of Major Vogdes, a representative of the Varsity band, Prof. McLe and Calvin, representing the Fraternity, and Maj. Vogdes, and accompanied by President Schaeffer, Dean Currier, Professors McLe and Calvin and others, "Spike" was also along in his capacity of majorette.

Still at a reached at twenty-five o'clock and the battalion formed on First Avenue and marched to the depot. After an hour and a half dinner was served. After dinner the companies were formed at 1:30, and the parade marched down to Second street where the parade was formed.

The band, numbering twenty-five pieces, was given second place in the procession, and was by far the best band at the streets and received

The State University has received another fine collection of geological specimens from the boys of the battalion made a short parade near the depot, and the University were allowed to go about until supper that a in John Sax of Farmington, a brother-in-law of D. L. Housey of this city, Mr. Sax, when a citizen of Lee county, visited here and the storied campus. Those who met him will remember his numerous expressions of pleasure over the reception of his adulation for the University.

His donation was generously given as a recognition of the band, and then came the four companies of the battalion to the Burlington depot, in addition to the persons accompanying them. The band, numbering twenty-five pieces, was given second place in the procession, and was by far the best band that has been heard in this city.

The collection includes many specimens of antediluvian stone relics and corals left in Van Buren county, when the prehistoric seas receded southward from this section of the earth. The specimens are all desirable and many are very valuable. Among them are portions of stems of carboniferous trees, probably the ancestral forerunners of the pine trees, wood from the Black Hills region by Prof. Calvin and Madison; roots of tree-like mammoth mosses out of which the coal was formed; corals from rocks older than the coal, and lying beneath the coal; pebbles, concretions, and exotics of oolitic shape.

Mr. Sax has also sent a valuable collection of prehistoric stone relics -agricultural and other implements-to his nephew Professor Gilbert Houser.

The Band.

Owing to the disturbance created on the train steps during the Fri- day afternoon band concert the powers that be forbade the band to give any pleasurable entertainment on Friday. This is to be deplored, and it is earnestly hoped that those parties who are at fault will either supply the exuberance of their appreciation or manifest it in a manner more in keeping with good decorum. We be- lieve that these concerts are a good thing, and that they are so well appreciated by the public that only a gentle hint is necessary to ensure their continuance. On next Friday afternoon the band will give another concert, and if there is disorder, it will be the duty of those in charge to insist that all will hold this sobriety.

The Four Crews.

The course for the great quadrennial boat race this year is still undecided, although with the race the course is generally about two months distance. All of the four college crews have from men, although they do not have a distance to be run in retracing their course, in active training, and although the final make-up of any of the teams is yet uncertain, it is pretty well known that each of them will be satisfactorily represented.

The Vanderbilt crew has been composed largely of new men, but all who are trying for places in the Varsity crew are r coordinate this year and the crew as finally composed will be able to all that can be asked for. There seems to be a possibility of the men who are trying for the Freshman college crew, who are eligible for the Vanderbilt, and some who are doing excellent work in the Varsity Freshman boat who will be eligible when they have passed the spring examinations.

Rowing matters at Harvard are at present in a rather unsettled condition. The number of candidates is very small and Penney, the best and most experienced men in college, has not come out as yet. Mr. Watson has been on the ground for some time, but has not been able to get abroad, and as a result of his absence the stroke of the crew is yet undecided. The Harvard crew will probably be transacted.

Of the Columbia crew very little is known excepting that all the old men but two are training, and that these two vacant places will probably be filled with entirely new men. Most of the work so far has consisted of towing on the machines.

The crew at Cornell is progressing very satisfactorily, and the outlook for a winning boat this year looks promising. The list of candidates is very large, five men of very great experience being in the running for the position of star. A young man of this city, who is a member of the crew, was elected by the captain to the crew, and is doing excellent work.

The Vermont has been very successful, and the boat looks to be in a good condition, and will probably be a good boat.

The West Point crew promises to be a strong boat, and the men are all doing good work.

The Yale crew is doing excellent work, and the outlook for a strong boat that will be strong this season, is very good. The Yale crew promises to be a strong boat, and the men are all doing good work.

TO the Editor:

Respectfully submitted:

The Vidette-Reporter, Issaquah, Washington

Resolutions of Respect:

On last Monday, the Zetetican Society, at a special meeting called for the purpose, passed the following resolution:

Whereas, it has pleased Divine Providence to take from this life our beloved friend and schoolmate, Edmund P. Cunningham, and

Whereas, the Zetetican Society of the State University of Iowa deeply deplores the death of Edmund P. Cunningham.

Resolved, that we, the members of the Zetetican Society, of which he was a faithful member, express our deep sympathy in this our mourning and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to them expressing our great affection.

Resceived, that these resolutions be recorded as minutes of the society, and that they be published in the University papers and in the city papers of Cedar Falls, Iowa.

The college base ball season may now be regarded as fairly launched. Princeton, Yale Lehigh and Lafayette all made trips to the southward during the Easter recess. Pennsylvania started at home against Hobart. Cornell did unexpectedly well in her first game against the Buffalo professionals, and Wesleyan made an excellent beginning against the old state league team, Harvard. Brown and the others have been indulging in vigorous practice, and are just reaching their initial games in their respective schedules. Yale's Easter visit was more successful than last year, when the Washington Young Men's Christian Association and the Georgetown University knocked Carter out of the box. This year Yale won four out of five of her southern games. She defeated Hampton Institute by 32 to 5, the University of Virginia by 12 to 4 and 8 to 7, and George-town by 16 to 12. The University of North Carolina on the other hand defeated Yale by 8 to 4.

Two slates pitched in only two of these games, the second one against the University of Virginia and the Georgetown game. In both of these his was hit badly. The nine as made up throughout the trip consisted of Twenty, catcher; Troudelle, Greenaway, Simmons and Smith, pitchers; Leighton, first base; McCandless, second base; Barlisle, short stop; Jerrems, center field; Keaster, right field, and Greenaway left field. This is very close to the permanent make up of the team Flieck, the clever quarter-back and last year's third baseman during part of the season, has given up trying for the nine. Jerome is well known as the 'Varsity half back, but has never played on the nine before.

The Cedar Rapids Republican, of the 20th, contained the following complimentary notices regarding the appearance of our battalion on Tuesday: "The S. U. I. battalion was the subject of much comment yesterday. It was a splendid body of young men and their discipline seemed perfect. The policy of the government in furnishing officers who take charge of military instruction in our colleges will be splendidly vindicated if we ever have cause to put an army in the field. As these young men marched by with the veterans of the great war, we thought--these veterans represent what has been done for freedom--these young men what may be done should the coming come. War is always and everywhere a striking figure. Yesterday he was doubly in his element. It is a fact that the patriotic G. A. R. man--a red hot national guard man, and the like. University is now the apple of his eye. Yesterday he is U. I. battalion chief care and his chief pride, and we doubt if anyone who saw the battalion wondered that it should be so.
