More Foot Ball Players Wanted.

The belief seems to be generally accepted that we shall have a good foot ball team for the season is now selected. Nothing could be more erroneous. Coach R. B. Hatley and Captains Irven and L. have to be understood that the team is at no time to be composed of those who have been in the line up already. This plan is purely temporary. Some unconstitutionally talented old players is intended to be used, but Mr. Buhl and Mr. Irven would both be delighted to develop men who are of superior fibre to those who have manifested the capacity but not the experience of the past. Our team old in the Cupid game, they proved to the satisfaction of all that the superiority of the two teams was dangerously small. But we cannot win the coming game on a reputation. We may rest assured the teams we will meet are not asleep. We live in '95. But a coach as pleased as ever walked on deserted soil, but he cannot man and that who wins without a struggle. Operation of the majority. The Men in the Collegiate, Law, Medical, Dental, and Law Schools are to join in this game. Don't forget the one or two or three that were late. This year the players already on the field. Don't be backward; notify them that you wish to play and they will gladly furnish you with a uniform. They seem fairly manned and will do all they can to develop you and make you worthy of a place on the first team. It should be noted that the condition of the field, not with a constant desire to win, will give that. Our coach and captain and about twenty-five other men are working hard in the interest of our College, are you going to allow this knowledge to go to waste? The ability, to which you have so long been so much entitled, is God-given,3 giving to contribute towards failure and defeat, or will you come down upon the field with your own energy and muscle help push our first ball players on to such a degree of perfection that they may come out victories in every game of the rest of the year. Men up wake! We never had such opportunities! Throw of that ingenuity! that "I can't win!" Open your eyes to the possibilities which await you. How can you go to the seven victors that hang over the same game we have allowed ourselves to be robbed of? Why can't we win all of these games? All of you men from one hundred and fifty pounds to two hundred and forty pounds, no matter whether large or small, you can develop your skin under your arm and run, get down on the field no matter how long and do anything you want. Why can't we win all of these games? All of you men from one hundred and fifty pounds to two hundred and forty pounds, no matter whether large or small, you can develop your skin under your arm and run, get down on the field no matter how long and do anything you want. Grinnell's Fall Field Day.

The truth of the matter is that at Grinnell College was held last Saturday afternoon. The entries were full and cut up with a vigor. The games were contested. In speaking of Ross's work the sacred and illustrious says: Cap- tain Ross probably covered the miles of the day. His magnificent running is a marvel, even to his friends. He won the 29-yard dash in 22 seconds over the limit man who had a handkerchief of fifteen yards. Slash led off within three feet of the line. Ross rapidly gained on him and passed him there. It was a ques- tion then whose race it was. Many of the sprints in the grand stand could not decide. The judges, however, who were on the track, gave the verdict to Ross. So the stakes of the seven victors that met this fall were divided.

Good Words for the Foot Ball Team.

In a letter to a friend in the city Mr. H. C. Kalenberg, '96, our former star, writes: Y. M. A. P. A. Physical Director, says of the game with Chicago last Saturday: "I saw the S. C. I. team play foot ball yesterday and they played a very fine game. A. U. needs to be proud of her team. I don't suppose the people at Iowa City will give the team much credit for the game, but they should have seen the game. If they had they would have met the team at the station with a brass band. It is a great work this year. You must remember that Chicago College has one of the strongest, if not the strongest, teams in the West. I think our boys could not have beaten them on neutral ground." Mr. Kalenberg is now attending the Northwestern University Medical Depart- ment and is located at 238 Lake Ave. Where the Beulah Lauren have sent him.

The Students commenced insurance on the 1st inst. and took up the study of Carries. The text book is "McClain's Class on Carries," a next volume of 500 pages, from the press of Little, Brown & Co., Bos- ton. All seem to be well pleased with the work and he doubt all will be in a fund of information from the well selected cases.

The Senior Mock Court is in session every Tuesday afternoon. The Mock Court is a continuation of the Junior Mock Court work, and the intention is to give combined study of pleading, proration, and case study. Several cases are disposed of each session of the court.

The following concerning the nomination of J. C. Monnet, '92, L. W. L., for the Iowa delegation in the Republican, of Langlison, N. D., one of the leading newspapers in that part of the state, the publisher of which is F. B. Tracey, '98:

"For state attorney the convention nominated Attorney J. C. Monnet. Mr. Monnet is already one of the leading lawyers in northern North Dakota. Though coming here from Pennsylvania less than a year ago, he has met and done business with most of the voters of the county. His business and professional success have been so great that he will enter upon his new office with the knowledge which only experience and ability can give. He has had his name in politics for this position, three years as assistant and partner to Hon. N. C. Young, of Minneapolis, rep. for county attorney in the state, much of the time having complete charge of the cause. There is no doubt of Mr. Mon- net's super equipment for the office and the county is fortunate in being able to secure his services."

"Concern yourself with one of the college literary societies. Without this you cannot get all that college life has in store for you. In the class- room is tasting (tasting, if you have your tongue) but your lessons; the literary is assimilation and growth. Here is where true genius shone. THE VIDETTE - REPORTER.

Our Faculty and the great majority of our students consider and ensure the behavior and conduct of a few individual students who were in attendance at the Bryan celebration at Cedar Rapids last week, but the fact still remains that to the world at large a few individuals, by conduct which the sentiment of the University is strongly opposed to, can put our University in an entirely wrong light. Through the misbehavior of a few non-representative students the University must suffer, and much of the hard work of the Faculty, regents, friends, and the mass of our students for the betterment of our University is set at naught.

It is well known that some are unmitigatedly prejudiced against S. U. L., and that in some places our Alma Mater has a reputation which she does not at all deserve. Such behavior on the part of a few of our students gives them an opportunity to reverse their attacks again against us, and everyone most assured that they will make out all the capital possible to lower the reputation and standard of our school. True it is, that viewing the matter in an unprejudiced and conservative way, there is nothing to but improve for the participators; nevertheless it being uncontested by some of the newspapers of the state as a disgrace to the University.

Now all that is asked of those mentioned in this report is that in the future they conduct themselves in a gentlemanly manner. Be honest with yourselves; is this imposing on you on which you cannot bear?

To the average member of society this is an obligation which is as easy to observe as it is natural to breathe; and we feel confident that if you have a little self-control and will-power you may be able to do the same.

We offer you apology to most of our readers for these remarks, but when we discovered that the participants in this affair were not Hottentots from South Africa we felt it our duty to speak and to enunciate this fundamental principle which governs civilized society.

This is given as a warning and a repudiation of this affair. We desire most sincerely not done for the cause of society to which they owe so much, their self-respect and pride would restrain them from disgraceful and ungentlemanly conduct. We cannot for the life of us see how it is that a certain few students labor under the delusion that because they are college students they are privileged characters, and that they have license to do this; we feel they ever would have been guilty of worse were they not in a company of fellow students.
