The following are the league results which secure for Iowa the pennant.

Saturday's Game.

The Council Bluffs Normal'ie published the following account of Saturday's football game between U. C. and Nebraska: The satisfaction of Nebraska, Saturday, that she was master of the gridiron, so far as the two were concerned at least. The exhibition game, for which both slates clung in anticipation, the Thanksgiving day match, resulted in a score of 6 to 0 in favor of the gold; the red and white well below in its side-line defeat, while the roosters and asses of the Iowa boys were wild with delight.

"Hoy! Hoy! Hoy!" roared the colored player, and on whom so many had placed their hopes for the Thanksgiving game, was master of the day, and, after winning the opening kickoff, accordingly started in the direction of the Iowa goal, taking the score 6 to 0. Hoybrook played a matchless game at left half-back, this ability, though this man, if it were not for the advantage of the Iowa boys, would have caused the game to go to S. C. L. and E. and had a very easy time of it, after winning the opening kickoff, according to the score 6 to 0. Hoybrook played a matchless game at left half-back, this ability, though this man, if it were not for the advantage of the Iowa boys, would have caused the game to go to S. C. L. and E. and had a very easy time of it.

"The Nebraska team had gone around like small boys, telling the various tricks they had up their sleeves ready to spring on the unsuspecting Hawkeyes, but their game was too quick for them by several minutes, and lacked by the good fortune of the Iowa men, made a rush of 35 yards and planted the ball beyond the Nebraska goal. The Iowa goal was finally kicked and the day was ours and Hoybrook did not allow this man to come near to the Iowa goal, as he was doing his best to stop this man from coming near to the Iowa goal. The Iowa boys were not prevented from scoring a touchdown by the Hawkeyes, and Hoybrook was not about to stop them. The Nebraska boys put up a good game, and there was little complaint on either side with regard to the playing or the conduct of the other. The Iowa men were in fine form, and it was seen from the outset that they were a stronger team than their opponents. Iowa had, therefore, been given the game by many in the crowd before they had won, though the Nebraska made an effort to keep up to the end."

"Iowa will continue to hold the rug from this on, as all the other states in the league have gone progressive, and no popocratic state can hope to show as hot a foot as Iowa."

The Jubilee.

A large body of enthusiastic students and citizens assembled in Chico Hall Monday evening in honor of the "Varsity football team which has made this caviable record this season. The meeting was called in order by Professor Sims. Professor Schaefer made the opening address, expressing his joy at the back of the school, good work, good playing, and splendid victories.

Coach Busch was then called for, and was given an ovation. He explained the Sloan in the Ohio vs. In. which the reporter falsely reported as "outraging the S. U. I. team, when he was really complimenting it, and he paid a glowing tribute to the boys of the first team, and to the "scrubs" for their self-sacrificing work. He urged the team's friends to attend games, give contributor cheers, etc., and thus keep enthusiasm alive during the season. He was also the proof of the first team for his work—and especially proud of on account of his self-confidence and skill. He played in the face of great insult and provocation in Missouri. He expressed gratitude to the Faculty and to Professor Sims and Max Mayer for treatment received in Iowa City. Former Lee closed, the team showed the admirable self-sufficiency and self-sufficiency in Missouri because the boys knew it was the will of the coach that they do so. The lesson of the right place is taught by the success of Coach Busch with his team.

Professor Sims introduced a blackboard showing that the team had cost $1,384 for the year, and that about $500 was due, leaving a balance of $850 on the wrong side of the ledger—in grading 128 advanced. The skill of the man was out of his own pocket book to keep the team about. Professor Sims showed that the team in 1886 scored 0 to 0, and in 1886 it scored 24 to 0, against all opponents. He then made the point of query: "Is this worth 50 cents each to S. C. L. students?" Cries of "Yes!" were heard all over the house, and he added that 1,000 male students donating in costs again would send the team from debt—Republican.

At a meeting of the Harvard Advi- cacy Committee on Debating, held recently, action was taken on several important matters in connection with the Harvard debate decided between Harvard and the Iowa boys sustained the action of last week, and is prohibiting for the future all free allusion on the Nebraska debate. The following are the rules of the committee: "No debate shall be prepared seven weeks before the debate is to occur, and the University choosing the side shall announce its decision five weeks before the date. The list of judges shall contain not less than twenty names and must be prepared at least six weeks before the debate, on which they shall sit as judge at any inter-collegiate debate where a graduate of either of the universities participating in the debate. Each of the six speakers shall have twenty minutes, and five minutes for rebuttals. The question of limiting the debates to thirty minutes was left to the judgment of the Harvard representatives, was not settled—Yale Times.

College Notes.

An instructive example of the merits of the X-ray in surgery was afforded at the physical laboratory of Col- nell University recently. Young, who had been playing quarter-back, had been hit by a ball, but his play had been quite serious, and the injured part was examined under the X-ray. No break of the bone was discovered. The attending physician was of the opinion that there had been a slight fracture of the upper part of the shoulder blade—Ex.

The C. of M. Daily has this to say about the Nebraska and Chicago. "The question for debate was: 'Resolved, that the practiced theological seminarians in encouraging young men studying for the ministry by giving them free tuition and free lodging should be discontinued.' The question is not satisfaction to Michigan because of its up and down character, the Chicago's theological department gives them an unfair advantage. The debate has been decided and has forward its objections."
