MICHIGAN PRELIMINARY

The debating society of the Michigan University will hold its annual debate against the college of its nearest neighbor, the University of Wisconsin. The question at issue is, "Resolved, that by jury is in civil cases should be maintained." Students from both institutions will be joined in debate, and a team from each university will represent the affirmative and negative arguments. The debate will be held in the auditorium of the university, and is open to the public.

RECEPTION POSTPONED

The reception to be held in honor of the visiting students of the University of Wisconsin, which was scheduled for Tuesday evening, has been postponed until next Friday, January 22. The reception was intended as a friendly gesture towards the guests, and as a means of fostering good relations between the two universities. The students from Wisconsin will have the opportunity to attend the reception on another occasion.

LEGATION

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Zeta last evening. The program included a few pleasant recitations, introductions by Professor R. H. Crooke, and readings by a number of the students. The first number on the program was a declaration, "William Tell," by W. C. Canadian. This was Mr. Canadian's first appearance in Zeta Ball and he acquitted himself with credit.

"Assumptions and Erills" was the subject of a well written and well delivered speech by Frank Weis. The debate was on the question, "Resolved, that Hiram Granger's 'Register of the United States Constitution should be superseded by cooperation." W. J. Armstrong opened the debate by reviewing the evils of the wage system and pointing out the excellence of profit-sharing as a kind of co-operative business. W. B. Bush spoke first on the affirmative. He attacked the position of the first speaker by pointing out the real defects of the wage system. G. S. L. Coldwell sustained the co-operative phase of the question in a logical argument. With this the debate was decided in the affirmative.

C. F. Page declared the "Eulogy of an Olympic" in a pleasing manner. The debate was concluded by Miss B. and the program and the society adjourned.

Reception

There has been a demand for another reception somewhat similar to the one recently given at the college. The students feel that such an event would give them an opportunity to meet and become acquainted with the students of the University in a more intimate setting.

Judge Robinson will begin his lectures on "Appellate Procedure" and "Agency" on Monday. A number of Seniors are still among the missing.

Judge Saunders commented that the demand for "Eulogy" is still strong. His speeches are always well attended and his topics are always of great importance.

F. W. Armstrong opened the debate with a brief speech. He pointed out the evils of the wage system and the necessity of cooperation. W. J. Armstrong continued the debate by reviewing the evils of the wage system and the necessity of cooperation.

J. B. Armstrong closed the debate with a brief speech. He pointed out the evils of the wage system and the necessity of cooperation.

Debating is a learned art that is necessary for any student who wishes to become a successful lawyer.

DEBATE

"Resolved, that the University of Wisconsin should be maintained." Students from both universities will represent the affirmative and negative arguments. The debate will be held in the auditorium of the university, and is open to the public.

Law Department

A number of new students have matriculated in this department.

C. J. St. Johns, '97, will return this term.

J. E. McVay, '96, is practicing in Alabama.

F. M. Curtis, '96, has a lucrative practice at Alton.

C. M. Stillwell, '96, is engaged in legal work at Sioux City.

F. P. Hagemann and F. E. Farwell, '96, are writing briefs at the firm name of Hagemann & Farwell.

Fred Wyckoff, '96, is enjoying profitable practice at Viroqua.

M. H. Cohen, '96, is located at Des Moines. Mr. Cohen is having a very successful legal career.

Among the able practitioners of Burlington is D. J. Ogden, '96.

J. W. Davis, of Monroe, has continued to combine his work with the Senior class.

Lewis Saunders commented that the stock of "Eulogy" is still strong. His speeches are always well attended and his topics are always of great importance.

One of the most interesting features of the debate will be the presence of the famous "Moral Man," who will address the audience on the subject of "Eulogy." The "Moral Man" is known for his eloquent speeches and his ability to capture the attention of the audience.

Law Bulletin Number XXI is ready for distribution. It contains a pity article by Professor Edward E. Seals, "A Brief Outline of the Study and Doctrine of Equity," and a preview of the ped of the Professor of John J. Ney entitled "The Right and Its Enforcement under the Code," which will prove a valuable aid to the counsels in Code Finding.

Matriculating to Mr. W. H. Evans: "Excuse me, are you Chancellor McClain?

"I am, Mr. Evans. How may I be of service to you?"

"I have no authority for the statement, Professor, except that I made it yesterday."

The Foot Ball Situation

The following outlook for foot ball at S. C. U. is taken from Wednesday's address: "Several formidable questions present themselves to lovers of Rugby. Has foot ball any friends in Iowa City or the University? Do people and students want the game? Shall the University of Iowa have the pennant, through its able champions, lose that silver trophy and remain under the stigma and shadow of an uncalled debt? These are pertinent questions just now.

"The Faculty has decided that the University shall have no team in the fall next year (that is for the season of 1902-1903) unless the indebtedness is long hanging, incurable-like, over the team, be wiped out as pledged.

"The Faculty is disappointed in the enthusiasm of the students from whom the funds have been expected and by whose contributions a sum has been contributed toward that aim—as Professor Simon has borne but conclusive statement that the jubilee meeting proposed to the debt could have been erased. An average of about 50 apiece is their donation, instead of the paltry 50 asked."

"Other things threaten—as bad as, if not worse than, the above. The above is the partial understanding of the University's stand in reference to Missouri, and knowing also that the University has not been represented at the league meeting in Kansas City, December 9th, thinks our team friends intend to play out of the League, and is almost ready to award the pennant to the next best class in the race—Kansas. Our team, if its life be spared, will doubtless remain in the League, and may even play the Fifteen from Missouri—but never in that barbarous state. Whether in life or death, however, as shown above, depends on the friends of foot ball in Iowa City, I. A."

As All Western Eleven

A recent issue of the Nebraska contained this item, which will be of interest to our friends north of the border:

"F. D. Cornell, who has officiated as referee and umpire in many of the games of the League, and who is more than likely to be played by the Eleven, but never in that barbarous state. Whether in life or death, however, as shown above, depends on the friends of foot ball in Iowa City, I. A."

THE VIDETTE-REPORTER.

The efforts now being made to organize a local Alumni Association in the city of Chicago should be specifically followed by efforts to perfect the organization of similar associations in every city or town in which the requisite number of S. U. men and daughters have their residence. Not only will the organization of such associations tend to strengthen the bond that unites the graduates of our beloved University, but it will also tend to keep them in constant sympathy and touch with each other and with her growth and prosperity. Only through such associations can we check that tendency of alumni to grow away from and forget their alma mater, and arrest their lagging interest and affection for her.

A thorough organization of S. U. Iowan would undoubtedly result in great good. The number of men and women who have already been sent out from her halls would form a great army of nearly 5000. Every one of these could be stimulated to do earnest and active work in behalf of their alma mater her new growth and advancement would make her past progress seem but a small pace. If every one of this 5000 would interest himself in inducing some young man or young woman to enroll as a student in our University, our numbers would double, even treble in number. Speritual, as these estimates may seem, they are nevertheless within the realm of possibilities. To be sure, with a continuance of lack of united effort, without unity of purpose and plan, no more can be accomplished by our alumni in the future than has been done in the past; but with every son and daughter of S. U. enlisted in an organized fight for her interests, she may have a growth and prosperity heretofore unknown. Those in charge of the Alumni Association are to be congratulated for their determination to make their organizations as widespread as possible, and we promise them every aid and encouragement that lies within our power.
