Law Class of '96.

We are greatly indebted to John A. Hull, of Des Moines, permanent secretary of the Law class of '96, for the following report:

Everything seems to be going nicely with the various members of the organization. Wilson has been elected county attorney of his county, Shutts is at the Divinity School of the Chicago University, Bates is taking P. P. work at the U. of M. law school. Some new married men are Andrews, Barrett, G. C. Lawrence and McCall.

The report of location is as complete as I was able to make as you see some of the members have not taken the trouble to let me know where they are. I earnestly desire that the various members of the class as soon as they change their location will drop me a card so that I can keep a complete and correct list of our class.

Those marked with a star are those I have been unable to get definite answers from, and the address given is the one taken from the catalogue of last year.

Foot Ball Criticism.

At a recent meeting of the State Teachers' Association, at Lansing, Mich., Dr. V. C. Vaughan took occasion to attack college athletics. He was especially bitter against foot ball and berated faculties for allowing the playing of it in the colleges. His opposition to the game is so great that he advocates the passing of a law by the Michigan legislature making it a misdemeanor to engage in any contest involving so great a risk to life and limb.

The principal arguments by which the doctor defended his position were that only a dozen or so students are benefited, while several thousand look on; that the life of the average athlete is short, because of the development of kidney and heart troubles; and that foot ball is brutal and immoral in tendency. Not one of these arguments can be successfully defended. The statement that only a dozen or so students are benefited by college athletics is not in accordance with the facts. That foot ball is brutal and immoral in tendency is an assertion that has been disproved time and again. That a contest that requires no trait of character so much as self control, can be immoral in tendency, is rather a bold statement, and one that requires more than the testimony of one mon to establish its truth. On the brutality of foot ball Caspar Whitney, who knows what he is talking about, has the following to say:

"Foot ball is a rough game; of that there is no doubt; and it is susceptible of improvement, but the most serious accidents are broken collar bones and twisted ankles and knees. Broken collar bones are of much less frequent occurrence than the twistdd ankles and knees, and surely none is so serious as to warrant condemnation of the game as 'degraded and ignoble.' This season recorded but one broken collar bone, I believe, among the four leading universities, and these four alone had about two hundred men trying for the 'varsity teams. There were, too, few twisted ankles and knees, and the majority of those were at Harvard, where the training had been decidedly defective for a couple of years. 'When accidents do occur, they are almost invariably magnified by the sensation-mongers of the 'new journalism.' On the rare occasion of a death, no terms are too dramatic to describe the 'horrible brutality' of play which caused it."

College athletics sometimes assume undue proportions in college life, but this is the fault of over-zealous partisans. Certainly athletics perform a most valuable function in making men and not book-worms of the college students of to-day, and they should, therefore, be encouraged, not wantonly attacked. We would certainly expect a more conservative and careful opinion from so high an authority as Dr. Vaughan.—U. of M. Daily.

More Room Needed.

The vituperative manner in which a certain writer gives vent to his feelings in the Daily Republican in regard to the sale of seats by the Lecture Bureau carries with it the suggestion that perhaps he was forced to arise "from his downy couch" rather early in order to procure a seat whose conspicuity would be in keeping with his preeminen worth (or dispensability), and perhaps even then did not get ALL HE WANTED. The fact is that these lectures are recognized by the student body as something worth hearing; they want to hear them, and when the average student-body WANTS anything, it doesn't think very long about getting up at 4 o'clock in the morning to get it, if that is the only way it can be had. A hint might be dropped to this writer, this self-self-elected and vociferous "vox populi" phonograph of Iowa City, that whereas in the last eight or ten years the University has made a marvelous growth and improvement, both in size and appearance, the Opera House, during the same period of time has not grown at all—except as to looks, and in this it has been steadily growing worse.

The Derring Messenger, in an article on "The Importance of Reading," has this to say: "We should always exercise the memory while reading. The mind is not disciplined where the reader omits all the difficult parts and hastens through the book without a pause. We should resolve to master all the difficulties, we should review them, memorize choice passages and talk about them with others. It is a very good plan to have a note book in which to copy down the leading thoughts and our ideas about about them. In this way we can acquire a good education and a large mental development. A book is not serviceable until it has been read, or re-read, so that we can refer to any passage we want in it."

Next Monday evening the play, "Hazel Kirke," will be given at the Opera House, the proceeds to be devoted to the Athletic Park debt, which has been hanging over us for so long. The troupe has already presented this play with success in Rock Island and Davenport, and come to us highly recommended. They have been procured through the efforts of Mrs. Schaeffer and Mrs. Musser.

An effort is being made to sell tickets among the students, but so far no phenomenal success is reported. It seems strange, to say the least, that a body of thirteen hundred students cannot afford to give such a movement their hearty support. For some time past our Faculty have stood behind this matter. Are we now to ask them to do so longer and not even try to help? Often of late the question has come to us, "have we any University spirit?" If we have any pride in our school we must surely be put to shame by the example of institutions less than one half as large as our own.

The proceeds of this entertainment are not to be devoted to the foot ball team, nor to the Athletic Association, but to that organization known as the Athletic Park Association. A few years ago this organization raised by subscription $2,000, which was immediately paid as part payment for the Athletic Park. There still remains a debt of $3,500, and Dr. Schaeffer, Professor Calvin, Chancellor McClain and Judge Wade, of the Faculty, and Messrs. Meyer and Dutcher, of the citizens, acting as a Board of Trustees, and voluntarily making themselves security for that sum, have generously undertaken to carry the risk, depending chiefly upon the students for support until the whole can be paid, and the park belong absolutely to us. Three years ago these gentlemen made another attempt to lessen the debt by subscription, but were unsuccessful. Since then the general depression in financial matters has made it impossible for them to do more than pay the interest, amounting to over two hundred dollars per annum, upon this debt. It was to pay this interest that Mrs. Schaeffer secured "Octave Thanet" to give us an entertainment last year. A little over $200 was cleared on this entertainment, and the six generous men who constitute the Board of Trustees paid $7 apiece from their own pockets in order to pay in full the interest then due. The proceeds of the play Monday night are to pay the INTEREST on the debt.

Students, we must realize the fact that if we have not the loyalty and energy to pay our debts we can not maintain athletics in the University! The Faculty will not allow athletics to be conducted an such a basis! The students must support athletics themselves or do without them. Subscription lists have been resorted to with but slight results, many pledging and never paying; class assessments seem to have stopped short, the Law classes and Senior Collegiates being the only ones to take hold of the matter seriously. Next Monday each person is offered full value for his money, and in addition the proceeds will go to a most worthy cause. There is no doubt but that the company giving "Hazel Kirke" are what they are represented to be. We sincerely hope that the student body will respond to this call readily. Tickets have been placed in the hands of members of the fraternities and literary societies, and a thorough canvass of the school will be made. Be ready to respond without delay when called upon.

The Iowa City Freshmen were able to hold their annual banquet without successful interference by the Sophomores," says the Des Moines Leader, and comments: "Thus another great educational triumph was achieved." Alas for fame! The poor Sophs thought they were the victors.—Republican.

Of all the lucky Dental students we must concede to Mr. J. H. Teter the first place. A rich, unknown uncle having died, he found himself the possessor of a handsome legacy. Not satisfied with this he at once sets out for Mt. Pleasant, from which place he brings to us Mrs. Teter, who has been known as Miss Laura Anderson.

Miss Myra Bloom entertained a goodly number of her friends in the city and University, last evening, in honor of her friend, Miss Wise, of Cincinnatti. Berryhill's orchestra furnished music for those who desired to trip the light fantastic, while card tables were provided for those who preferred the delights of the pasteboards. The guests all report a rare good time.

A company of ladies and gentlemen of Davenport and Rock Island have very recently produced the play of "Hazel Kirke in Davenport, with great eclat. At the request of friends of the University they have consented to repeat the performance in this city on Monday evening. The play will be put on the boards in the very best style, and as the proceeds will go towards extinguishing the debt on the Athletic Park, it is hoped that students and citizens will give it their hearty support.

Notice.

Professor Magowan will deliver an address on the "Chicago Drainage Canal," before the Baconian society in Professor Veblen's lecture room, Friday evening. The lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon.

Webster's International Dictionary
Successor of the "Unabridged."
The One Great Standard Authority,
So writes Hon. D. J. Brewer, Justice U. S. Supreme Court.

Standard of the U. S. Gov't Printing Office, the U. S. Supreme Court, all the State Supreme Courts, and of nearly all the schoolbooks.
Warmly Commended
by State Superintendents of Schools, College Presidents, and other Educators almost without number.
Invaluable
in the household, and to the teacher, scholar, professional man, and self-educator.
THE BEST FOR PRACTICAL USE.
It is easy to find the word wanted.
It is easy to ascertain the pronunciation.
It is easy to trace the growth of a word.
It is easy to learn what a word means.
The Chicago Times-Herald says:—
Webster's International Dictionary in its present form is absolute authority on everything pertaining to our language in the way of orthography, orthoepy, etymology, and definition. From it there is no appeal. It is as perfect as human effort and scholarship can make it.—Dec. 14, 1895.
