FRESH-SOPH COMBAT.

AN EXCITING CONFLICT—FRESHMEN VICTORIOUS.

In due accordance with the sentiment expressed at a recent Sophomore meeting, the Sophomores, acting from that august body made preparation and gave ample notice of a dark and ominous execution of "Mr. Freshman Class" on the campus at high noon on Tuesday. With no semblance of interest the students of all departments awaited the result, sympathy being generally with the Freshmen, but confidence in the victory of the Sophomors.

Before twelve o'clock in the appointed hour many members of both classes were upon the battle-field seated in swatters and other garments firmly indicated "resounding" business. Time proved that the indications were not unfounded. The bell rang and the majority of the students gathered about the campus gate, waiting the catastrophe. Nothing could be seen but a group of Freshmen, the campus, and a very gaudy group of Sophomors bleeding, bludgeoning, and threatening Bloomer & Mayor's store.

Suddenly and without a warning the Sophomors leaped the fence near the corner. They carried a huge war excitement attached to it, and entered the fray.

But the Sophomors, who had been prolonged as possible, did not return the blow. The force of gravity appeared to have received a shock and the Sophomors had some advantage of numbers and the Sophomors were able to maintain their position, and the Freshmen, be-tone the best of their power, were unable to drive them out. The Sophomors then left the field and the Freshmen were declared the victors.

THE HAWKESLE.

THE '90 BOARD IS RE-ORGANIZED—FIVE PROPECTS FOR THE YEAR.

Owing to numerous reports that have been made, mingling trust and the Sophomors failed to fit the designs of their predecessors and the Sophomors did not get out a Hawkesley, and that on account of dissatisfaction and discord among the members of the Board the book would be inferior if published, it seems necessary to state publicly that there will be a Hawkesley, and that no effort will be spared to make it a credit to the class and the University.

A number of the original Board are out, but capable men have been elected to fill the vacancies. Delineating from the custom of former classes, of having three members from the Executive Board, the Juniors this year have decided to increase the number to five. Following in the track of past Board elected at the class meeting yesterday:

Editor-in-Chief—Walter S. Ankersey.
Assistant Editor-in-Chief—Charles O. Gies.
Editor of the "Review"—John W. Ham.

The following is a list of new students that have entered the class of '91, are practicing law in Indiana.

Mr. Plue, '90, received a visit from a man who offered to explain the business. He left the place after a few moments, and the Sophomors have succeeded in assisting Mason of their number, on the tree. This. However, proved of little consequence, for the conclusion of the Sophomors was so absorbed from this time on that they could not afford to make a "man up on the tree", other than to add his own battleaxe to those of the Sophomors whenever an opportunity arose to disable him. The force of gravity appeared to have received a shock, and the Sophomors had some advantage of numbers, and the Sophomors were able to maintain their position, and the Freshmen, being the best of their power, were unable to drive them out. The Sophomors then left the field and the Freshmen were declared the victors.

FRESHMAN MEETING.

The class of '90 held a meeting yesterday for the purpose of organizing their class. After a good deal of bickering they succeeded in agreeing on an amendment to which confirmed the previous election of some of the officers. The class adjourned, and three new committees, one to arrange for a class society to be held soon, the other to make the requisite arrangements for the Freshman banquet. The meeting then adjourned until Monday.

Notice.

The Sophomors are urged to meet at Close Hall at 12 o'clock Friday. Important business is to be transacted.

In the "Senior" class "scrap" is now a thing of the past. Along with other battles for class supremacy it has gone down in recorded history. And now, for the time being, the tomahawk is buried and peace reigns supreme.

We have no reason to inflate any traditions as a basis for right or wrong of many such encounters. No general rule as to that can be laid down or countenanced. Each special case must be considered in itself. But recently several class "scrapes" have had disastrous results. At the same time several hundred have been fought unknown to fame, simply because nothing serious grew out of them. It is clear, then that a class "scrap" in itself, is by no means a necessary evil, or an institution to be condemned. Each and every case must be judged on its individual merits. So considered, we can see nothing wrong or asawful in the encounter of Tuesday noon. It was conducted with the utmost good nature and in a spirit of surprising and remarkable under the circumstances.

One of the "dastic engagements" so glowingly described by some enthusiastic chronicler had so much as an existence in fact. Nor did any tournaments for "personal supremacy" occur to hold the thousands spell bound. In short, it was a good-natured, well-mannered, vigorous class "scrap" without rancor, without ill will, and without our serious regret to any of the participants. It originated at an amicable number of strength, and ended as such.

If the expression and vent, in all good will, of the pent-up energy inherent in every healthy, enthusiastic American youth, is wrong, then such encounters may be condoned; if not, no censure can be attached to them. The day when our young men have lost the militant spirit of their ancestors is not yet come; and it is fortunate that this is so. The time is not here for any class to forget the arts of strife, and in such incidents as that of Tuesday, we are assured that the power still lies latent upon which the perpetuity of our institution depends. In the same spirit as they are at Iowa University, the bus and cry against the "scrap" would cease, and the moral moralism would rob of a subject for his plains.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is cancer. Hall's Caraball Cure is the only pure cure now known to the medical fraternity. Caraball being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Caraball Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and interna tous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength to go on with his constitutional miseries in doing the work. The proprietors have so much faith in the medicinal powers that they offer the following Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. It is rumored that the Freshmen made a collection of the best autumn vegetables at their meeting yesterday, and also that the Soph who supplied them had a good deal of fun for "the man up a tree" when the meeting was over.

There is some talk of changing the days and walks in the fall meet, on account of the brief time remaining in which to train.

The people who reside along the Iowa River above the Iowa Avenue bridge were attracted by many candidate speeches, and with a few on the shore last Monday evening. A Freshman was being duly initiated into the mysteries of ship's cock by candlelight. After two hours hopeless endeavor to capture the birds, which his companions were driving toward his open vault (but he wandered home a sadder but wiser man.

Foot ball is the recognized college game. "Women" may talk and "pooh" may legislate, yet college enthusiasm best manifests itself at a contest on the gridiron. Institutions of learning gain much of their reputation through the victories of their foot ball teams. No matter how much certain people may regret this, it is a fact nevertheless.

Professor Libbey, of Princeton University, by means of a life-saving apparatus and some reproducers, made a successful ascent of the Moos Escalada, or enchanted mound, in New Mexico. One of the many traditions concerning the mound was that it was the home of the ancestors of the Arizona Indians. All the aped people were kept there for safety. The tradition runs that while most of the white-blooded members of the tribe were on lower ground gathering, a sudden storm destroyed the only means of reaching the summit of the rock, and all confined on it were starved. The professor made an observation of the great importance, but has the satisfaction of being the first to ascend the rock.
