T. M. C. A. CONVENTION CLOSURES.

The Convention a Series of Merry Meetings.

Sunday evening the V. M. C. A. Convention held its final meeting in the Student Union, the large hall being occupied by the strong attendance. The meeting was opened by a prayer from Miss Anne Putt, McPherson, Ill. The Bible study was under the charge of Miss Bates. Miss Price spoke on "The Church Was Followed by Miss Jones on "What Are We Doing?"

The morning session was closed by Miss Jones with a talk on "Responsibility of Local Associations to State Work."

In the afternoon prayer services were conducted by the World's Secretary, Miss Anna Reynolds, of London. Dr. A. A. Jones, of Chicago, gave an able address on the dangers and pitfalls awaiting young women about to go out into the ministry of the Church. "Move to the Front" was the subject of an unusually good paper read by Miss Jones. The audience then had the pleasure of listening to a skit by the Misses Halgait and House. Miss Reynolds gave another of her interesting addresses. A beautiful basket was held for Mrs. Nellie Ankeney. Among the gifts was a new Bible given in honor of the occasion by the University of Iowa, who, as a missionary with the Society, had led in translation work in South America. Among the gifts were also several beautiful pictures for those interested in art. A delegation of the band was held for Mrs. Nellie Ankeney. Among the gifts was a new Bible given in honor of the occasion by the University of Iowa, who, as a missionary with the Society, had led in translation work in South America. Among the gifts were also several beautiful pictures for those interested in art.

Sunday evening the delegates and others assembled at the Presbyterian Church to listen to Miss Reynolds' address on the work of foreign missions, and Dr. B. H. H. Lang, who gave an interesting address on "Opportunity and Importance of Foreign Missions."

Sunday morning a special service was held in Close Hall, and in the afternoon a missionary prayer meeting was held by Miss Jones. Miss Bates conducted a girls' meeting in the Congregational Church, Miss Flory led a woman's meeting in the E. C. Church. Miss Price led a most interesting meeting at 4 o'clock in Close Hall.

In the evening the different church services were given over to the delegates, and the pupils were filled as follows: Congregational-Miss Jones, State Secretary of Iowa. Methodist-Price, Gen. Sec. International Committee. Baptist-Miss Servers, Ex-Gen. Sec. Deaconess-Miss Reynolds, World's Secretary. Presbyterian-Miss Reynolds, World's Secretary.

The final services were conducted by the local pastors, "What the Convention Meant to Us."

Resolutions were then read by the committee appointed for that purpose. They expressed their gratitude for the hospitality of Iowa City and its friendly reception; and to the musicians and speakers for their aid. This was closed with another touching tribute to the memory of Mrs. Munger.

The Association will next year meet at Eriqfield or Indiana. The officers elected for the coming year are:

President-Mrs. P. E. Morgan, Des Moines.

First Vice-President-Miss Emma Servers, Des Moines.

Second Vice-President-Miss Elbert Bookwalter, Toledo.

Corresponding Secretary-Miss Panie Picke, Des Moines.

Resolved, that the Supreme Court of the United States should not decide the questions of liability of laws enacted by Congress. This question was asked of Messrs. F. T. Swaiger and T. M. Stonington, denied by I. T. Hawx and M. L. Fer- ion. Iowa was won by the negative.

"The Missouri Compromise," was the subject of an oration by G. C. Converse. He closed his first appearance on the Ozarkan program that he has ability both in delivery and composition.

J. O. Spinger then declared "The Doctor's Visit." The humor of the production connected with Mr. Spring-er's斡nial delivery made the number well received.

The closing program was closed by Miss Baker.

Law Department.

Geo. W. Swoers, 1896, has opened a cigar factory in this city.

Judge Ney has been retained as attor- ney upon the famous Naylor and Gage case in Benton county. During his absence, which will be about two weeks, the court will continue sitting for the Junior class a thorough system of study of cases on contracts.

Senator Munger has announced Thursday afternoon the time for the Senior examination in Insurance.

Miss Ethel Inglis, who received a vocal during the past week from her cousin, Miss Illy, who is attending Cornell College.

The fair sex of the Junior class has received an addition in Mrs. Holcomb, who scheduled herself last week. The class now has five lady members, the largest number of ladies ever in one class.

Chancellor McClain began his "Cases on Law of Contracts" for the Senior class today.

The Junior class held an election to fill vacancies on the Newsboy Board caused by the resignation of Mr. Thorp, last Monday. After several ballots Mr. Bateh and Long had a large amount of the votes. The ballot- ing was begun on these names. The re- sult was Manhattan, 41, Long 46, with many scattering.

The members of the Senior class were pleased Monday to receive their votes on Charles Mortgages. Almost everyone was satisfied with their marks, with thanks to Judge Ney.

Erdokhiana.

The following program will be given in Erdokhiana Hall Saturday evening, instead of the usual program: The "Chasing Dish Party," by John Hendrix, student.

IOWA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1897.

The closing number was "Ike pullover" by F. N. Vaught, in a logical and convincing manner.

The debate was decided unanimously in favor of the negative. An oration by F. S. Murfus carried excellent thought and composition. The subject, "The Drama of the Universe," as treated by the gentleman, showed a good conception. This being Mr. Murfus' first appearance on Irving program, the gentleman deserves special mention regarding his work as an orator. Mr. Otto then closed the program with a declaration entitled "Gen. Porter's Oration at the Dedication of the Grant Monument.

Professor Berryhill then favored the audience with a closing with an artis- tic violin solo.

Philsanthrae.

The Philo's program was well ren- dered to a fairly sized audience last Fri- day evening.

A declaration, "The Disappointed Lawyer," by H. R. Augus, was the opening number.

The question, "Resolved, that it is for the best interest of the United States to build a large navy," was well discussed by Messrs. B. J. Schnaucker and W. A. Ramos in the affirmative, and Messrs. W. C. Jervis and C. W. Irwin in the negative. The judge decided for the negative. This was followed by a speech by Mr. Augus on "The Philo's Advance," by J. Rescuer, a history of the society's organization two years ago, and its steady progress since that time.

The declaration, "English Victor- ias and Irish Alisons," by F. P. Vaughn, was worthy of comment. Mr. Vaughan has the ability of a good oratorical declaimer.

The violin solo by Professor Berryhill was excellently rendered and was heard to be reprised.

Irving.

The usual large and attentive audi- ence listened to the program in North Hall, Friday evening.

"Skittles" was the title of a declamation delivered by M. F. Clemons. This gentleman's reputation as a declaimer was slowly but surely built up in the course of four years. This was followed by a speech on "The Church of England," delivered by Miss F. E. Cottrell, "The Battle of Ivy." This piece was well delivered and deserved favorable comment. Mr. B. H. Dunning followed with a speech on "The War in a Crime." The oration contained good thought, well expressed.

The debate was decided unanimously in favor of the negative. "Resolved, that the Supreme Court of the United States should not decide the question of liability of laws enacted by Congress." The question was asked of Messrs. F. T. Swaiger and T. M. Stonington, denied by I. T. Hawx and M. L. Fer- ion. Iowa was won by the negative.

"The Missouri Compromise," was the subject of an oration by G. C. Converse. He closed his first appearance on the Ozarkan program that he has ability both in delivery and composition.

J. O. Spinger then declared "The Doctor's Visit." The humor of the production connected with Mr. Sping- er's oration delivery made the number well received.

The closing program was closed by Miss Baker.
The long expected game with Iowa State College has been played and has now passed into history. With the exception of its unfortunate termination, no game has been witnessed here for a long time so free from every objectionable feature. So far as the players of both teams are concerned, it was an exhibition of pure, clean and honest Athletics in the highest sense of the word. The result, however, was extremely unsatisfactory both to Ames and Iowa. Under the circumstances, it was apparently unavoidable. Ames could hardly be expected to act otherwise than she did, nor in any sense of justice or right, could S. U. F.

The game of contention, as is well known, was the foul and unwarranted tackling of Griffith by Dyer, of Ames, that it was a foul, Dyer himself, on the spur of the moment, admitted, and even went so far as to ask Griffith if he had hurt him. If that was not evidence enough in itself, the tackle was closely witnessed by fifty or more spectators, students, editors, and members of the Faculty, too, honorable to be swayed by partisan or personal motives. Every one of these spectators, and the absence in addition, overlooked what Dyer had already admitted.

Yet the umpire, whose sole duty is to observe such things, says he failed to see the play. This too, where the whole movement was being executed exactly where the foul occurred, and in which the crisis in the game was being enacted in that very spot; where the closest attention of every person in the crowd was riveted upon it. While all this took place the very person who was there to watch it was not looking, why? Either, because he did not want to see it, or because he was grossly, not to say criminally, negligent. We believe the latter to be the true explanation.

That the umpire was endowed with at least normal vision, and could see when he made an effort to do so, is attested to by his ruling out of Lamonton, and in the other numerous decisions, every one of which was against Iowa. Those, although by no means indisputable, were accepted by Iowa without a murmur. This has ever been, and will continue to be, our policy. But when the most unpunishable infraction of a foot ball rule that ever occurred at S. U. F., took place not thirty feet from the umpire, and at a time when, above all, he should have seen it, and it then escaped his official eye, the overstated patience and good nature of Captain Walker at length gave way, and he refused to continue the game without a ruling on the point. The fact most certain, with which the umpire’s vision, history to preternaturally good, was momentarily destroyed, or else that he was looking the other way. If the former be true, it was indeed unfortunate to say the least; if the latter is the case, it is more than a suspicious circumstance.

The Next Lecture

The Second Lecture will be on the subject of "The Next Century." It will be given in two parts. The first meeting is to be held in the evening of next Monday, and the meeting will be held in the morning of the next Tuesday. The subject of the lecture will be "The Next Century."

Professor Maude will deliver her lecture on "The Botany of Shakespeare," for the benefit of the English students, in Close Hall, this evening, at 7 p.m. All students are invited to attend.

Close Hall was filled with students last Sunday afternoon to hear Miss Ethel K. Price, of Chicago, Miss Price is an eloquent and accomplished speaker, and fully sustained the reputa- tion which she brought with her from the east. The subject of her talk was "Reminiscences of old New England." She showed the universal interest in this law in lit- erature, in art, and literature, and con- cluded with a strong appeal to college stu- dents to be more careful in the matter of coming credit to the diciples of the Master.

There is more carthage in this sec- tion of the country than all other dis- eases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be inac- curable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and pre- scripted local remedies, and by con- stant curing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven carthage to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. W. Coe & Co., Toronto, Canada, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses of 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They of- fer one advantage for any cure as it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.
