SATURDAY'S GAME.

The enthusiasm that has been stored away so long, burst forth, Saturday night, in a spontaneous burst of joy. Believing, the band played, and hundreds of students, draped and decorated with old flags, dashed and shouted and paraded the streets, celebrating the splendid Victory of the afternoon. For two hours the demonstration continued, and long after midnight groups were gathered at street corners discussing "how we did it." With the fervor and gladness of the jubilee ringing in our ears, may our team sweep their Thanksgiving field with a grand rush of victory.

Let-her-Social.

Owing to an oversight the following was omitted from our Saturday's issue:

The Herpetologists were royally entertained by the Thursday evening, in the Society Halls. Nearly all the active membership of both societies was present, and those assembled appeared in their best and, generally, billy g pertinaciously until a late hour.

The secretaries had prepared a program of amusements which added much to the pleasure of the occasion. Among the most interesting features of this were the finding of the golden nugget, the Jazz-dazzle march, and the competitive drill of the brown brigades.

An elaborate supper was served in the South Hall after which the following toasts were given:

"A Freshman's Duty," M. L. Forsman
"The Irrepressible South," Ralph Dowling
"Our Hoots!" Margaret Bailey
"Our Toads!" Frank Hollingsworth
"The Zen War Cry!" F. P. Ogden
"Looking Backward!" Judge Ludwick

Philanthropic.

Friday evening's program was open with a reception, "The Ninth South," by E. S. Bailey, who is a new member and doing good society work. He had been rendered a loyal solo and was given a hearty encore, to which he responded.

The next was the debate, "Resolved, that he railroads in the United States should be owned and operated by the Federal Government."

Moses E. W. Yule and L. Hensen on the affirmative, explained how government control would do away with polling and the watered stock excess, and would be operated at least, the people would save many millions of dollars.

Moses, M. G. Ilbert and E. E. Bilghe on the negative, pointed out countries where it had proved a failure, and explained how a few could take certain advantages which would be detrimental to the people.

A declaration, "On Leading a Musical Life," was well delivered by W. C. Humphrester, another new member, who is proving a valuable asset.

The program was closed by a vocal solo by Mr. Oleson.

Yale has added throwing the discus to its list of athletic events.

"WATER NYMPHS."

PROFESSOR SHINEK GIVES AN INTERESTING PAPER AT MACONIAN.

"Water Nympis" was the subject of a very interesting paper by Professor Shinkle at Maconian Friday night.

The group of plants considered was the order Nymphaeaceae, which the essayist presented as remarkable for the fact that they produce larger and more varied flowers. The plants in this group further exhibit a very definite increase in the size of the flowers as one proceeds from the order. The water lilies, for instance, produce flowers which are much larger than those of the aquatic plants, and the water lilies, for instance, produce flowers which are much larger than those of the aquatic plants. The water lilies, for instance, produce flowers which are much larger than those of the aquatic plants.
