THE NEW COLLEGIATE BUILDING.

THERE are few plans recently submitted by the accepted architects, Messrs. Proctor & Elder, for the new Collegiate building that is to be. Nothing definite can be learned as to the exact dimensions of the building as proposed by this plan. According to the suggestions by the Faculty, prepared for the consideration of the eight competing architects, the dimensions of grounds is 230 feet by 130 feet; the first floor. But this plan among the Language and feet, so that the back of the building will have to be apportioned among the Political Science, Philosophy and Psychology, Government and Administration, Pedagogy and History Department with a General Lecture Room of about 3,000 feet; on the third floor was to be located the Extension Room, the rest of the available space to be occupied by recitation rooms about 22 by 30 feet. In dimension, the basement was to be 11 feet from floor to ceiling, with the floor 3 feet below grade line, and was to be divided into a bicycle room, offices, a lecture room. The location of the building, in fact, as provided by the Board of Regents, Oct. 1, 1895, was to be on the southeast quarter of the campus, but less than 60 feet from the south line fence, and fronting north. At the meeting held March 30 last, the location was changed by resolution placing it "East of the old Smith and Medical buildings, facing one, and in said said buildings and the south line of the campus as practicable." It is not improbable, however, that this provision may be changed, and that the building may be erected either on the site first proposed, or some more suitable one. It is probable that after the plans have been accepted, the contract may be let sometime this year, but actual work on the building will hardly begin before April 1 of next year, when $892,000 of the appropriation, or of which $850,000 has already been used, $55,000 in the Hospital building, and $8,000 in rebuilding the Library, will be available.

Beauty, architecture and brick paving do not form an exceedingly harmonious whole. Thus burdened in all sides the new college will be able to appear as it should, and as every one desires it to look. In order then to preserve the campus, to show the new building to best effect, to not give the building the appearance of a combination of temple houses and Broadway residences, let the location be changed.
