The Zetgalahan

NEW BOOKS.

During the past week something like three hundred and fifty books have been added to the library. Lack of space prevents the publication of anything like a complete list. A large number of the new books are on literature, including:

Great Harter's works, in 6 volumes.

J. H. C. Newman, 4 volumes of essays and letters.

Private Letters of Edward Gibbons, 2 volumes.

A large number of works on history and biography were also added: Franklins in France, 2 volumes, Ed E. Hale.

Four volumes of John Molesky's works.

David Jefferson, "Rise and Fall of the Confederates," 3 volumes.

McFadden, "Count von Bunsen," 2 volumes.

Biographies in the "Great Writers" series, by different authors of Collier, Byron, Scott, Hawker, Mass, Emerson, Goldsmith, Shelley, Emily Bronte, Thackeray, Burns, Goethe, Heine and Schiller.

Ten volumes of John Hurry's "Beacon Lights of History."

Life of Alexander Hamilton, by J. T. Morse, 5 volumes.

All of the new books are on American Literature, including:

The natural science department has received large additions; a number of books on biology and kindred topics.

The Cyclopedia of political, constitutional, statistical and forensic knowledge, in 4 volumes, together with several books on sociology, archeology and economics, and a general index to the entire additions made this year.

Notice.

The class of '91 will meet at Closh Hall, Monday, at 3:30.

Donald McClauchin, Pres.
