WAGNER LADIES QUARTETTE.

TWO CONCERTS AT CLOSE HALL.

The annual Membership Rally of the Young Men's Christian Association was held on Saturday afternoon. A large number of invitations had been issued, and despite the unpleasant weather a large audience was present. The Huspitar program was begun at 3 o'clock, to allow the members an opportunity of hearing the concert.

The concert:

PART 1.

5. "Last Night."... Kjerulf.
8. "When Melodies Sing."... Paul Laurens Dunbar.
9. "Blessing Miss Bodee Parker.

The Wagner Quartette captured the audience at their appearance, and after every number they were compelled to respond to an encore. The ladies in the audience were delighted singers, and won the highest praise on every hand. Their effects were appreciated, and they received an encore that gathered to hear them at the Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, and at Close Hall in the afternoon.

The numbers by local talent were also well received, their harmonious singing being just enough variety in the program to make it of the greatest interest.

The Union Meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. Sunday afternoon was attended by a crowded house, and the sacred concert was appreciated by the entire audience.

The program given was as follows:

Voluntary: "M. L. Auber
Miss CH. B. Ayer.
"Go Thou Almighty King."... Giardini.
Opening Hymn, Parody... Invocation.
Rev. Dr. Bullock.
"Speed Away."... arr. Woodbury.
Y. M. C. A. Chorus.
"Calvary."... Wager Ladies Quartette.
"Scripture and Prayer."... Rev. Williams.
"The Pilgrim."... Stephen Adams.
Tenor Solo.—Mr. L. D. Carpenter.
"The Unseen Kingdom."... Lazo.
Soprano Solo.—Miss Anna Claus.
"Lead Kindly Light."... Dudley Buck.

What are these who are Arrayed?... O. B. Brown.
Contributed by Miss Anna Bailey-Barth.

"Not a Veil."... Louis.

IOWA CITY WINS.

CEDAR RAPIDS BASKET BALL TEAM DEFEATED BY Y. M. C. A. TEAM.

Last night, in the Cedar Rapids gym, "the Iowa City boys met and defeated the Cedar Rapids "Maroons" in a game of basket ball for the state championship of Iowa.

The game started about 8.6, and from the start it was evident that the Iowa City boys were by far the better players. The first score was made by Kyff from a foul, and this was quickly followed by a field goal by McFetty. Freeman then made a goal for Iowa City, and Pay succeeded in netting two more points for Cedar Rapids by a pretty throw from field. The game continued for some time with neither side scoring, and the first half closed, score, 6-2 in favor of the Maroons.

The second half started even faster than the first, and not once during this half did the Cedar Rapids boys score a point. Bailey and Griffith both made a goal from field, and when time was called the score was a 16-14.

In playing off the tie, both teams worked harder than ever, if possible. By a clever lock, Iowa City got the ball, and with several lightning-like passes the ball was forwarded to Griffith, who, by a cool and deliberate throw, tossed the ball into the basket. Thus the game ended. Score, 86 in favor of Iowa City.

The line-up:

IOWA CITY: CEDAR RAPIDS.
Freeman... 1 F. McFetty... 1 F.
Jarris... 1 F. Kyff... 1 F.
Chas, Bailey... 1 F. Wehber... 1 F.
Latta... 1 F. Griffith... 1 F.
Bailey... 1 F. Pay... 1 F.

LOUIS KOSUTH.

THE SUMMIT OF ASSISTANT PROFES.
BOOKER'S LECTURE SUN.
DAY EVENING.

Assistant Professor Booker Shinn-ook lectured at the Unitarian church, Sunday evening, on Louis Kosuth.

The speaker said in part:

At the time of Louis Kosuth the continent of Asia was a scene of rebellion and bloodshed. Europe as she had promised, to captivity. Many a man has missed greatness by not dying soon enough. Kosuth worked on, healing not the sufferers, the revilers, not the weaknesses of some of his own workers. He was aided by his prayers. He used the rubbish in his building. The people had a great work to do. They were given good instruction, and read from the book of God distinctly. All went well until they heard the law, that they had not kept.

From this point the character was characterized by rare selflessness, unusual self control, great patriotism, kind-heartedness, and strong love for his Maroons. Most significant of all, he communed always with God.

The Nelder Effect.

The newly-elected Editor-in-Chief of our worthy contemporary has assumed control of the editorial columns with a pugnacious gusto that indicates a "sounding" propensity much to be deplored in a University journal. We regret the necessity of taking cognizance of the article at all, and should not do so were it not so manifest that it was written for political purposes. In an editorial upon plagiarism, he says: "We are sorry the Vidette-Reporter found it necessary to make such an editorial column. We know not why. It was merely a frivolous desire to show the world his newly-acquired authority, we should gladly allow the opium we have taken, to our undoing, his excess of time, to the Quill. If we were asked to dictate to the Vidette-Reporter the tenor of its editorials, we hasten to say that this is a revenge for the Quill. "What private griefs they have, alas!"

We would respectfully ask that the phrase, "found it necessary to make publication thereof," be elided in the next issue of the self-styled "Official Organ of the University." In the article referred to we mentioned no names, we made no charges, we accused no one, we did not reflect upon the actions of any co-conspirators, officer or person connected with the affair. In what respect have we offended any one, or over-stepped the bounds of journalistic license?

Is the Quill sorry because we said plagiarism was a grave charge? Is it "sorry" because we approved of the only method by which the accused could be exonerated in the eyes of the students and Faculty? Or is it grieving because we express the hope that the gentleman would be found not guilty? If it is "sorry" why not? We join in the lamentation, but because the whole affair is to be regretted, it does not follow that it is an improper subject for editorial comment.

As we again read the editorial we find no statement that we would retract. We hold then, and we hold now, that when a man is accused of any offense he should be given a fair trial. If any person were guilty of plagiarism he should be punished; if he were falsely accused, it is only justice to himself, to his friends and the school, that the "proper tribunal" should declare him innocent. It was this that we advocated. It was this that was done.

Notice.

The track team will meet at 2:30 p.m. daily, at the gymnasium, for practice.

Hammond Law Senate.

The program at the Senate last Friday night was of exceptional merit, the special feature being the musical selections by Mrs. Baker and Miss Donahoo. The debate was vigorous and spirited on the part of the affirmative, but the negative carried the Senate by its argument, and won the decision. The following program was rendered:

Vocal Solo
Mrs. Baker
Drummer
Sen. Scully
Reading
Sen. Watters
Extremo
"Be it enacted by Hammond Law Senate that further foreign immigration be restricted."

Affirmed by Senators Muskhimons and McCormick. Denied by Senators Crazy and Horlman.

Oration
Sen. Smith
Instrumental Solo
Miss Donahoo
Crisite
Sen. Williams

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is cataract. Hall's Cataract Cure is the only patent cure now known to the medical fraternity. Cataract using a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and nervous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for a year's supply of the above, and you will be satisfied. The College class of '98 has again asserted its supremacy in defeating the highly-favored Senior High School basketball team, last Saturday afternoon, to the tune of 18 to 8. The 40th defeated the 22nd to 11.

The Superior Court of S. U. I. held a session Saturday evening. The case of Mrs. W. O. Miller vs. Miller was heard. Miller was charged with stealing a cat. The defense was that Mrs. W. O. Miller had the cat killed and then charged Miller with stealing it. The plaintiff asked $200 for the cat, and $280 exemplary damages. The jury brought in a verdict for the defendant. Moots was on the bench. Smith and Erickson were attorneys for plaintiff, and Buchman attorneys for defendant.

Baccalaureate.

A large and appreciative audience greeted President Calvin, who spoke on the subject of "Walks About Iowa City." The subject was unusually interesting to the average listener, on account of its freedom from the technicalities which usually characterize their papers read before this society.

The audience was taken back to the most remote times, and led step by step through the ages to the present time. The scene of each age was located in the vicinity of Iowa City. Mention was made of the fossils and other tracts, which characterize each age, that are to be found near this city.

After this portion of our continent had been told several times by the sea, and with each flood a consequent new layer of sediment; after countless streams of upheaval and sinkings, a vast ice sheet covered this part of the continent. This ice passing away left a level country covered with a layer of drift. Then the second drift, the Kansas, covered this continent, bringing up old river valleys and hills. After that glacier passed away, a part of at least fifty times as long as the period since our last glacial epoch, took place, before the next glacier came. This was accounted for by the fact that deep erosions had taken place. Instead of level plains, there were hugh hills and deep precipitous valleys.

The next glacial drift, the Iowa, did not quite reach the site of Iowa City. At the same time the old Kansas drift area was covered by a fine clay, called loess.

Then the age of mammals was passed through, and on revealing the age of man the confines of geology had been reached. The mound builders were among the first inhabitants here, and they left evidence of their presence principally north of town.

Notice.

Junior class social at Society hall Monday (Wednesday) evening. Every Junior is requested to be present.

COMMITTEE.

Coom and Grinnell will hold their intercollegiate debate at Grinnell, March 17th.

Only eight orations were handed in for the preliminary oratorical contest at Northwestern.
