IRVING WINS.

The Sophomore representatives of Irving Institute and of the Zetagabith Society met in a battle royal at the Society Halls. The contest was a sharp one, clean and honest throughout, and the debaters, individual and collective, have acquitted themselves with credit. The question under discussion was as follows: Resolved, that two legal, and not necessarily moral, tenets are necessary to a Just transaction, should be redeemed and canceled, was a technical one. The course of reading requisite for the knowledge of it was extensive, yet several arguments in favor of labor and payment research had placed the Sophomores in a position to discuss it not only intelligently, but verily much to the point.

The winning team, composed of Frank Gow and H. F. Mori, went it to the affirmative, with Druckenmor and H. F. Mori, with the conclusion of Mr. Major, who contended for the contrary.

The order of events were as follows:

First heat-McCutcheon, Dye, Wilson, Barber. 100 yard dash-Frank, Dye, Anthony, Hanley. Tie for second.-Metcutcheon, Dye, Schor- der, Smith. Third heat-Metts, Hanley, Meg- gar, Cali. Mile run-Bruck, Barner, At- thony, Smith, Wilson, Jergensen. 350 yard hurdles-Williams, Trapp, Brandt, Bal- lett, Balle. The grand final to be held tomorrow evening, the starting point of this audience will be as follows:

Newark Sports.-100 yard dash-Preliminary:
First heat-Smith, Chase, Schroeder, Davis. Second heat-Metts, McCutcheon, Dye, Morton. Mile walk-Williams, Bulley, Brack- ett. High hurdles-Calf, Dye, Anthony, Hanley. 400 yard hurdles-Preliminary:
The Business Managers, Binslter, Hinkle, and McCollum, are men of experience in financial matters, and will conduct the Annual in the same happy manner that has characterized their previous performances.

The class of 1903 expects to issue an Annual that will make a mark of its own, that will long remain a guiding star for future classes. Issued in the Centenary year, it will constitute the wisdom that is of the past, and the dash and pleasure that is of the future.

To do all of this requires money. We feel sure that the students and friends of the University will not handicap these bright young--yes, and beautiful--editors who have undertaken to produce a record of University life that shall do old Iowa proud. Every student is expected to do his duty. To remind him of this, the Hawkeye Board have prepared slips of paper, promises to take the books at the subscription price, where they are issued. Sign your name and pay your money--next year. That's easy, and particular, and the proper thing.

Co. E's Third Annual Ball

The third annual military ball of Co. E was given Tuesday evening, the fiftieth anniversary of the day on which the Iowa National Guard was called into the service of Uncle Sam.

The assembly was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Japanese umbrellas were suspended from the ceiling, and from those umbrellas to every projector point in the hall, brilliant red, white and blue streamers were artistically draped. Twenty-six hundred and four yards of bunting were utilized in the decoration.

At nine o'clock the company was assembled under arms. Captain Cherry, then stepped forward, and in a truly stirring speech, presented the flag to the new Co. J. The color guard, composed of private Allin and McCull, then escorted the color sergeant with the flag to the proper place in the company. The buglers sounded "to the colors." The ceremony was very imposing and nicely executed.

After the flag presentation ceremony the program was carried out as announced. About fifty couples participated in the Grand March. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing. All were united in pronouncing the affair a distinct success.

The guests of honor were Major Kramer, Capt., E. F. T. Cherry, Lieut. Leigh A. Stockey, and Lieut. Bayard P. Thornewbury.

The committee on arrangement was Wm. Schooley, Chairman, Chas. Startsman, Leslie Switzer, and John R. Gardner.
