INAGURATION OF IOWA'S PRESIDENT.

GEORGE E. MACLEAN FORMALLY Installed as PRESIDENT of the UNIVERSITY.

Makes an Excellent Inaugural Address and is Politely Congratulated by Chancellor McClain, Judges Remley and President Northrop, Harper, King and Bovay.

George E. MacLean was formerly installed as President of the University of Iowa, on the front of the Central Building, at two o'clock, yesterday afternoon. The ceremony, short but impressive, was witnessed by 5,000 people, students, alumni, and friends of the University.

The academic parade formed at Close Hall at 1:30 P. M. The Cadet Band, preceded and followed by the faculty, and the University. At the head of the procession went the central steps they had and separated ranks to either side of the central walk. Then up through the blue ranks of cadets in attention and students, professors paid the honored personalities of the day, the President and Ex-President, the visiting Presidents, the Deans of Departments, and the Board of Regents.

The fifteen hundred students of the University were all there, and cheered and applauded as the presidents came up the walk. The University yells and the class yells of all kinds and descriptions, from the noisy Junior Law yells to the weak Freshmen yells that was hardly heard at all, greeting and joy were sung for the new man and era in Iowa's history.

The audience appreciated President Northrop's remark about the cold weather: "it was cold and the wind was wintry, but a surprising large number stood to sing 'Amos' at the end of the song. Among these were President MacLean's mother, who came from New York to see the inauguration of her gifted son.

After music by the Cadet band, Governor George E. MacLean, elected President of the University of Iowa and in testimony of your election I place in your hands the key of the safe, and I also deliver to you a copy of the Holy Bible as the only efficient and infallible ties of this institution as one collective body.

The youth of the state that will gather here for instruction will very largely come from Christian homes and it should be a matter of extreme concern to you that they be retained strong and well equipped intellectually, with physical vigor, with their morals in no means unbridled and that their faith in the religion which they have learned at their mother's knee shall not be weakened. If you do this, your entrance into the hearts of the people of Iowa will be an easy path and their affections and prayers will go far to make the burdens of your responsible position lighter.

President MacLean said in response: "Your Excellency, I accept this office with a sense of the responsibilities pertaining to it, looking upon the key not so as a symbol of authority and ambition. By it is also symbolized the endeavor of my colleagues of the faculty to open the store house of learning to the thousands of this state. The Bible has been the rule of my life and I pledge you that by all honorable means I shall stand in that board religious sense of humanity."

President MacLean then bowed to the Governor. The Governor said, "Ladies and Gentlemen, It is now my great pleasure to introduce to you George E. MacLean, LL. D., President of the State University of Iowa."

Amid great cheering, President MacLean bowed to the audience and began his inaugural address, the full text of which is given on another page.

The series of congratulatory addresses, accomplishing more for Athletics than any other event that has taken place for a long time. The mere sight of men who once made Gold prominent on the gridiron, coming back voluntarily and without any training to give the team practice aroused much enthusiasm among the members of the team as well as on the side lines.

Immuninatural notables were present, the governor, regents and many college presidents.

The game was an interesting one notwithstanding the one-sided score. Steve Colan demanded before the game that the best men on the "Varsity should be picked against them so as to accommodate him the line up was changed in the second half so that everyone might be given a chance."

The game. Alumni won the toss and chose the north goal. Warner kicked off. He made 4 and Colan kicked it up. Alumni advanced the ball 5 yards. Then not being able to go further the Alumni punted. The punt was kicked by William. Edson gained 3 yards through center. Gardner secured ball on a punt. Colan made 2 yards through right center, then another yard and then a field goal was kicked from the 24 yard. "Varsity's ball. Hoover on second down was sent around the right end for a touchdown. Warden then kicked off."

Heitzed kicked off for Alumni to Ely who after advancing ball 15 yards was tackled by Walker. He made 2 and Ely also advanced 2 more. Hoover went through center for a and Ely then advanced 15 yards. Ely then made 5 and Ely made 4 more. Hoover went through center for a and Ely advanced right end for 5. After him came Warner for 3 more. Ely by this time was rested as rotated around the left end for 4. Hoover made 15 around the right end and would have made a touchdown had it not been for the good tackle of Boze. The guards then picked up the ball and made 1 and 1 yard respectively. Meggers plunged through the center but was stopped by Alumni who secured the ball. The ball was there on the Alumni's 2 yard line, Litig was forced to punt, caught by Meggers who was tackled after a slight gain, Hoover made 20 yards around the end but ball was returned for outside and given to Alumni. Gardner was tackled for a loss by Warner. Elliot went through the center for 3 yards. Alumni again attempted to punt but the pass was too high and the ball rolled over the 10 yard line. It was fumbled off for a touchdown. Warner kicked.

Elliott kicked off for Alumni. Caught by Meggers who made 5 yards and went around the end for 15 yards and Ely also made 5. Hoover was stopped by Colan after a slight gain. Hoover made 20 yards around the end. In attempting to duplicate his performance, he lost the ball after a gain of 3 yards. Alumni's ball. Colan's ball was kicked by Warner for a loss. Litig went through center for no gain. Litig's punt was blocked and the ball again rolled over the line, this time Warner receiving credit for the touchdown. Warner also kicked goal. Score at end of first half 13-7.

Second half. Elliott kicked off to Clyde Williams who made 20 yards before downed. Monty kicked off the ball and Colan followed the ball 3 yards around right end stepped by a good tackle by Morton. Elliott kicked off the ball and Colan followed the ball 3 yards around the left end. - Then Rank tried it but was tackled for a gain of 8 yards. Alumni's ball. Colan's ball was kicked by Warner for a loss. Litig went through center for no gain. Litig's punt was blocked and the ball again rolled over the line, this time Warner receiving credit for the touchdown. Warner also kicked goal. Score at end of first half 13-7.

The Selection of President MacLean.

We commend the Board of Regents for the united patience and the wisdom exhibited by them in the selection of a successor to the President of our University. It is no easy matter to choose a University President. Any one of the eleven members of the Board will corroborate that statement. The position had scarcely been made vacant by the death of Dr. Schaefer when applications and recommendations began to come in, in scores. Some of these recommendations came from personal friends of members of the Board. Mac, indeed most of the came from prominent men of all sections of the state and nation. It was no light matter for the State University to attempt to get through last year without a President. The Acting-President wisely decided to assume any unavoidable steps that might in any way tend to embarrass his possible successor. Nevertheless, despite the pressure brought to bear upon them, the Regents proceeded quietly and carefully to the work in hand. Correspondence was opened with the most prominent educators both East and West and it was tactfully agreed to wait until they found the man for the place and then to elect him to the position without regard to place of residence or any exterior circumstances of the kind.

The students, faculties, and friends of the University, awaited the issue in patience.

It is well known that Nebraska's Chancellor, George R. MacLean, had been in the minds of several of the members of the Board as a man eminently qualified for the position. It may be said that one point in his favor was that the position was in no way sought by him. In that, the Board, after careful investigation of the claims of each one of their consideration, agreed, by a unanimous vote, that Dr. MacLean should be called to the chair. That their judgment was well grounded and their confidence discreetly placed, is made apparent by the favorable impression President Mac Lean has already made and by the ability he displays.

S. U. L. is fortunate in the possession of a president, who is just in the person of every student and the general associate on the faculties of her instructional staff a man who has the ability to represent the best that is in our University to the world.

THE ALUMNI GAME.

This time made 15 yards. Macy made another good punt to Hotel that was downed on the seventy-yard line by Hoover. Colbern made 3 yards though the center. Elliott was tackled by Hoover for a few yards gain. Colbern was tackled by Benchlechow for no gain. Vanity's ball Macy gained 6 yards. Morton and Wil Wand went through the left side for a touch down. Hoover kicked goal. Score 5-0.

GEORGE E. MACLEAN FORMALLY INSTALLS THE UNIVERSITY.

In the early infancy of the state this university was erected for the character and advancing the intelligence of the people. A great spirit was put into it to be built in a day. Years usually pass before many great institutions must muzzle before they complete their education in the school of experience, and are fitted to exert their full influence. The alumni have passed through the crucial tests of two wars. Sufficient time has elapsed to determine whether or not the founders of the university acted wisely in so doing.

The only return the state can hope to make for the cost incurred is in half of the university is the influence of its graduates. The importance of the character and of the alumni is particularly to the University that has adopted the proud and appropriate name of the Alumni, of the University of Iowa.

There is no position within our commonwealth with such discriminating judgement, as much ability in as many departments and such delicate tact, as the presidency of this university. This is the stepping stone of those who have no close contact with the practical problems of life, but fully apply that there is a more arduous and more important responsibility placed upon the president of a great university than the mere care of material growth and the routine of official duty. Nineteen hundred men and women, coming from the best homes in our fair land, deprived of the watchful solicitude of father and mother at the formative period of life, when those of the alumni who have been in the university were established.

The patriotism of the pioneers had been tried by their conflict in '34 with black sheep. The Iowa Nitneen and all its allies celebrated their victory and magnanimy which later prolonged who could have won from the Indian. The interpretation of the way and the quiet exaltation to the honorable council by the territorial legislature, brings home to the university that has adopted the solemnest and the patriots of the university. It has been the same spirit which has pervaded all the many little colonies to gain this promised land. It is all the more fitting that the president be given this trust, for our Commonweal of the New Eng.

The practicality of the people is the pre-eminence of intellectual, scientific, and artistic institutions. No one loved him and endorsed his name. Every communication between them proved my fitness for the position to be a common name of the many and strong higher truths placed on him from the Indian. The music of the Andover Band of eleven young gentile was registered by the presence of the founders of the great republic of letters. Let us in all our little red school circles, if it were of the SandWich University.

We are hopeful and confident of our chances, the proud and appropriate name of the Alumni of the University of Iowa.

The patriotism of the pioneers has had in it the spirit of truth and the spirt of right, in a word, the pride of the country. If he had asked the chief mourner to take part in the ceremonies at the University of Iowa, I would have joy to you was to arrive at us. Restore it in its beauty and grandeur, and when its broken columns and its fallen torches have passed away from usefulness and duty, the noble, honored, teacher, and beloved president of the University of Iowa. President Northrop's address was greatly appreciated and much appreciated and much appreciated by the students of Iowa's new head under his training for some time and knew well his capacities. No one loved him and endorsed his name. The patriotism of the pioneers had been tried by their conflict in '34 with black sheep. The Iowa Nineteen and all its allies celebrated their victory and magnanimity which later prolonged who could have won from the Indian. Inauguration of Iowa's President.

An earlier part of the story.

Iowa.

The era of Iowa entered upon the stage of history in the second decade of our Christian era. Iowa, the "new frontier," attracted the early settlers. The land was rich, the climate favorable, and the soil productive. The first settlers arrived in 1836, and by 1840, the population had increased to 40,000. During the following years, the population continued to grow, reaching 100,000 in 1850.

In 1846, Iowa became a state, and shortly thereafter, the first university in the state was established. The University of Iowa was founded in 1852, and has since become one of the leading institutions of higher education in the Midwest.

The university has a long and distinguished history, marked by notable alumni and contributions to various fields of knowledge. It has played a significant role in the development of Iowa and the nation, and continues to be a center of excellence in education and research.

THE STUDENTS QUIZ BOOKS

Designed for the use of students of law, whether studying in an office or in a law school.

They place in the hands of students the work actually required in the chief branches of law.

They arrange in a systematic order the questions, with their answers, required for admission to the bar of any state, and by any law school in the United States.

They give the student, in small space, the fundamental parts of the classics and chief text books of the law indicated below, in the shape most useful to him.

No. 1. Blackstone (Cooley).

II. Contract (Anson).

III. Common Law Pleading and Practice (Blackstone, United States and England).

IV. Equity Pleading and Practice (Dallien, Story, Tyler's Mistaken).

V. Agency (Mecham).

VI. Partnership (Eaton, Laddely, Parsons).

VII. Personal Property (Benjamin, Schoolderman).

VIII. Bills and Notes, Bills of Exchange, Bank-notes, (Pleasants, Schoolderman, Story).

IX. Evidence (Story).

X. Domestic Relations (Brown, Story).

CALLAGHAN & COMPANY, 114 MONROE STREET, CHICAGO.

Important Announcement.

WE HAVE NOW READY, A NEW EDITION OF COOLEY'S BLACKSTONE,

The principal objects sought in this Edition, are to render more easy the task of the Student of Law, and to exhibit clearly the relation of Blackstone's Commentaries to the subject of Jurisprudence in General, and to American Law in particular.

TO THIS END FIVE METHODS ARE RESORTED TO.

FIRST. Mechanical aids by improved form and type.

SECOND. Placing with the text and notes the translation of Latin phrases used therein.

THIRD. The use of Block Letter Headings and Italicised Sub-headings.

FOURTH. Directing attention in the Notes to the different sense in which common and apparently familiar words were used by the author from the meaning of the same words in our vernacular.

FIFTH. Directing attention to the strictly Fundamental Principles, either of Jurisprudence, properly so-called, or of the theory of Government, or of a given subject of the Law of Property, or private relations—and marking the precise point of departure in principle and the line or lines of divergence in the rules flowing from these principles.

Judge Cooley's notes and additional matter are preserved intact.

New notes and late citations [which are indicated by brackets] are added.

We are setting for students and law schools Ten copies of Cooley's Blackstone's to one of all other editions of Blackstone.

CINNEY'S LAW DICTIONARY AND GLOSSARY.

Defines more words than any other Law Dictionary Published, and is the Most Complete Glossary on the Market.

Each word appears in its own proper place, instead of subordinate to some other word of which it may be a variation, the obvious being that the searcher is not presumed to know that one word is a variation of another. That is why he consults a Dictionary.

Phrases are set under the words with which they begin.

Those deficient or rusty in their Latin, or who find difficulty in translating the Latin found in Law Books, on account of its being corrupted by the Norman French idiom often found in Law Books, will find Kinney's Law Dictionary and Glossary a valuable assistant.
