OLD GOLD AT PAR.

Chicago University Held To A Tie Game Score 5-5

They Score On A Place Kick. We Make A Touch Down.

The Iowa players met the Chicago team on Marshall Field this afternoon, and although the score at the end of the battle stood a draw yet the laurels rest with the Iowa team for the one touch down of the game was made by a wearer of Old Gold. Chicago received her total by a lucky place kick. Staggs warriors could not cross our goal, but our men were able to invade their sacred territory. Our defensive work was superb. We held them for downs several times and once when they had the ball within six yards of our goal. The Iowa backs made some good gains around the end and Griffith went through the line several times for large gains.

Iowa kicked off to Chicago's 25 yard line and for fifteen minutes the ball passed from one side to another, first in Chicago territory and then on Iowa's side, until Chicago was within long kicking distance of our goal on the third down. Their field captain gave the signal for a place kick. Sheldon held the ball on the ground and Henry sent it twirling between our goal posts. It was a fine kick and credited Chicago with 5 points.

Iowa kicked off to Chicago's 25 yard

Walter Eugene Hutchison.
Walter Eugene Hutchison of Lake City, Iowa, died in the reserve hospital at Manila, Philippine Islands, August 8, 1899, while a member of Co. A. 51st Iowa Volunteers in service in the field. Eugene was born in Lake City, Iowa, June 17, 1877. He entered the University of Iowa in 1895. The following year he remained at home on account of his health, but in 1897 he returned to the University and would have graduated with the present senior class.

He enlisted in Co. A., 51st Iowa Volunteers in April, 1898. He said to his mother when he learned that he was accepted for service, "Mother, I am the happiest boy in Iowa tonight." His regiment arrived in Manila Bay, December 7th, 1898, and at once went into active work.

From April 1st, to June 13th he was on three expeditions and took part in three battles and four fights. The swamp skirmishing and hard fighting wore on Eugene's health and he was twice sent to the hospital. He was so ambitious to be on duty that he left the hospital when he ought not, and at last his strength gave out. He died on August 8th, 1899.

On his sick bed, being commended for his bravery in the campaign, he said: I have not been so brave, I have only done my duty." He bore the burden of his work line. They made a few short gains but we soon held them for downs. Our boys then started out with a determination to score. After a few short gains through the line, Morton went around the end for 20 yards profit. Edson followed this by circling the other extreme for 15 yards. Griffith was then shoved over for a touch down. We attempted to kick out for position to try goal, but failed to "heel the catch."—End of first half score 5-5.

During the last half neither side scored and at the close of the game we held the ball on their 40 yard line.

After the news of the final score was known in Iowa City, the students marched up and down Clinton street shouting the University yells and circling around bonfires built in honor of what all called Iowa's moral victory.

patiently. The chaplain's wife said, "he never uttered a word of complaint, and we heard so many."

Judge Advocate John A. Hull wrote to his father, "Gene sank peacefully to rest after having done his duty fully, bravely, and with a spirit which will live in the memories of those who were with him. Your son was a man whom it was an honor to know, and the country has suffered a loss which may never be compensated by anything from these islands."

F. W. Beckman, C. '96, sent this tribute to his memory: "Though life had all of the charms for him that it can have for a young man, he gave it up without flinching and as a part of the sacrifice necessary to maintain the flag he helped to defend. Though he had lived his full three score years and ten he could not have done a grander thing. In all the category of the great deeds of men from the time the foundations of the world were laid, not one is greater than to give up life for duty. Though in his early death Eugene Hutchison lost the possibility of future earthly successes, yet therein he won the greatest success that can come to man."

The remains were buried at Lake City, Iowa, September 15th, 1899. Eight members of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity chapter at Iowa City, of which the deceased was a member, were present and the ceremonies at the grave were according to the impressive burial ritual of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

CHARLES A. SCHAEFFER.

MEMORIAL APPRECIATIONS OF HIS LIFE AND WORK PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITY FACULTIES.

The faculties of the Universities of Iowa have collected the expressions of sorrow at the death of President Schaeffer, adopted by faculties, organizations and students, and have published them in a neat memorial booklet entitled, "In Memoriam." Appreciations of the life and work of Charles Ashmead Schaeffer, late President of the University of Iowa."

The book is printed in a most tasteful manner by the Dial Press, Chicago, 1899. The type used is large Old English and the thirty-two pages are printed on the best of paper. From the standpoint of the printer's art the book is much the finest ever issued by the University.

"Charles Ashmead Schaeffer, born August 14, 1843. Inaugurated President of the State University of Iowa, June 22, 1887. Died September 23, 1898. Compiled by authority of the University Faculties" is the formal dedication of the work.

The contents of the book are, the resolutions adopted by the Faculty of Cornell University; resolutions adopted by a special committee of the Board of Regents of the University; resolutions adopted by the Faculty of the Collegiate department; resolutions adopted by the Faculty of the Law department; resolutions adopted by the Faculty of the Medical department; letter addressed to Mrs. Schaeffer, by the Faculty of the Homeopathic College; resolutions adopted by the Faculty of the Pharmacy department; resolutions adopted by Faculty and students of Highland Park College; resolutions adopted by the State Board of Educational Examiners; expression of the Iowa State Teachers' Association; Memorial adopted by the Baconian Club of Iowa City; resolutions adopted by the students of the Law department; and the resolutions adopted by the students of the Homeopathic Medical department.

The edition of the book is limited to some sixty copies. In addition to this edition, a presentation copy has been made of Levant binding, dark brown in color with a narrow and delicate gilt tooling around the edges. This copy will be presented to the family of Dr. Schaeffer. It will constitute one of the heirlooms of the family for some time to come for the memory of a good man lives long upon the earth.

Cupid Enters the Law Dep't.

R. L. Reiley, L. '00, was married to Miss Mildred Crouch, at DeWitt, Iowa, last Wednesday and arrived in the city yesterday with his bride. The boys of the Law department gave him a jubilant welcome in which a stately wagon profusely decorated with law signs and placards and drawn through Clinton street by four frisky mules at the hour of noon figured prominently. This was all in good humor and is only one of the ways which the law boys have of showing their good feeling to Mr. and Mrs. Reiley.

The especial features of the program were the debate and the music. The former was conducted with much vigor, the affirmative holding that this matter should be regulated by natural and not artificial laws, the negative that self-preservation compels us to have and enforce stringent immigration laws; the Senate, however stood in favor of further restriction. The latter feature was made noteworthy not only by Mr. Soesbe's well rendered instrumental solo, but especially by Mr. Johnson's vocal solo which highly pleased and amused the audience.

An Apology.

"We owe an apology to the S. U. I. football team for the notice of their game with the Normal College in last week's exchange column (the score was expressed as—to o—Ed.) The amount of the S. U. I. score indicated does not express our estimation of the Iowa team. We were not sure of the exact score when the notice was written and left the space blank, to be filled when the proof was read. This was done, but the printer failed to make the correction in going over the proof."—Ames Student.

We would suggest, for the edification of the Student, that the score was 22-0.

The Regents and the Legislature.

The Board of Regents at its last meeting decided to ask the Legislature for a one-tenth mill building levy similar to the present levy for building purposes, to take effect at the expiration of that levy in 1901, and to continue for five years. An immediate purpose of this levy is the building of an assembly hall, which shall serve as an armory, gymnasium, chapel, and convocation hall. After this building is provided for from the proceeds of the levy, other buildings will be built, the projected museum and library building being one whose necessity has been felt next to the demands of the assembly hall.

Another decisive action of the Board asked for an increase of $100,000 for the university's next biennial period. President MacLean in a detailed report showed very clearly the absolute need of this increase. In fact it is becoming generally recognized throughout the state that the University has not been supported as it should be, in keeping with its dignity, position, and opportunity as a state university. Iowa has all along been handicapped in its instructional staff from the fact that it has not been able to give the necessary increase in salary to keep instructors of the rising stamp on her faculties. Last summer one of the best instructors the University ever had, Mr. George Cram Cook, resigned because the salary was inadequate to his position. Regret at the loss of Mr. Cook was as sincere on the part of the regents as among the students, but the board absolutely did not have the money to raise the salary. And as we glance at the faculties of the University it is too true that nearly all the salaries received are not what they ought to be. While this is true, yet the many professors who do remain despite inadequate compensation are a source of credit to the individuals and of debt to the University not current in mere coin.

The increase in appropriations will remedy this in part and at the same time, increase the sphere of the University's influence in several directions, such as better library and laboratory facilities, additional instructors and larger courses.

The board also made three splendid appointments of instructors—Dr. J. B. Kessler, and Dr. J. W. Ristine, to positions in the Medical department, and Dr. A. A. Knipe to be assistant instructor in charge of athletics. While the last appointment might have been made a full instructorship at least, it is possible that the board preferred to wait until a salary commensurate with a chair or instructorship could be given before making such appointment.

Ladies' Physical Director.

The Y. W. C. A. has engaged Miss Leyde, of Cedar Rapids, one of the most successful woman physical directors of the state, to take charge of the women's classes in the gymnasium. The first class will meet on next Wednesday afternoon and will start out with a membership of forty. The Christian Association are congratulating themselves on securing Miss Leyde, as the directors of the Cedar Rapids gymnasium for some time absolutely refused to part with Miss Lyde for the two periods, Wednesday afternoon and Saturday morning, which the Iowa City parties desired.

Collegiate Rules on Absences.

The following rules on absences from classes and from the city were adopted by the Collegiate faculty at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The rule on absences from the city is simply a re-statement of a rule that has been in force for some time.

Resolved: 1st. That all professors and instructors be requested to keep full records of absences but that the practice of submitting weekly reports to the Dean be suspended.

2nd. That any student receiving marks for absences, aggregating one week's attendance upon any class shall be reported to the professor in charge of the department. If, after due warning the student shall be persistently absent such an extent as to interfere seriously with his class work, the professor may at his discretion recommend to the President that he be withdrawn from the class in question.

3rd. That no student shall be permitted to leave town during his connection with the University except by consent of the President or the Dean.
