President MacLean at Des Moines.

This was University day in the Capitol of Iowa. A committee of alumni consisting of ex-Grant J. Henry, a former President of Drake University, Dr. Frank D. Jackson, J. F. Hiatt, Cha L. Powell, C. A. Pitch- blis, W. O. Fink, H. S. Hollingsworth, J. R. Weaver, J. R. Alice Humphreys, Dr. H. S. Hollingsworth, D. R. Campbell, Dr. Alice Humphreys, Dr. H. S. Hollingsworth, and other alumni present to greet President MacLean and pledge with the alumni their support and co-operation at the highest educational level in the University. Dr. MacLean has done the University great good by his visit to Des Moines and has sent the heartiest congratulations to the city. He is the guest of honor at the Grant Library, and entertained President MacLean at the Grand Hotel. A committee of alumni will meet President MacLean at the Rock Island station at 11:40 A. M., and accorded him a hearty welcome to the city. After this enthusiastic greeting Governor Craig of Drake University took Dr. MacLean home to luncheon.

Hiatt met President MacLean at the Hotel Des Moines.

President MacLean came to Drake University for the first time in 1891. Since then he has held high positions in the University, and has been a constant and faithful defender of the institution. President MacLean is the guest of honor at the Grant Library, and entertained President MacLean at the Grand Hotel.

Dean Judson of Chicago to the Y. M. and T. W. C. A.

There was a large audience of the Congregational Church, who gathered about Hon. Jacob Judson of Chicago University, who spoke on "A监测 Consecration." He said that God was omnipotent, and knew all things in advance. For knowledge is an integral part of our nature. The order of the universe is fixed by omnipotence, and the order of the universe is fixed by the immutable laws of the universe. However, he had learned one great lesson, that whatever he undertook must be never stirred but always did well. In his first year he was admitted to the bar of Venice. He had a small office for the summer in St. Mark's square, but no client came for two years. All this time he was in deep study of American institutions and the character of the people. Indeed, from the grand speech of Patrick Henry he took his life's motto, "Saw me little liberty or give me death," and it was after reading his life that he returned to Italy. He organized the fight against the Austrian and in 1835 his life was thrown away. But Austria regained her hold. Later in the Congress of Sciences that met at Venice, Daniel Mann uttering the terrible words, "All Venice is to be free," for this he was imprisoned.

The Ames Team.

The Ames team was given the reception by the student body that should be ac­corded every athletic team that visits us.

Dr. Kipke spoke truly at the mass meet­ting when he said that a visiting team was usually very lucky. The students for once showed a commendable disposition to entertain visitors. We hope the Grinnell and Simpson teams may be received in like spirit. As for the Ames boys, they are fine fellows; they play good football; and we await their return with pleasure.

The Game.

The game—revealed to Iowa critics that our team is a good team and that we are able to handle football indeed. The severe strain of a long hard season is beginning to tell on the men. Several of these men are real All-Stars, and it was with reluctance the opportunity, Nebraska has made a re­cord of failures this year that leads to the conclusion that the one who was two-four­teen unless she takes an unexpected brace such as she often does take in her big game with our team. As for the Ames team, they play good football. They are, however inferior, both in weight and in playing ability to the S. U. I. team. Only a series of unfortunate fumbles at critical moments kept the score from mounting much higher. Despite the sagged playing the spectators,—the maj­ority of them enjoyed the game. Per­haps the entertainment was due partly to the fact that the drawing were in the lead.

The Attendance.

The attendance Friday was good. The largest crowd was on the ground that ever witnessed an athletic event in Iowa City. As it has become evident the weather would be favorable for foot­ball, the students bought their 50 ticket­lets necessary to secure the holiday. While many of the stores failed to close, most clerks and employees so desiring were permitted to attend the game. The students and the general public have shown a decided increase of interest in the team and the game, as is indicated by the attendance at the Rush and Ames games.

The New Spirit.

Perhaps the one fact, more than any other, that was emphasized at the mass meeting last Thursday evening, was the new spirit of youthfulness and friendliness shown towards visiting teams. The league­gardians "we will now do the Iowa boys and stick them up along the side-lines" of four years ago is replaced today by the usual statement of the opposing teams' records.

The crowd from the side-lines of "run up, kill 'em" are seldom heard, but the "He-rail! He-rail! Play ball Iowa," mingled with the "Am-es! Rah! Rah! Rah! Am-es! Rah! Rah! Rah!
