KNOX IS EASILY BEATEN

Iowa Team Shuts out the Galena Eleven.

Iowa 33, Knox 0.

Knox College received her most crushing defeat of the season Saturday at the hands of the undefeated Iowa University team. The score does not reflect the true quality of the football by any means. The contest was really an exhibition of high grade college football.

The heavy line of the Knox team was scarcely ever hit for considerable gain, Iowa relied upon her famous end runs and foreseeables, and usually profited by the break, on the other hand, gained frequently through our center. Her light backs exhausted the line admirably.

The defense of Iowa was not up to her standard. The center was too frequently hit, duties of the ends were taken away from them, and Iowa relied upon her famous end runs and foreseeables, and usually profited by the break, on the other hand, gained frequently through our center. Her light backs exhausted the line admirably.

The Knox game again illustrates the superiority of team play and the advantage that the better team has over the inferior team in running the football. All the duals on the team, have for each other, that the final struggle on Thanksgiving day will be at least creditable.

Captain Eby's Statement.

Iowa defeated Knox much easier than was generally thought she would be able to do. This was not due to the fact that Iowa played better ball than usual, but that Knox was not up to her usual standard of play.

Knox's line at times however, proved a "tough proposition" and end runs were the only remedy.

Iowa was much stronger at ends and at the time was Knox able to gain at that position.

The team is in fairly good condition with the exception of Griffith who has a bad shoulder and is not in good form.

Iowa Second Team; Coe 5.

The game at Cedar Rapids Saturday afternoon was not a surpiise to those who know Coach Ingham. He is starting into consideration the fact that our players had received news of Stephenson's death a day before our game.

Iowa's 3 yard line. Then Coe tackled our ball for a loss of 10, Iowa punted and Coe got the ball. She missed it from yards and punted. Iowa carried the ball to her 25 yard line when time was called.

The next line-up may be as a week later.

The Freshmen Banquet.

Within the last few years the Freshman Banquets have not occurred until the winter term. Circumstances seem to point to a repetition of the fact this year, but we sincerely hope that such will not be the case.

The object of the Freshman Banquet is to bring together the members of the class that they may know each other; that they may assume class spirit and get some unity of feeling and purpose. This banquet serves to develop the social side of the class. It promotes better acquaintance and closer friendship of each individual with each other. It is the first representative gathering of the class.

It behooves the Freshmen to be up and doing if they wish the object of the Banquet to be accomplished. They have all ready held a social and the formalities of acquaintances are over.

They have been in the University long enough to become thoroughly settled in their work.

While the class is yet uncapital by social or literary lines into cliques and class; while the idea of "we're in 1906" is yet prevalent; and before the other class parties are yet determined upon, the Freshmen should hold their banquet.

Board of Control Meeting.

The Board of Control held its meeting last evening in Professor Smith's room. A motion was made and carried that no other games be played this season unless another team on our home ground. Professor Smith and George Rigan President of the Athletic Union, were elected a committee to arrange for a mass meeting next week. They were also chosen as a committee to secure a special train to go to Des Moines for the football game on Thanksgiving. It is the wish of the committee to get 500 people to go on a train leaving here at 9 o'clock on the morning of the game.

H. W. Ross, Local Secretary of Y. M. C. A. 1906-07, afterward secretary at University of Michigan, now general secretary of the athletics of the west, will spend Tuesday with the local Y. M. C. A.
