Editor, Pantorium Club, City, Iowa, on second class matter.

We take pleasure in announcing the election of Miss Grace Lucas Ph. B. as Editor from the Pharmacy Department.

Oratory in Iowa.
With the close of the football season interest along literary lines revives and more time and attention are given to debating and oratory.
Iowa has always been strong in debating. Minnesota and Chicago have proven easy foes, and with last year Wisconsin became our opponent in an annual contest. Wisconsin has long had strong literary societies and we shall probably find her a worthy competitor.

Oratory in Iowa and on the other hand, has never amounted to much we have been in the Northern Oratorical League for eight years and have never gotten better than third place; usually we have had to content with last.

That is not because there is lack of talent among Iowa students, for Iowa men have come from the land and are equipped to speak the nation affords, but it is due to the fact that the interest in oratory is so small and still more largely to the fact that the University of Iowa has no chair of Oratory. The six other Universities represented in the N. O. A. have chairs of Oratory, and it is due not a little to this fact that they have been victorious over Iowa.

But it is time now that some large, hearty interest in oratory should be aroused. Every student who has any ability along that line or any inclination should join the association; should learn the requirements for competitors in the home contests and should go to work earnestly on his oration.

By the presence of a broad interest and by faithful work we may earn some recognition at the hands of the Board of Regents and may win a high place in the next contest, of the Northern Oratorical League.

The Future of Close Hall.
The officers of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. are conducting a most praiseworthy campaign for the lifting of the debt of floors which hangs upon Close Hall, the magnificent home of the Christian Associations. This debt arose from the excess of the actual cost of the building over the proposed cost, the deficiency in subscriptions to the building fund, and the deficiency in running expenses for the first few years, all of which had a debt of considerable proportions upon a building which the past generation of students thought they were to Utilize without a cost oozing upon it.

Secretary Follingham and his associates intend to raise the entire amount of this indebtedness by the end of June, 1909, if possible. They have already obtained a considerable number of subscriptions to this end and in the ensuing winter and spring will continue to solicit them until the entire amount needed is subscribed.

The debt upon Close Hall will then be lifted about the time that the University removes its class rooms from Close Hall to the new Collegiate Hall, an event which will be desired by both University and Associations, on account of the better accommodations which both will enjoy.

Close Hall will then be able to set aside several rooms which are needed for University life. A trophy room, wherein shall repose the cups, and championship banners won by our athletes, hang about by University flags and banners, and the pictures of winning teams upon the walls with an elegant table and chairs for the meeting of the Board of Control and Athletic Committees of all kinds, will be just the thing for the University of Iowa.

A nice committee room and class prayer meeting room is also a feature which the Associations hopes to fit up at the same time, the part which Close Hall plays in University life is already most important. The value and significance to Iowa's men and women in the days to come will be even greater.

Notice Juniors.
The editors of the Hawkeye have arranged to have Junior individual pictures in the hands of the electro-typers by the first of next week. Persons who have not yet had pictures taken will kindly send their names to give this their immediate consideration. THE EDITORS.

Thanksgiving Attraction.

"Han Hansen" is a strong four act comedy-drama with a probable and intimate plot. The situation is sincere and the comedy pure and clean. The company is headed by that popular comedian James J. McHepin, who has no superior as a distinct character comedian on the American stage to-day. Mr. McHepin is manager and original in his work and a sweet singer and toiler the worthy successor to those never to be forgotten geniuses N.J. Scanlan and J. H. Emmet. Reserve your seats early and spend the evening with "Han Hansen" at the Opera House Thanksgiving Night.
