AN INTERESTING GAME OF BASKET BALL AT CLOSE HALL SATURDAY

Altogether too small! A clever use the basketball game at Close Hall. Saturday between Wilton College and the cavalry. The game was interesting throughout and especially near the close when Wilton was in the lead. Those students who were there sustained the team well with their cheers, but the volume was too small. These games deserve a larger patronage, and everyone who will go will be well repaid.

During the first half honors were about even, but it was clearly evident that Wilton could, and would, do better in the second half. This half was opened with three baskets to the credit of Iowa and three baskets from the credit of Wilton. The first basket for Iowa was made by spectacular throw of C. Bailey, across the gymnasium, he also made one other basket, made the third. Hoffmann threw the baskets from the line for Wilton.

In the second half Wilson had still played on the defensive. Hoffmann, good work continued, while Griffith for Iowa did the best work. After about fifteen minutes of play Hoffman made a pretty basket which made the score Wilson 2, Iowa 0. Wilson now made another long throw resulting in a basket which tied the score. Then Kauth scored for Wilton followed by another basket by Kepp. Our team now made a standard long lay up throw in a basket ball that was worthy of its men. Griffith made two baskets, across the gymnasium, Java and Oelia. The baskets of the Iowa men were shortly before time was called C. Williams scored two. During the last five minutes the spectators were the good work of the team and the few there cheered and enjoyed this game.

The teams lined up as follows in order of right, left forwards, and right and left guards.

A very pleasing program

An audience of moderate size composed mostly of town people and a small sprinkling of students, listened to the fourth annual concert of the University Men’s Glee Club at the Open House last evening. Excursions from Love Tree and Riverside augmented the audience considerably.

The program was well rendered and showed to advantage the merit of the first of which the men have been undergoing for the past few months under the direction of their excellent leader, Mr. H. E. Goodsell. The harmony was good and the expression could not have been improved upon. The program however might have been improved by interpreting selecting collegiate songs, by the presence of a mandolin or banjo perhaps by a few specialties.

The solo by Mr. Bailey and Mr. Hall, the Gondola song by Mr. Hall and club, and the violin numbers by Mr. Goodsell were heartily received.

Seventy Hesitancy of P. B. Dodge has introduced a bill to protect the state title to twenty-five acres as was recommended by Governor Shaw in his last message. The title of the state to those 200 acres would place them in an enviable position in the University, or of the university and state agriculture colleges.

The Petition of Grievances

"The faculty of the law department has investigated the complaints preferred against the law librarians at the mass meeting of aggrieved and down-trodden students last Wednesday afternoon. It found no ground for such complaint. The grievances which last Wednesday startled the embattled juniors to facets of oratory that will for some time reverberate around the campus, the cause which a week ago was solemnly declared to be "the greatest that ever contemplated the mind of man," together with the petition rocking with ponderous words,—all seem to have caught the contagion of Longfellow's Arabian tales, when the faculty sat upon them.

The library has, of course, somewhat limited facilities and can hardly be set aside as yet supply law books on sight to every student applying for them. This is an improvement that will doubtless come with the new law building that could have been under process of completion by last Thursday did fervid oratory command the material appreciation which it deserves. Some confusion and mistaken doubts occur in the handling of the books by the many applicants and some measure of magnanimous forgiveness might perhaps be bestowed occasionally upon an official who many times in a day is called upon to do things more wonderful than the splitting of Gaul into three halves.

The law librarian has been of material assistance to the law students in which they may not fully realize. Law books are sold by him much cheaper than they can be obtained elsewhere. The book store in the city, we understand, have repeatedly refused to handle the books at the prices quoted by the librarian. This saving to students in the price of text-books that are costly at the best is one of the excellent services of this department of the University.

It is somewhat a matter of surprise to us that the monster petition of grievances should not have amounted to more than it did. Lawyers are the conserva-tive elements of our society and the members of the junior class earnestly look and talk a great deal like some lawyers we have seen. Being so constituted, there exists a very considerable presumption in favor of their being excellent judges of mountains and mole-hills, or that, at the least, they would be able to tell them apart. We are not acquainted with the curriculum of the department and it may be that we are expecting of the juniors a complete knowledge of a subject to which Chancellor McClain and the law class of '99 are as yet struggling painfully with the realizations.

The seniors of the department seem to have not a special or bowing wrongs to redress; most, at any rate, but what can be rectified at a private hearing with the chancellor of the department. They seem to have donated some of the conserva-tive energy in which their various commu-nalities will expect them to appear as soon as they flout their sheepskins on the public gaze. It will doubtless be a matter of congratulation to the chancel-lor of the department and his fellow-pro-fessors when the juniors shall likewise speak forth principially words of sober discernment.

Amusements

“A BREEZY TIME.”

Fitz and Webster in “A Breezy Time” will be the attraction at the Opera House Wednesday night. A flash, and a crash, a whirl and a snivel, an electric magnetic, systematic number of grotesque, macabre and pretty figures evoking a veritable flood of fresh, breezy acts and tunes, seduced audience with the dictated essence of parody and fun. That’s “A Breezy Time” to a dot. How the two clever com-pair, Miss Webster and Mr. Fitz ever succeeded in gathering such a quantity of clever materials and so many bright ideas for an evening entertainment is a pleasant surprise to the modest little theatre goer. No bitch or break wait or delay mars the continuous charge of action.
