UNIVERSITY OPENS

Prospects of a Large Enrollment—Registration Slow at First

The University opened with a rush Tuesday morning. All the colleges and departments were concentrated at Smith's Armory, the town center of students desiring to be wound and tied and wired and bound by the red tape which it is necessary to tack upon a citizen of the realm who desires to designate himself with the proud title of 'Student' at the University of Iowa.

The Y. M. C. A. had the first shy at the incoming students from the ticket seller's office at the entrance. There the freshman was piloted to the men's waiting rooms, where the University Examiner held high court upon his high school certificate. Then he was sent on a pilgrimage to the South Building on the campus where he wrote a beautiful essay on 'The Falling Leaves of Autumn, The Dampness of Rain, or some such subject to prove that he was perfectly acquainted with the English language in its heights and depths. Unless the means got mixed too much with the verbs, he was through in a couple of hours and free to return to Smith's Armory.

Here he was led into the main pens to make his way as best he might to the Jean's desk. If not distracted by the cackling and cooing of many voices and his eye for signs was good, he reached it sooner or later. Here he obtained his permit to register and gazed with awed eye at the stage where, raised high upon a chair of royal state, President MacLean sat and smiled on all around. Finding the classifier of his department and the professors and instructors under whom he wished to take studies profitably occupied another day or two. Seniors especially seemed to be interested in the Class Record book, zealously guarded by Miss Hughes. By diligence a schedule card was procured with the proper disbursing officer's signature attached. Then the aspirant for higher education lined up to pay his tuition. When through with this, he floated to the edges of the Great Sargossa Sea, surrounding the Registrar's desks where the direlicts of day before yesterday were plainly marked by facial lines and crumpled clothing. Progress here was slow though a dozen fast clerks wrote busily all day. Long rows of chairs were arranged for the comfort of those waiting and the best of spirit was manifest among them for was it not the last step in the Bureau of Circumlocution?

Five hundred students had been registered by the Registrar at the close of business Wednesday evening. Registering among the first were the medical students as the early bird there gets the choice of seats in the lecture rooms. The registration has now reached a rate of sixty per hour. It will take some time to take off the rush of students who desire to register. Mr Dorcas, the University Examiner, examined the credentials of 139 freshmen on Tuesday and Wednesday. A conservative estimate would put the total enrollment for the University at 1700, with over 200 in the freshman collegiate class.

Professor W. P. Reeves, who by his work at Iowa the past two years came to be regarded as one of the best teachers of advanced English, has an excellent position as Professor of English at Kenyon College, Ohio.

Dr. Percy L. Kaye is now Professor of History in Coe College—another of the advances which take the University's best instructors from her.

Cornell Tennis Challenge

The following challenge has been received from the Athletic Association of Cornell College:

MT. VERNON, IA., Sept. 10, '00.
Believing that the best interests in tennis in both our institutions are furthered by dual tournaments, Cornell hereby challenges Iowa to such a tournament to be held this fall at any place and on any date that may be agreed upon.

Trusting to hear from you soon,
I am yours very truly,

OTHO FERRIS,
Pres. Tennis Ass'n.

The University Battalion

The University battalion which was brought to such a fine condition last June by Major Holsteen is to be better than ever this year under the command of Major Harkness.

The new commandant was senior captain of the battalion last year and is an old national guard man equally versed in the theory and practice of military duty.

Drill and practice in military forms is prescribed by the board of regents for all students of the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes and for as many of the senior class as are required to officer the battalion line and staff. A fine spirit of pride and interest in the work of the military department was especially manifest last year and cannot but increase this year.

Promptly at 4:30 Monday afternoon Sergeant Major Brackett will order the battalion to fall in and the work of dividing the battalion into companies will be followed by the exhibition drills of the rookies and the drill masters on the campus.

It is expected that the cadets will appear in uniform as far as possible. By the end of a couple weeks the new men will be drilled sufficiently to form the companies and soon the sight of battalion dress parade and review will be seen on the campus.

FOOTBALL

Preliminary Practice at Linder's—Prospects Fair—More Candidates Needed—The Schedules

The football season will be formally opened here on Friday, September 28, on which occasion the new athletic field will be dedicated with the game with Upper Iowa University, of Fayette. Following this game at intervals of a week, will be those with the State Normal and the Simpson teams on our home grounds, as preparatory events to what will be one of the hardest games of the year, with Ames, on their field, October 19. The Drake game here October 26, may prove to be a heavier game than we should have just before the crucial struggles of the year with Chicago on Marshall Field and Michigan at Detroit on November 3rd and 10th. That these two games were scheduled within a week of each other is due to the fact that no other dates were available. The Grinnell game here following the long trip to Michigan will test the endurance of the team to the utmost. Then will come a breathing spell of twelve days, broken only by the struggle with the Alumni team, before the final game of the season with Northwestern at Rock Island on Thanksgiving day. That we do not meet Illinois this year is due to their inability to come here and to our inability to go to Champaign on the only dates available. A game was scheduled with Minnesota early in the spring, but a four-cornered conflict of dates between Minnesota, Ames, Grinnell, and ourselves, made it necessary that this game be abandoned. A game with Wisconsin was under contemplation but it developed that they, as well as ourselves, had a sufficiently heavy schedule with the games that must be played as the logical result of last season. To those friends of the team who demand games on our own ground with more representative university teams we would point out the facts that the Grinnell game has always been one of the very best and most exciting contests of the season, that Drake won the last game played between them and ourselves, and that Rock Island is not far away.

The character of the schedule made it necessary that the candidates for the team be given the benefit of practice prior to the opening of the fall term. Consequently, on August 28, three weeks before the opening day, the candidates who had arrived,—Captain Griffith, S. C. Williams, Brockway, Burrier, Maresh, Carle, Ingham, and Perrine, a former end rush of the Burlington High school team—went into camp, their quarters being three miles north of town in a new boat-house built by Mr Linder for the purpose this summer. These were later joined by other candidates, until the number in camp reached a total of twenty-two. The later arrivals were Morton, Eby, Warner, Little, Watters and Weiland, all of last year's team; Coulthard, who comes from the Woodbine Normal School; Briggs, center of the '98 team of the Red Oak high school, that won the championship of Iowa and Nebraska; A. W. Ely, of Iowa City; Pomeroy, who played half with Morton on the Shelby high school team; Ed Crum of Bedford; Seiberts, a former tackle at Iowa Wesleyan; F. C. Carle, Dye, and Cogswell of last year's second team.

Thanks to the quality of the table set by Mrs Linder, the days spent in camp had an excellent effect on the men, nearly every one of whom gained in weight despite the hard work on the improvised gridiron. The men returned from

Greeting

In beginning the new year, the VIDETTE-REPORTER greets all its old and new friends with heartiest good wishes. The University of Iowa has grown in numbers and strength and influence for good most markedly of late years. Its growing now and fulfilling more perfectly every day its mission as "the Crown of the Public School System of Iowa." The VIDETTE-REPORTER, in keeping with the spirit of expansion that is demanding larger and finer buildings, and better equipments for the University appears this year in a new and enlarged form. In our five columns, each column eighteen inches in length, we will be able to present our readers with fifty per cent more reading matter than last year. We will aim to give all the university news in our columns. We desire to speak for the students, the alumni, the faculty, the regents, the president, the University—to make the VIDETTE-REPORTER the representative of the University of Iowa. In this, our endeavor, we ask the help and encouragement of friends of the University everywhere.

The year just opening has, we believe, great things in store for the University. Iowa has never entered upon a college year so fully equipped in every department of her activity. The June commencement was a memorable one in the University's history. The graduates of 1900, a noble class, are scattered over the state and nation, engaged in the vocations for which their alma mater's training will well fit them. May success be theirs. The class of 1904 enters as 1900 departs. May they make themselves worthy of success. May we all give the University our best—the University will give it back to us. May we all have the University spirit and have it more than ever before.

Dr E. D. Tompkins, C. '96, who was graduated from a medical course at the University of Pennsylvania and spent the past year in a Philadelphia hospital, was married at Forest City, September 5th, to Miss Mae Thompson of that place and has located at Clarion.

camp Tuesday afternoon, and appeared for the first practice on the Varsity gridiron yesterday at 3:30 o'clock. Two teams were selected from the thirty candidates who presented themselves, and they indulged in two hours of remarkably dull and spiritless work, on the soggy field. It is very evident that several weeks earnest work will be needed to bring the aggregation to a condition approaching good form.

More candidates are needed, and needed badly. But thirty have thus far appeared and at least thirty-five will be needed for the two teams. The impression is a mistaken one that the men who were in camp will necessarily constitute the first team. More men are needed. No man may be said to be assured of a place on the team. Every position is open and will remain so until the day before the first game. And even after that every position will be open to any man who can demonstrate superior ability. To do more than guess at the probable lineup for the first game is impossible. Even to do this we do not feel ourselves competent. The places are all open and men are wanted to compete for them.

The quality of the new material gives some hope that next year's team, though it will necessarily be composed almost entirely of men who were not among last years eleven, may yet be at least a good, average representative Varsity team. In order to stimulate to strenuous effort the candidates remaining after the first team shall be chosen, a schedule of five games has been prepared for the second team, to whom careful attention will be given by assistant-coach Sam W. Hobbs, who did such splendid work with the same aggregation last year.

'96, who was Law Librarian during the years 1896-97 and 1897-98 has become junior member of the firm of Blythe, Markely & Rinard, one of the strongest firms in Mason City and of state wide reputation. He succeeded Hon Clifford P. Smith, L. '90 who was appointed by Gov. Shaw to fill the vacancy created in the 12th Judicial District by the election of Judge Sherwin to the Supreme Court of Iowa. Judge Smith has received the republican nomination to succeed himself which is practically equivalent to an election in this district.

Miss Elena McFarland, '98, was married Wednesday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs Colton, at Wapello, Iowa, to Mr S. Leroy Close, of Iowa City. The groom is a leading business man of Iowa City, being treasurer of the Iowa Glove Co. Mr and Mrs Close will take their wedding tour through Colorado and the west. They will be at home at Iowa City after October 5. Among the guests present were Mrs C. D. Close, Miss Kate Close, '01, Mr and Mrs Edwin B. Wilson and Hal Stewart of Iowa City, and Miss Ida Kreichbaum, '98, of Burlington.

Guy Sterling Monatt, L. '01, spent the summer reading law in the office of Cliggitt & Rule at Mason City.

PLAIN DRESS GOODS

The Correct Thing

Dame Fashion has decreed that it shall be A Plain Goods Season. Therefore, it must be a season of fine goods. When fancies are in vogue a dash of Color, or some clever trick of the weaver, seemingly takes the place of, or at least attracts the attention, from Real Quality to color, combination or fanciful weaving, but Quality and Quality Alone must be the attractive feature of a plain cloth costume. Therefore we say a plain cloth costume should be made of

GOOD QUALITIES

Now, if we ride hobbies at all, one of them is, and always has been, Good Plain Dress Goods, made of fine quality wool, Spun Smoothly and Woven Carefully, and you can rest assured when you buy Plain Dress Goods Here that you get goods from the best manufacturers in the world, and not the artificial finish, short, coarse wool stock, which comes from the factories that make goods simply to sell regardless of whether they give satisfaction or not.

SORTS, COLORS AND PRICES

Even if it is a plain goods season, you'll have plenty of styles to choose from. Venetians, Kerseys, Meltons, Broadcloths, Cheviots, Zibelines, Camel's Hair, Pebble Cheviots, Coverts, as well as a complete line of our standard values in Cashmeres, Henriettas Serges, Whipcords, Lansdowns. Colors and Shadings are almost beyond description. There's every wanted color, and the prices range from 25c yard up to $3.00 yard. Investigate carefully before you buy, and we feel confident you will buy here.

SKIRTS MADE TO ORDER

Take your pick of any of the thousands of pieces of dress goods or silks in our stock, and we'll make your skirt any style you want, and guarantee a fit. Ask about it at the Dress Goods or Silk counters.

MAN IS FORTUNATE in that the cut of his garments is not subject to as many changes as that of his wife, daughter, or sweetheart; besides, he wouldn't have the patience to endure as many try-ons a year.
Nevertheless, to avoid monotony,
there are slight differences from year to year which the well dressed, as well as the dressy man appreciates.
To see the novelties for this Fall and Winter you have but to call on
