THE STATE NORMAL GAME

Large Attendance Expected at Saturday's Game—Dedication of New Grounds—Procession of Students

The dedication of the new athletic grounds which was postponed last Friday on account of the rain will take place next Saturday at the Normal game. The game will begin at 3 o'clock. At 2:15 the procession of students and citizens, headed by the university band will start from the post office corner. If possible, a company of picked men from the university battalion under Major Harkness will follow the band. A tally-ho party consisting of Mayor Stebbins, President MacLean, and the Deans of the colleges will be in the parade. President MacLean will declare the grounds formally opened at 3 o'clock sharp. The assembled multitude will then sing America. The closing words of this hymn will be followed by the kick-off.

The State Normal team is training under the efficient coaching of Fred Williams and will have the benefit of a knowledge of the Iowa system of play Reports from Cedar Falls have been very promising and while Iowa does not exactly fear defeat, the game will be very close

The practice yesterday was very poor indeed. The line-ups were, Ely, Briggs, center; Burrier, Brockway, Carle, Hollenbeck, guards; Little, Coulthard, Brown, Williamson, tackles; Dahms, Watters, Logan, Melton, ends; Williams, Ingham, quarter-backs; Dye, Cogswell, Edson, L Pomeroy, halfbacks; Griffith and Macy fullbacks.

Eby and Siberts were not out. Perrine has returned home, having abandoned his intention of studying pharmacy. Ralph Williamson, '02 did quite well at tackle D E Maguire, a new candidate for center, appeared for practice this afternoon He weighs 176 pounds and has played center on the Dubuque high school and Y. M. C. A teams He is a freshman in the College of Law.

Getting Into Shape

The normal football team is rapidly developing into shape. At this time last week thirty candidates were going through daily practice, and each one hoped that he would be able to secure a place on the team. The candidates have now been divided into two sections. Eleven of the best men have been classed by themselves and these eleven will constitute the team for this season, unless some better material developes from the "scrubs," as they are termed. The daily practice still continues with more vigor and enthusiasm than ever. Every evening at 4 o'clock the picked eleven are pitted against the other nineteen in test games Although there are almost two to one against them, they have succeeded in holding their own in good order. To an observer who has watched the work of the boys from the beginning, it is hard to believe that the picked eleven were among the number who constituted the "crowd" of a week ago. There is no question but that the team, as a team, will do better work this year than did the team of last season. The only hold the old team had was, that they had two star players Detweiler and Wyant; but two star players, unsupported, cannot win a football game always, as was shown by a few defeats last year. The fact that all the present members are beginners seems to have placed them more on an equal footing, and they are developing along the line of team work in a way that is more than encouraging to the coach and the members of the faculty interested in the record to be made this season on the gridiron.

Special attention is being paid to positions in the field, and more practice is being indulged in for development in difficult situations. The revolving wedge is receiving some attention along with other plays known to the old timers.

One marked feature of the work of the team is the manner in which they conduct themselves in the field. The coach, Fred Williams, has won the favor of the faculty by the strict control which he has over the men. He has given orders that profanity will not be tolerated, and no ill feeling is allowed to arise between members on account of errors or misunderstandings in plays. The faculty have commended both the coach and the team on the manly spirit shown. That several members of the faculty are interested in the team and athletics in general, is evidenced by the fact that they have as a whole, raised a fund of $300, to be expended in the interests of athletics this season, the proper proportion of which will go to the football team.—DesMoines Leader.

The Normal Team

The football team under the coaching of Mr Williams is getting into good condition. Though rather light and composed mainly of new men it will make the teams which it plays earn all they get.

Most of the men now on the team will be back next year which will give us a well trained team at the beginning of the season.

The first game of the season will be with S. U. I. at Iowa City, Oct. 6. S. U. I. has certainly a strong team and a hard one to meet at the beginning of the season, but if they win the victory they will have to earn it.—Normaleyte.

Grinnell's Track Team

The outlook for a winning track team in Iowa college, during the present school year, is quite promising. In spite of the fact that the weather of the past two weeks has not been the most encouraging, a favorable number of men have reported for daily work. To the most of these men, track athletics is a new thing. Few of them know for which event they are fitted, and it will require a great deal of hard work to put them into proper condition. A good track team has always been one of the essentials conducive to the success of Iowa College athletics. This branch of college life, especially, needs our assistance this year. The State University has won the annual state meet for the past two years. If they succeed this year, they will win the cup. The question which confronts every Iowa College man is: "Are you going to give every bit of your athletic ability to prevent the defeat of our track team? The success of our team in the past has been due to unanimity. To that it must be due in the future. We have said that the outlook for a winning track team was quite promising. This assertion depends upon one condition, to-wit: That every man capable of taking part in track athletics will do it. The team needs more than the support of your good will—it needs a part of you. If you are not playing football, or tennis, it is your two-fold duty to report for track work; you owe it to your health; you owe it to your college. Show your college spirit by reporting for duty at once. It is only by the co-operation of every student that we can hope for the return of those days when an Iowa College victory at the state meet was as certain as the coming of daylight and darkness.—Scarlet and Black.

IMPORTANT NOTICES

Notice.

Members of all departments of the university are invited to become members of the McClain Marching Club. Those wishing to join, hand their names to the president of the club.

R. P. ROEDELL, Pres.,
J. H. KAISER, Secy.

McCLAIN MARCHING CLUB

Students of the College of Law Organize to boom Chancellor McClain's Candidacy

The laws met yesterday afternoon and enthusiastically formed a McClain Marching Club to increase the majority of Chancellor McClain for the supreme judgeship. The club will attend the Roosevelt meeting at Waterloo, Friday, and other rallies this fall and each member will so work as to produce the best results for the Chancellor as well as for the party in general. The club will not be strictly partisan, but will include all the students who wish to see Chancellor McClain lead the ticket this November in the size of his majority and this condition is large enough to admit almost all of the Chancellor's enthusiastic pupils.

The officers as elected are:

President, R. P. Roedell, of Dubuque.

Secretary and Treasurer, J. H. Kaiser, of National, Clayton county.

Captain, E. A Jackson, of Des Moines.

First Lieutenant, John W. Hospers, of LeMars.

Second Lieutenant, W. B. Kelley, of Lamoni.

Committees were appointed by the president as follows: on uniforms, Egan, Powell, Remley; on votes, D. McClain, Edson, Hall; constitution, Gleason, Saunders, Kugler, and the president and secretary, ex-officio; yells, McCutchen, Abernethy, Bossert, Murphy, A. W. Davis.

A letter was read from W. P. Hoxie, class of '97, now chairman of the Blackhawk county republican committee, in which he asked the club to come to the rally at Waterloo, Friday. The train will leave Iowa City at 6 o'clock Friday morning and, reaching Waterloo at 9 o'clock, the club will be in time for the speeches of Governor Roosevelt, Governor Shaw, and Senator Dolliver. A marching club of university students attended a rally at Waterloo in 1894 and created great enthusiasm.

It was moved that the several colleges be invited to participate in the marching club under the leadership of the College of Law. The laws are determined to do something this fall that will be remembered. "It will be some time before another chancellor of the college of law will be a candidate for supreme judge," said President Roedell to the club, "and we want to make his majority the largest of all."

The committees met this afternoon, and tomorrow the Marching Club will meet to hear the rates and arrangements for the Waterloo trip.

The University

[Under this head will be published Editorials and Articles of interest to the university clipped from the leading papers of the state.]

The first formal convocation of the State University at Iowa City, held on Wednesday, presented visual evidence of the progress which has been made since the general assembly adopted a more liberal policy toward the state's chief educational institution. More than twelve hundred students followed the faculties in an imposing yet simple procession All were strengthened for their individual work by the inspiration which always comes from the sense of associated effort. A promient part of the cermony was the introduction of the new members of the faculties The number and the quality of the additional bore witness to the growth of the university, not merely in numbers, but in merit. Last year the instructional staff numbered 102; this year thirty-three new men and women have taken up their duties at the university. It may freely be predicted that everyone of the old instructors, not to speak of the new ones, will give better and more efficient service because of the more generous attitude of the state.

The Leader is not one of those urging that every Iowa young man and young woman seeking higher education should attend only Iowa institutions Such a policy smacks too much of Chinese exclusiveness, and if followed by all the states would produce an educational breeding which would be fatal to all educational, as well as all other forms of progress Iowa is part of the United States, and the United States is part of the world, and among the three there should be healthful and stimulating intercourse Nevertheless, as to Iowa, for many years, there has not been the proper educational equilibrium, because Iowa has been sending too many out of the state for their training In a certain way this is just as injurious as the contrary exclusive policy would be Too much diffusion is to be reprobated as well as too much concentration. The growth of the university, not so much in number of students as in merit, will tend to correct this and to restore the proper balance, for it is admitted that the university not only effects its own students, but indirectly, all the colleges and secondary schools of the state. In most things the way to progress is stimulus at the bottom, but in education it has been shown by experience that one of the speediest ways to advance is to stimulate the top

In the last five years the income of the state university has been practically doubled. The support fund has been increased and a provision of $55,000 per year has been made for additions to the university buildings and equipment. It is practically certain that none of this income will be withdrawn, and it is almost as great a certainty that it will be still more increased Iowa is a rich state, and amply able to support, as becomes the state, the university at Iowa City, the agricultural and mechanical colleges at Ames, and the normal school at Cedar Falls All of them have recently received, as they ought to receive, a share of the new prosperity, and the Leader is pleased to note that in regard to each institution it has already proved that the policy of liberality is wise —Des Moines Leader.

Senior Election

The seniors of the College of Liberal Arts, after three or four days of political fermentation, met Monday afternoon at Close Hall for the election of officers. Ninety-nine students were present, almost the total membership of the class at present. The candidates for president were John G. Griffith and W. F. Moore. The informal ballot gave Griffith 60, Moore 38, which ballot was immediately declared formal.

The election of Captain Griffith is one which is highly deserved and may be taken as an evidence of the increased interest in athletics in the university. Mr Griffith was brought up only two days before the election and then somewhat against his will.

For vice-president; F. S. Merriau and C. C. Converse were the candidates. The vote stood Converse 32, Merriau 25, and Mr Converse was declared elected. Miss Carroll was elected secretary and Otto Brackett treasurer.

Questions for Debate

There are now three courses in debate offered by the university; one under the chair of Sociology and Economics, one under the chair of English, and one under the chair of Public Speaking. In order that they may not run out of questions for discussions, we desire to transfer to the students in these courses all our rights and interests in the following questions which have been asked us very frequently of late:

1. Where is the old Spanish cannon?
2. Where are the battery's new cannon?
3. When will the new Collegiate Hall be done?
4. How many students are there in the University?
5. Has the English department enough instructors?
6. How many men thought they were to be class presidents this year?

The Freshman Banquet

Each year it is the custom of the freshman class in the College of Liberal Arts to give a banquet which is attended by as many of its members as reach the banqueting hall. The object of the banquet is to bring together the members of the class so that they may know each other, that they may arouse class spirit and achieve some unity of feeling and purpose.

Within the past few years the banquet has been delayed until the winter term, a fact that has always been regretted because it crowds too closely upon the other class parties and events with which the winter term is filled. If held in the fall term, the banquet will occur before the class becomes divided markedly into cliques and classes and while the spirit of "Long live 1904!" is strongest.

We believe that the freshman class would do well to appoint a banquet committee as soon as possible, with the intention of holding the banquet this term.

The VIDETTE-REPORTER comes this year enlarged to a five column paper. The tendency of the age seems to be along the line of expansion and we are glad to see the college papers in line.—Collegian Reporter.

Suspicious Consignment

A good story emanates from Cedar Rapids. A young man, a student at the university and popular with the fair sex, had been the recipient of numerous and sweet-scented pillows, and having a window seat and cozy corner in his room at home, desired to transfer it to his college quarters. Accordingly the box basis of the window seat was packed with the aforementioned pillows and various other paraphernalia, wrapped securely in building paper, stoutly roped and turned over to the tender care of the freight agent.

When the box reached Cedar Rapids its shape was suggestive, the odors of those pillows were not understood by the railway officials while the destination seemed to confirm the suspicion that the contents of the box was not legitimate freight, and the Cedar Rapids health officer was called in. He, too, concluded that some unfortunate mortal done with earthly cares was on his way to the medical college dissecting room and telegraphed the shipping agent and a lawyer of the town to secure affidavit of the shipper of the box as to its contents. An answer being slow in arriving, and concluding that the medical college might be in need of its freight, the too officious Cedar Rapids parties decided to forward the box, but to be certain no vile contagion was spread, an empty box car belonging to the receiving railroad was secured and after the box had been carefully placed inside, and the door sealed and placarded, the B. C. R. & N. consented to haul this alarming box to Iowa City where the legitimate owner soon dissipated the awful anxiety; and railway officials and health boards breathe freely again.—Burlington Hawkeye.

LAUGHED THEIR SIDES SORE

The Wheeling, W Va, Register of Aug. 30, says: "The Star Boarder" at the opera house last night proved a star attraction. The costumes were clean, new and bright, and the specialties were ringing applause makers. From the time the company appeared in the opening chorus until the curtain was rung down, there was a quick succession of brilliant specialties that bristles with smart sayings, dances and captivating songs. The show in its entirety was as good a fun producer as has been here in years. Chas. H. Boyle, the leading comedian, has enough fun in his makeup to please the audience himself, but when to his nonsense is added the combined oddities of his chorus of pretty girls and the performance of his strong performers, "The Star Boarder" is a farce comedy in all that the name implies. The Star Boarder comes here on Saturday, Oct. 6th, 1900.

MAN IS FORTUNATE

in that the cut of his garments is not subject to as many changes as that of his wife, daughter, or sweetheart; besides, he wouldn't have the patience to endure as many try-ons a year. Nevertheless, to avoid monotony, there are slight differences from year to year which the well dressed, as well as the dressy man appreciates. To see the novelties for this Fall and Winter you have but to call on

Dancing School

Don't forget Msss Sager's dancing school and assembly Friday night at the old Beta hall. School 7:30 to 8:30.

HERRMANN THE GREAT

"Herrmann the Great," who ranks as the leading magician of the world, having performed in all the civilized countries on the globe and established a reputation that is as solid as the Rock of Giberaltor itself, appears at the opera house on Thursday night. Herrmann's legerdemain is bewildering, amusing and sensational. He is accompained by the musically marvelous Nosses, three ladies and two gentlemen, who play on all manner of instruments with exquisite skill. All are musicians of rare ability, their rendition of selection from popular operas are an artistic treat. In the way of a new illustration, Herrmann has the present season a wonderfully weird invention which he calls "Cremation."
