SIMPSON GAME FRIDAY

Visiting Team Strong This Year—Defeated Penn 17 to 0—Paul Coldren Their Coach

In the game with Simpson College, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the football team will receive its first real try-out. The result will therefore be watched with much interest. The large scores made in the two games already played can scarce be taken as a true criterion by which to measure the real strength of the team. The U. I. U. and the State Normal teams were surprisingly weak—weak because they had been in training but a comparatively short time when they met Iowa.

Simpson is showing symptoms of considerable strength this year. For the first time in its history the Simpson football team has defeated the Penn college team, and that by a shut out of 17-0. Such a score indicates great strength in defensive tactics and a very considerable offensive ability. The Penn team is a strong aggregation this year, even stronger than it was last year. So also is the Simpson team, which last year held Grinnell to 5 to 0, and had hopes of scoring on Iowa. The latter game was cancelled on account of an accident on the Iowa grounds. The Simpson management manifested a very manly spirit at that time, with the consequence that Simpson will find friends at Iowa. Their coach this year is Mr Paul Coldren, who was quarterback on the great '96, team, and who had great success in coaching the Washburn College, Kansas team, in '98, and the Denver Wheel Club team in '99. The score in the Penn game last Friday gives evidence that his work is beginning to tell for the success of the team.

There is no disguising the fact that the struggle on Iowa's part will be, not to prevent a defeat, but to prevent a score being made against the team. That is the standard the team has set for itself. The players do not expect, nor will they merit criticism if they should failed to reach their aim. Their aim is high, very high,—perhaps higher than they can reach. But they are going to do their very best to equal last year's record, if it is not better it.

That Iowa's defense has been tested this year can scarcely be said. That no score has been made against the team this year may be due to the fact that the opposing teams seldom secured possession of the ball. The two games played have consisted largely of offensive work on the part of the Iowa team. Next Friday its defense will be tested possibly to the limit. Coach Coldren has been educated in the Pennsylvania tactics, and the contest Friday will be a struggle between teams well acquainted with the style of play their opponents will employ.

The Simpson team is heavy this year, and among their stars are two brothers of Captain Kennedy, of Chicago's '99 team. The Simpson line up will be as follows: King, l. e.; E. B. Rogers, l. t.; Braught, l. g.; B. Kennedy, c.; A. Rogers, r. g.; C. Kennedy, (c) r. t.; Beckham, r. e.; Dean, q. b.; Carmen-Baker, l. h.; Smith, r. h.; Reed, f. b.

The Varsity line up will not be announced till Thursday.

Michigan Helps Athletics

Michigan held its annual Athletic mass meeting last Friday and raised $2,300 for the aid of athletics at the university. Fully 2,000 students were in attendance, 200 of whom were ladies.

The speech of the evening was made by Mr Murfin, an alumnus of Michigan, class of '93. He said: "You are here to give your support to football, and if you have as much enthusiasm on the field as you have shown tonight the football season of 1900 will close with Michigan the champion of the west. This meeting is not held to raise wind only but the dust as well. You have given your moral support, now give your financial. There is nothing in it for the players but the praise they get and the knowledge that they are working for the university."

At the close of this speech subscriptions were called for, the Greek letter fraternities heading the list with an aggregate of $1,245. Next came the business men of the city with $530 and the law classes and the junior dents with $275.

To Make the Laws Good

Dean Hutchins of the law department suggested a plan to the senior laws the other day, which if adopted will establish a precedent that is sadly needed in the department. The laws have always been looked upon and conceded to be crack politicians of the University, and to make a campaign against them as a body has always been considered about as bad a proposition as to run up against Tammy. The senior laws are supposed to represent the highest stage of development in this political astuteness, so that when these gentlemen meet as a class to elect officers it means diamond cut diamond. Political deals, combines, rings, in fact, all the modern methods known to the politician, have been used.

The plan as outlined by Dean Hutchins is to practically conduct the election as our present general or state elections are conducted—that is to call a class meeting at which nominations shall be made. Then appoint a committee to act as commissioner of elections, to whom the faculty will furnish a certified copy of the members of the class, so that when a member had voted his name could be checked off. A polling place would then be established and sufficient time given to allow all members of the class to vote. This plan would practically insure an honest expression of the class and would do away much of the dirty work now prevalent.

After the lecture many expressions of approbation of the plan were heard from the better element of the class, and it is probable that a meeting of the class will be called to consider the question.—U. of M. Daily.

Professor Calvin's classes will take an excursion to Mt. Pelier in the near future.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

Uniformly Low Scores Made by the Larger Colleges—Improved Coaching of the Smaller Colleges

The remarkable feature of Saturday's football games was the uniformly low scores made by the larger colleges. With the exception of Yale and Pennsylvania in the east and Illinois, Iowa, and Minnesota in the west none of the prominent teams made more than twenty points against their weaker opponents, and in addition, both Princeton and Chicago were scored upon. The low scores can be accounted for to some extent by the warm weather and short halves played, but they bring out more strongly the effects of the improved coaching which the smaller colleges are receiving each year.

PURDUE ELEVEN IS A STRONG ONE.

Perhaps the most important game was that played between Chicago and Purdue. Purdue has long been a member of the "big nine," but for the last few years it has not given very much trouble to the leaders in the west. Saturday, however, it was shown that the Indiana school has an unusually good team this season. The visitors played better than the score (17 to 5) indicates. They held last year's champions to a tie in the first half and were contenders all the way. Robertson missed two goals that were easy, and Henry's touchdown for Chicago, while brilliant in the extreme, was also the result of good fortune. Saturday's play showed that the maroons have improved much since the Dixon game. Henry's return has instilled new spirit into the men and almost double the strength of the back field. In spite of this, however, the fact remains that the Chicago team is not a very strong one at present, nor is it as strong as it was at this time last year. The left side of the line is still decidedly vulnerable, and all the forwards seem slow in charging their opponents' play before it gets under way. Next Saturday's contest with Minnesota at Minneapolis is liable to prove a severe test for Stagg's pupils. The twenty-seven points which the Gophers rolled up against Ames Saturday go to show that Dr Williams may give the maroons a hard game.—Chicago Record.

IOWA'S GOOD SHOWING

Coach Knipe's team at the University is beginning to be feared by the rest of the western teams. It's opposition Saturday offering nothing substantial, but nevertheless the score of 68 to 0 looks big on paper.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Joe Hunter, one of the grittiest players that ever donned a mole-skin, has announced his intentions of playing with Northwestern again. He said last June that he would never play again on account of the injury to his ankle received last fall. The ankle has since shown considerable improvement. Hunter is one of the best field generals Northwestern ever had and his return makes the purple's outlook much brighter.

Harvard is much afraid that Columbia will score on her next Saturday. The weak team work and poor defense against Bowdoin last Saturday is responsible for this feeling.

Harvard is using a new formation this year in receiving kicks. The usual play is for two men to fall back on an opponent's kick, the other backs waiting immediately behind the rush line to break through and block or to be in on a fake kick. Relying on the direct pass from center for a punt and the rule that the punter cannot run with the ball unless it has touched two men before, Harvard figures that fake kicks are unlikely. Hence she sends two backs back as before, puts the third back about twenty yards behind the scrimmage line and out into the field so that he will get a punt that goes short and to the one side. The fourth back stands ten yards behind the scrimmage line. The positions of the third and fourth backs can easily be visualized by Iowans if they remember the position regularly assumed by the Normal's full back and half back when Iowa punted. The advantage hoped by this sending all the backs back is that one of the men is sure to get the punt on the fly and the others, forming and blocking, will perhaps be able to put off the opponent's end and reduce the average punt to about a ten yard gain.

SATURDAY'S SCORES

Chicago 17; Purdue 5. Northwestern 6; Rush Medical 0. Wisconsin 6; P. and S. o. Michigan 11; Kalamazoo 0. Illinois 21; Wesleyan 0. Minnesota 27; Ames 0. Princeton 12; Lehigh 5. Pennsylvania 38; Haverford 0. Harvard 12; Bowdoin 0. Yale 30; Tufts 0. Cornell 6; Bucknell 0. Columbia 12; Wesleyan 0. Brown 18; Holy Cross 0. Carlisle 45; Gettsburg 0. Lafayette 34; Susquehanna 0. ## Among the Colleges

Simpson college is booming. The registration is 20 per cent higher this year than in any previous years. The new administration building is well under way and will be ready for occupancy January 1.

Simpson's football prospects were never more promising than this year. The loss of four of last year's team will be well covered and, in addition, some first class substitutes are being developed from the thirty odd candidates that have been out for practice. This is Simpson's first year under a paid coach. The result of her first game with Penn last Friday showed that the eleven is a strong one.

Tabor college has opened its 35th year with a fine attendance and a promise of enjoying the best year in the history of the college.

Parsons college has recently elected Rev F. W. Hinitt, M. A., Ph. D., of Ottumwa, to its presidency. A new ladies' dormitory will be erected. The outlook for the institution is that this year will be the most successful of its existence.

President H. H. Seerley of the State Normal entered this year upon his fifteenth year as president of the school. This makes him the oldest president now serving in any educational institution of Iowa and probably the oldest chief executive of a normal school in the United States. A new departure in the instructional force is the election of Miss E. Simmons of Lake Geneva, to assume charge of society work. The school opened September 6th with an enrollment of 600 students and more coming in on every train. Last year's enrollment was 2,500.

Iowa Wesleyan opened with excellent prospects this year notwithstanding its lack of a president. The Board of Trustees of the college will not be in a hurry to select a president but will hunt for "the man for the place." Meantime, the president's duties will be performed by Dean Pierse.

The Wesleyan football team is being coached by Professors Hickey and Edwards. Not daunted by the recent defeat by Lombard, the students believe that their team will yet prove a winner.

BOARD OF CONTROL

Voted to Permit Team to Sojourn in Michigan after Chicago Game

The Board of Athletic Control met in Professor Loos' recitation room last night to consider the advisability of permitting the football team to spend the interval between November 3 and 10, the dates of the Chicago and Michigan games, in practice in a Michigan town, instead of returning home. The members of the board present were President Smith, Professors Loos and Nutting, Dr Knipe, and Treasurer Birk, and Managers Shaw, Cassidy, McClain, and McCutchen. The matter referred to above was discussed at length, every detail receiving careful consideration. The discussion developed that the board appeared to be unanimous in the belief that the team would better remain in the east between the games. When the vote was taken every member voted in favor of the proposition. Manager McCutchen will go to Detroit Friday evening, to visit various towns in eastern Michigan, and will, if possible, conclude arrangements for the entertainment of the team in some quiet country town, where good hotel accommodations and practice grounds can be secured.

Wanted—A Good Lecture Course

In keeping with the general re-awakening taking place at the University of Iowa, it is not capricious nor exacting to demand a lecture course that shall be worthy of the patronage of the entire faculty and student body. The present course in no wise fulfills the requirements. Whether the fault lies in timidity as to the field, or lack of judgment as to what constitutes a worthy and dignified lecture course, we are not aware.

It may be that traditions and weak precedents, lack of energy and foresight, peculiar conditions surrounding the management all constitute a handicap which it has been impossible to overcome. However that may be a good lecture course is an institution essential to a complete university. Let us have a re-awakening.

What kind of men does the average student want and expect to hear at his university? The entertainers and monologue artists of the lecture bureaus? Or does he wish to hear the Roosevelts, the Cleverlands, the Dollivers, the Harrisons, among the statesmen; the Zanffwells, the Howells' among the authors; the Victor Herberts, and the Sousas among the musicians; the Pearys and Nansens among the explorers—and so on down the list of the worlds great and interesting men.

It is useless to prate that such a course would not pay. Let us suppose that 1500 tickets were sold at $2 apiece. That would be $3000, with which to pay for the course. An average of $300 for ten numbers. Such an opportunity to see and hear great men would not only be seized upon by the students, but also by a majority of the cultured people of Iowa City.

The University of Michigan last year had a lecture course of 12 numbers for $2, composed as follows: Secretary of Treasury Lyman J. Gage, Hon. J. P. Dolliver, Max Bendix Concert Co, Brig-Gen. Chas. King, U. S. Senator Wm. P. Frye, Will Carleton, Sousa's Band, Hon John Temple Graves, F. Hopkinson Smith, Congressman Champ Clark, President David Starr Jordan of Stanford and the University Oratorical Association. The only reason some of the names were not greater was because neither influence or money could induce them to leave their various occupations. The lecture bureau ended with a surplus of $1,000 which was distributed among the various deserving college organizations.

The VIDETTE-REPORTER hopes to see next year's lecture course put upon higher and more dignified ground.

The Women's League of the University of Michigan seeks to promote the social life of the women attending the university. The U. of M. Daily says the following in regard to it: "Every girl in the university is invited to join the Women's League. The object of the organization is to promote social life among the many busy women of the college, and to bring them into helpful contact with the ladies of the faculty. The league is divided into groups of ten which are under the leadership of sophomore, junior, and senior girls. Each group has its patroness who with the aid of the leader, brings the girls together occasionally for a sociable time. During the year, parties and receptions are given by the League and many pleasant functions enjoyed. The League fills a place which no other organization can and deserves the co-operation of every girl."

HAIL TO THE CLIONIAN

New Ladies' Forensic Society
Names of Charter Members
Purposes of the Society

Since last spring effort has been made to form a third forensic society. These have taken shape in the Clionian society met at Close Hall yesterday noon from 3:30 to 4:30 to constitute and effect its permanent organization.

The names of the charter members are: Misses Cora B. Alice Waldron, Minnie Thompson, Ruth Douglass, Landers, Fanny Wright, Grace Wright and Misses Everett. The society to have fifteen members being its charter roll. Two new "spikes" presumably, were talked to quite earnestly members of the society at the Hall reception rooms yesterday.

The officers of the society are: Miss Cora B. Varney, president; Miss Wright, secretary; Johnston was elected secretary but has concluded not to present.

The society has at present upon the name, "Clionian" likes this name because well with Philomathean, to forensic association the Clionian are to be a sister society. certain that the Clionian permanent name, the society a meeting tomorrow at to settle the matter definitely.

The aims of the new society be somewhat different from of the other two ladies societies. The society has hopes of occupying a room in the new building the Philomatheans. This opinion of university authorities will hardly be possible. The new building is not completely allotted to university rooms, offices, and necessary rooms. The Clionians next Saturday evening in Room South Hall, the hall in which Philomatheans meet on evenings.

"Dean Currier," the president of the society said, "has called getting a hall for us and a one will no doubt be provided. The Clionians have met encouragement from the and those interested in the of forensic societies and of affairs, because of the need other society of the kind in our give the advantages which women of the university receive. There is a place for it, the is, and if the society does work, it will succeed.

Miss Waldron will give sponse for the new society banquet of the Middletonian at the armory next Tuesday evening.

President MacLean Re-elected

President G. E. MacLean ed the members of the instructor staff of the university and families, at his College street Tuesday evening. The new instructors, thirty-five in number, consisted the president in receiving Over two hundred and twenty vitations were issued. About hundred and sixty persons present.

After an evening of acquaintance and enjoyment, President Lean briefly addressed his instructors on the social life of the university. He was much with the efforts made by professors and instructors to enter in social life of students. The life is only second to intellectual. Those members of the staff have entertained their students largely have rendered the university great service. Dr. De Newberry, Dr. Seashore, and Ridgeway, as instructors had been in Europe during summer vacation, were permitted for their good fortune by obliged to talk of their experiences.
