The Iowa Team Training on a Regular Time Schedule—Improving in Spirits and Swiftens

MT. CLEMENS, MICHIGAN, Nov. 7. Special to the VIDETTE-REPORTER.—On Sunday morning at ten o'clock the Iowa team left Chicago enroute to Detroit over the Michigan Central. Manager McCutchen had provided a special car and the trip was not as tiresome as it had been anticipated.

The Lakeside Inn is the ideal place for the quartering of a team in training. It lies twenty miles from Detroit and three from Mt. Clemens, being made easily accessible from both places however, by a system of electric railroads. It is isolated, situated on the very shore of Lake St Clair, and is a very well appointed little inn of twenty-five rooms, steam heated and lighted by electricity. The baths and mineral water of Mt. Clemens go to make it famous throughout the country as one of our greatest health resorts.

Since the team has been here the weather has been brisk and cool and with the lake breeze it has a wonderfully invigorating effect.

The practices have been of the extreme snappy order. The lower temperature seems to put all kinds of ginger into the men. The appetites of all are excellent.

The regular daily program which will be in force until next Saturday is:

Rise—8:00, Breakfast—8:30, Practice—10:00, Dinner—12:30, Practice—4:00, Supper—6:00, Bed—9:00.

Already the effect of the regularity is noticeable in the good spirits of the men. Today the two teams were running signals but did not line up against each other. One consisted of the regular 'varsity with the exception of Griffith and Siberts, Eby and Herbert substituting for them. The line-up of the other was:

Center—Briggs.
Guards—A. G. Smith, D. McClain.

Tackles—Middleton, Coulthard.
Ends—Two strangers, names unknown.

Quarter—Dye.
Halves—Hobbs, Cavanagh.
Full—Hart.

The second team soon disbanded however, due to the right-half-back breaking—a shoe string.

Today the whole party cast their votes in a cigar box in the hands of Prof. Smith. The first ballot was protested and a second ordered. Registration, half an hour in advance of the hour for balloting. There was a little disturbance at the polls but nothing serious and everything went off in comparative quiet. Coach Knipe and Captain Griffith went together to the polls and voted at 2:03 and 2:08 respectively; they were heartily applauded. The slot machines in the hall made free silver quite an issue.

The ballot resulted:
McKinley—16.
Bryan—9.

The ten men in the second district were evenly divided between Vollmer and Rumpke.

The vote for Chancellor McClain was unanimous.

Today Griffith started a Mt. Clemens bath treatment for his knee. It is doubtful if he will be able to play against Michigan. The rest of the men are in pretty good condition. Siberts' eyes which were swollen clear shut, again admit him to the light of day and he will be all right before the end of the week as will also Brockway and Hart whose knees are slightly hurt.

There is great interest shown here and in Detroit over the game and the crowd ought to be larger than at Chicago.

Locates at Cedar Rapids

The Cedar Rapids Republican the following item of interest to university people:

"Mr Arthur L. Rule of Mason City, yesterday entered on his work as one of the assistants in the legal department of the C. M. & St. Paul railway in this city, under Judge J. C. Cook. Mr Rule will find a ready welcome in Cedar Rapids, which he expects to make his home. He is a young man that any city might covet. He is the son of General James Rule of Mason City, one of the wealthiest and most influential men in northern Iowa and a man favorably known throughout the state."

Mr Rule was graduated from the College of Law last June. He was popular in social circles in university and city, being a member of the Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Phi fraternities. He is at present Assistant Inspector of the National Guard of the State with rank of Major.

Minnesota Daily on Patches

EDITOR DAILY:

What is the significance of the "black patches" that so many of the young women about college is wearing?

INTENSELY INTERESTED.

The foregoing is a communication received on last Saturday. The Daily has gone to some efforts to secure an answer to the inquirer after the truth, and it learns that this custom, which was rampant in old Madam Pompadour's time, is now the style—or rather the vogue in New York, and therefore it is the thing here.

As to the significance of the "black patch" various interpretations are given. One reporter learned that the patch was much effected by young women who had summered in the country because it tended to lessen the effect of the brown tinge of the face. Another reporter found that there was a flirtation code hidden in the location of the "thing," somewhat akin to the fan and handkerchief system. The code runs as follows:

If the patch is on the chin, the wearer is no longer engaged. If it is on the right cheek, the wearer is just engaged; if on the left she expects to be. If on the forehead over the right eye, the wearer despises men; if over the left eye, she admires all men, but none in particular. A patch on or about a dimple in the chin signifies several things. It is a personal sign to one man only.

Whether the above code is really in practice the Daily dares not say—it hopes not.

The observer must not be deluded—we are told—into believing that there is anything other than fair flesh under the patch.

The patches are worn in all conceivable shapes, but the oval, in imitation of a football, is much effected at present. Star-shaped, rectangular and crescent-shaped are a la mode.

The paper trusts that it has answered fully the subscriber's demands. It must say, however, that the Daily is not intended to take the place of the Ladies Home Journal, nor has it a Ruth Ashmore, reincarnated, on its staff.

IMPORTANT NOTICES

Junior Class Meeting

A meeting of the Junior class is called for Friday afternoon at 3:30 at Close Hall.

A. H. STORK, President.

WILL NOT SCORE

Dr Knipe Makes his First Prediction this Year—Michigan Will Not Score Against Iowa

A letter has been received in this city from Dr A. A. Knipe in which he makes the first important ante-game statement that he has made this year. He says: "You can feel safe about the result of the game at Bennett Park Saturday. Michigan will not score."

MICHIGAN YELLS

Songs Prepared for the Edification and Advancement of the Wolverines Saturday

Among the yells and songs which the Wolverines have prepared especially for Iowa are:

"Who can? We can!
Michigan can-can Beat Iowa!"

(Air: "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp.")
They have come from out the West,
And they think they are the best,
But they'll find they're up against it hard today;
And although they may play fine,
When they hit old Michigan's line
They will find it is a cinch they're here to play.

Chorus:

Buck! Buck! Buck! the boys are marching
Down towards Iowa's goal;
And beneath the maize and blue,
We will rub it into you
When we put the husky Hawk-eyes in the hole.

Though they laid Chicago low,
They've no man like Captain Snow,
And there never was a coach like "Biffy" Lea;
And when this game is o'er
We will whoop it up once more,
For the champions of the west
we're sure to be.

Hawkeye Elections

At a junior class meeting yesterday R. C. Williamson was elected civic editor of the '02 Hawkeye to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of J. E. Pinkham.

Miss Ford and Fred Emery were elected to the numerous board to fill vacancies.

The class voted to hold a sociable some time this month. Albert Currier, Miss Ford and Fred Emery were appointed a committee to arrange for the sociable.

Among the Colleges

Harvard has established a system of pensions to retiring professors at that institution.

Governor Gregory of Rhode Island will preside over the meeting of the Brown University Republican club next week.

In the recent game with Cumberland, Wilson, quarter back of the University of the South, made a run of fifty-five yards.

President Schurman of Cornell lectured to students of that institution this week on Educational Positions in the Philippines.

The total number of students registered in the Pennsylvania Law School this year is 329, sixty per cent of them being college graduates.

Miss Letitia Stevenson will return to the university for the spring quarter in case of the success of the republican ticket in the coming election.—University of Chicago Weekly.

Yale publishes each year a university time table, containing a complete knowledge of all recitations and lectures in every department of the university.

The University of Minnesota Daily will hereafter be set by a type setting machine. The Cardinal has used one for a long time, and is glad to see the Daily progressing.—Wisconsin Cardinal.

The State of Wisconsin has recently dedicated a building to the use of the Historical Society. The building will, in reality, serve the uses of the University of Wisconsin. The dedication calls attention to the part which Wisconsin plays in matters historical. In her university libraries are the finest collections of matter on labor conditions which can be found in the United States. Men from the east visit Madison to obtain material unobtainable elsewhere.

College of Dentistry

Clinics were closed Tuesday on account of election.

L. D. Carpenter arrived from Des Moines Wednesday.

A new member has been admitted to the ranks of '03.

J. D. Davis took a business trip to West Branch last Monday night.

News has been received concerning the death of the wife of Dr. R. S. Bandy, '95.

Rupp, '02 returned Wednesday morning after a four days visit at his home in Washington.

The first number of the Student, University of North Dakota, an exceptionally bright and newsy college journal, has been received at the exchange table. Among the items of interest is the arrival of V. L. Littig, '92 Iowa, of Davenport, Iowa, to take charge of the university football team. Great improvement is already manifest in the team under his capable direction and North Dakota has hopes of being the champion team in the Dakotas. The games now on its schedule are the Agricultural College at Fargo on November 17, and the University of South Dakota at Sioux Falls on Thanksgiving Day.

The Detroit Game

Michigan has come to the parting of the ways. On next Saturday at Detroit she will meet her keenest rival in the western pennant race, the University of Iowa. The men from Iowa City gave Stagg a drubbing yesterday that will make cold chills run down his back at the very sound of their name. Iowa earned a name for herself last year, when she sprung into prominence so suddenly, and she is repeating the work of a year ago. If any one thinks Iowa was strong Saturday because Chicago was weak, let him disabuse himself of the erroneous idea. She was strong because she has good men and good team work.

Looking at the season's schedule where we stand today, Iowa is our stumbling block. On next Saturday Michigan must win or all our steady winning work of the season will be cancelled. Every student in the university is in duty bound to go to Detroit and root for the team. The expense of the trip is very low, the game is a crucial one, and one whole season's standing depends on it. Songs and yells will be ready for the rooters by Wednesday and a mass meeting will be called to practice them. We have a chance to show of what stuff we are made—rooter and team—on next Saturday.—U. of M. Daily.

NATIONAL CONVENTION

Republican College League Meets in Philadelphia During the Thanksgiving Holidays—An Interesting Program

The eighth national convention of the American Republican College League will be held at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, November 30 and December 1, 1900. League headquarters will be at the Hotel Walton and special rates will be granted all delegates, both by hotels and all railroads. Owing to the football games to be held at Philadelphia on Thanksgiving day and Saturday December 1st, which will attract the attention of all college men, special features of entertainment will be afforded. Speakers of national renown will address the various meetings of the convention and it is expected that all the former presidents of the league will be in attendance. Owing to the active part being taken by the league in the present campaign an unusual interest will attach to the proceedings of this convention and a large attendance is already assured. Detailed reports will be rendered covering the general work of the league and showing definite, practical results attained. One of the chief items of business for transaction will be the election of officers for the ensuing two years. The official program of the convention will be issued about November 15, giving the list of meetings and speakers, with the various features of entertainment.

Bragging on Quarterbacks.

Before the Iowa team left for Detroit many of the Chicago players called on them after the game at the Chicago Beach hotel, where the western aggregation was staying. "Fanning" the game was the order of the evening and soon Jimmy Henry and Joe Warner got together.

"Place kicking is the hardest kind of kicking," Henry was heard to say. "Few people realize how much depends on the man who holds the ball. In fact, in a place kick for a goal from field everything depends on the way the ball is held."

"That's right," answered Warner. "Right there is where Williams shines. He's the fastest and truest little quarter-back I ever had place the ball for me in a scrimmage. When it comes to kicking a goal after a touchdown, any that are missed is the fault of the man doing the kicking. He has time to consider the angles and wind, while in the place kick from field there is no time to consider anything but to get the ball away before the opposing forwards break through and block."

"Well, you think you have a clever player to hold the ball, don't you?" returned Henry. "I'll tell you right now Williams can't touch Jimmy Sheldon on that proposition. Sheldon is one of the best in the business, excepting no one. I saw Williams' work today and I say Jimmy can beat him all out."

"There you are again," cut in Herschberger, "cracking up Sheldon, aren't you? Well, Jimmy is all right, anyway. Speaking of holding the ball for place kicking, I think he beats anything I've seen with the exception of Gordon Clarke, who used to hold for me during the big Coliseum games of years ago."

"What do you think of Joe Warner and his dog?" asked Dr. Knipe, who joined the circle at that moment. That stopped the "fanning."

The Michigan Game

The football contest between the Michigan and Iowa teams Saturday will have an important bearing on the western championship. Should Iowa win, her claims as the first team in the west will only be disputed by Minnesota which tied Chicago on the Minneapolis grounds. If Michigan defeats Iowa she will undoubtedly end the season the champion of the west.

The University of Iowa knows that its representatives put up a hard, close, sportsmanlike contest. Whether they win or lose, the result will be creditable to the university. The Hawkeyes are in excellent training quarters and are improving in quickness of play and in spirit, which has heretofore been somewhat lacking. Michigan is growing more confident every day of its ability to defeat Iowa. Warner is improving daily in place-kicking. Michigan has kept Sweeley kicking goals from the field all week; the latest telegraphic reports state that yesterday he made a fine record in the hour's practice. Ann Arbor's belief in the ability and versatility of its new Princeton coach "Biff" Lea, is unbounded. Iowa knows there is no coach like Knipe and anything he wants is his.

Iowa's feeling in regard to the game is best expressed by Coach Knipe's statement to a Times-Herald reporter just before he left Chicago for Michigan: "We are taking our honors quietly, and are not boasting about what the team is doing, has done, or is going to do. I come from an institution where we were taught to always do our best. That is what the Iowa team will do."

No matter what the result at the Detroit base ball park Saturday, the Hawkeye team when it steps off the train at Iowa City Tuesday morning, will receive the heartiest welcome a 'Varsity team ever received.

Colonel Culver's Cadets

The recent disturbances in the region of Lake Michigan are not confined alone to Standard Oil campuses and coaches. One hundred and five cadets of the Culver Military Institute at Lake Maxinkuckee, Indiana have been thrown out of employment. The result upon the Culver Military Institution can be hardly imagined. Professor Sims, Dr Knipe, and Dr Andrews have done as much for the military department of the University of Iowa, but they left as many cadets as Culver's total enrollment—two hundred and twenty. The effect on Culver can only be imagined—those who can see in the mind's eye the serried ranks of the Culver battalion will drop a silent tear over the foolishness of the commandants of Culver.

The defense of the academy is stated by Captain Flint: "the school felt it its duty to expel the body in question for the infraction of one of the most important regulations of the academy." This is a most unsatisfactory excuse. Why, it would not go at the University of Iowa where headaches, sore feet, rheumatism, infantile paralysis, conscientious scruples, rickets and any old thing slides a cadet through on greased passage-ways. Even E. A. Jackson, L. '01, the representative of Culver in the west, in attempting to explain the matter, says the newspaper account, "lost himself in a rhetorical discussion and traced the shades of meaning between the words 'dismissed' and 'expelled' until everyone was lost in a labyrinth of reasoning."

The idea of the college firing half its students, merely because it breaks certain regulation which the professors have thought were fundamental! Would they do that at Cornell or Grinnell? Would Iowa expel any students for the mere breaking of the rule not to mob professors or burn university buildings?

The cadets ought to assert their independence from time to time, lest they be forgot. The idea that the faculty are the controlling body in an institution is one that will cause great harm to the manly independence and scholarly liberty of the students of the country unless it is dispelled at once. No labyrinthal reasoning should delay prompt action. If the nominal authorities get the notion that their temporary organization is permanent merely because students out of a delightful consideration for their feelings comply with their politely worded requests in small matters like class work, examination, graduation, and the like, their eyes should be opened, yea, they should be made to see great light. The Culver Cadets should seek another hall of learning, another mess room. And if Colonel Culver of Culver will not relent when he sees his peerless students listening to the dazzling prospects of rival colleges, and, later on, when he beholds the glory, the pride, and the chivalry of Culver adorning other schools and receiving the due allegiance of faculties, commandants, and governing boards, then is Colonel Culver a strange man, a solitary man, a man who is a credit to the military and doctoral professions.

Iowa has the strongest team she has ever had in her football history and will make a good showing in her claims for the western championship.—Scarlet and Black.

Misses Dorothy Dakin, Mabel Foster, Alice Howard and Edith Evans spent Monday evening in Newport township, doubtless causing the 100 per cent increase in the republican vote on the following day.

The alumni of Princeton University are much elated over the recent concession granting them direct representation of the board of trustees. The plan adopted provides for the enlargement of the board by adding five members, who are to be elected by a direct vote of all graduates who hold degrees.

It is rumored that at least one university instructor has been guilty of betting on the election and the football games, a misdemeanor punishable by a heavy fine under the laws of the State of Iowa. In connection with this, it is of interest to read in the Kansas University Weekly that the highest bet "yet recorded at K. U. is a certain well known diamond ring against $100."

The "ONLY" "Iowa" Pin in the market at A. M. Greer's.

Major Harkness had an assortment of samples of hats and leggins at the battalion headquarters Wednesday. He consulted the officers as to the selection which should be made. A hat selling at one dollar and leggins costing about fifty-four cents were selected as the best in the assortment. Major Harkness has selected these as the regulation hat and leggins and the stores in the city will soon have them on sale. General orders will be published soon directing their use and prescribing the date upon which they will be first worn.

Railroad Jack
At the opera house Monday, November 12. The new trip this season from all indications and will no doubt be accorded a welcome on its presentation here. "Jack Wraggles," the humorous vagabond in "Railroad Jack," who must be credited with having lived longer, theatrically speaking, than the majority of characters of his class will present himself on the occasion for the purpose of creating hilarity. Special scenery and mechanical effect are carried by the company. New songs, dances and music. Prices 35 and 50 cents.

The Yale Glee and Banjo Clubs will make, during the Christmas holidays, the longest trip on record for a college musical organization. The itinerary will include concerts in the principal cities between New Haven and San Francisco. The clubs will give concerts in California as follows: January 2, Oakland; January 3 and 4, San Francisco; January 5, Los Angeles.

Personally Conducted Excursions to California Every Tuesday

Every Tuesday during the winter season there will be a through Pullman tourist sleeping car on B., C. R. & N. train No. 2, leaving Albert Lea at 2:30 p. m., which will run through to California via Kansas City, Colorado Springs, the Scenic Route and Salt Lake City.

These cars are provided with the same neat outfits as found in first-class Pullman sleepers and are accompanied by a porter to keep them in first-class order. An obliging conductor also makes the trip through to California with each party to look after their every wish.

The rate per berth, accommodating two persons if desired, from stations Albert Lea to Waverly inclusive is $6; from stations south thereof $5.50. First and second class and round trip tickets are honored in these cars.
