the
HEADQUARTERS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA,

MUSIC DEPARTMENT,

Miss Winifred F. Wilson, Professor of Music.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS FOR SALE.

Art Student Strike.

The Music Department is now in the midst of its musical program for the year. The department is well-equipped and well-stocked with musical instruments of various kinds. The students have the opportunity to study and practice under the guidance of trained instructors. The department offers lessons in piano, voice, violin, cello, and other instruments.

The department is open to all students, regardless of major. Interested students are encouraged to visit the department and speak with a faculty member to discuss their options.

The department also hosts regular recitals and concerts, providing a platform for students to showcase their skills and才华. Students interested in performing are welcome to join the various ensembles and groups that are part of the department.

In addition to lessons and performances, the department offers resources and support for students who wish to pursue music as a career or hobby. This includes information on scholarships, internships, and other opportunities.

The Music Department is committed to fostering a love of music and providing a supportive environment for students to learn, grow, and succeed. Students are encouraged to take advantage of the resources available and to engage in the vibrant musical community at the University of Iowa.}

The Music Department of the University of Iowa is proud to announce the upcoming Spring Recital Series. These recitals feature a variety of performances by students from the music department, showcasing their talents on a diverse range of instruments. The series will take place throughout the month of April, with recitals held in various locations on campus.

Upcoming dates and locations include:

- April 1: Rotch Chapel, 7:30 PM
- April 8: MacBryde Hall, 8 PM
- April 15: Boettler Hall, 7:30 PM

These events are open to the public, and admission is free. Tickets are not required. However, please note that some recitals may have limited seating, so early arrival is recommended.

The recitals are a fantastic opportunity to experience the talent of Iowa's music students and to support their artistic endeavors. We look forward to sharing these wonderful performances with you!

The Music Department is excited to announce the recent addition of a new music faculty member, Ms. Laura Brown. Ms. Brown brings a wealth of experience and expertise to the department, and will be a valuable asset to our student body.

Ms. Brown holds a degree in music education and has taught in various capacities for many years. She is passionate about music and dedicated to fostering the growth and development of young musicians. Her presence in our department will undoubtedly enrich the educational experience for our students and further enhance the quality of our musical offerings.

Welcome aboard, Ms. Brown! We are thrilled to have you join our community and look forward to working with you and our students.

The University of Iowa Music Department is proud to present the annual Spring Concert. This event is a testament to the talent and hard work of our students and faculty, and promises to be an unforgettable night of music.

The concert will feature a variety of performances by our student ensembles, including the Iowa Wind Symphony, the Iowa Symphony Orchestra, and the Iowa Choral Union. Each group will showcase their skills and talents, presenting a diverse range of musical pieces.

The concert is scheduled for May 5th at 8 PM in the MacBryde Hall. Tickets are available for purchase at the box office, and are sure to sell out quickly, so be sure to get yours early!

Join us for an evening of music, excitement, and enjoyment as we present the Spring Concert. We look forward to sharing this special event with you!
