The executive committee of the board of managers of the University of Iowa decided Tuesday to ask of the executive committee of the city council for permission to build a new temporary theatre. The committee is interested in the development of the potential capacity for the medical college building department.

There is now $15,000 in the presidential fund of the college, and President McClain says the university will ask for and every year for $20,000 in addition to the present $10,000. He adds that the baseboards and first stories of the building will be built of brick and will be used during the temporary quarters for the medical college building department.

The theatre will be on the eastern side of the college grounds, on the same line as the new building now under construction.

The college was held in an emergency meeting Tuesday to go to Dress' meeting to present the plans for the new theatre.

"We do not know just how much we will get from the council," the president said. "It has many needs now that are pressing on it, especially the temporary quarters. But it is growing in strength: each year we will have to do more of our work in the life of the institution that is to exist forever.

"We ask for $15,000 in excess of the present expenditure for the temporary quarters. The estimates for the temporary quarters is $40,000 and the cost of the new temporary quarters will be $55,000.

"The engineering department will work out the plans and we can help it. President McClain asked me to go ahead with the work. The plans are not on the drawing board, and we will have to build a temporary building if the council gives permission to go to Dress' meeting.

"We have the plans for the temporary quarters and we have a building from an architect who at the head of the college grounds.

"The college is now under construction and we will have to do a great deal of work in this quarter. We will have to be careful that the college will be ready for the opening of the new term in the spring term."

The college has already been approved by the executive council and now has the authority to go ahead with the work.

Text meeting of the girls' fraternity at Close Hall this afternoon to select the houses for part of an is excellent move. While the business at hand and the intent in ending partir early lives with the men of the university, the deliberation of the plans for this afternoon will have great the matter.

Text series of interesting and closely between the liquid boy by Mr. Thomas which ended last night should be followed by other addressees giving the fruits of studies of the university, the instruction and staff and graduate college. The students who requested Mr. Thomas' lectures will have to come to the same excellent kind.

And now the wonder grows space and the question is heard on every hand. "What was Wisconsin doing about?" The only explanation for her charges, protests, and delays that occur to Illinois. In view of the compact fluidity of affairs that was necessary because of a defeat and based on general principles. According to the compact, Wisconsin and Iowa will meet for two more years. During this time it is to be hoped that Wisconsin will learn to take the course from Iowa. It is too often as well as Iowa took defeat from Wisconsin in the first meeting of the university in debate. The Cardinal, too, may learn that it is not good form to make insinuations and charges when particulars and proofs are lacking. The Cardinal, of course, has not the advantage of beholding the national and state relations in which the Iowa Republican emerged from its attack by Manager McIntyre. He had held that horrible example, its induction would be inexcusable.

Up to the Association
The suggestion by President Conger of the Graduate club that an advisory faculty member be added to the lecture bureau is another indication that thoughtful university people do not at all ignore the lecture bureau as it process considerable. Such an advisory member might help the lecture course more or less: it would depend upon the professor who selected.

VARSITY TO GO FORWARD

The board will make a tentative budget at the April meeting and a full budget of expenditures in every line at the June meeting.

"I was talking to Judge Hubbard at Skowa City the other day about the influence of the University on the state and especially on politics. He said that it has been aiding him every year. He last noted his influence with

Scott M. Ladd, for the sup-

ernumerary seat. It became very noticeable when the name of Chancellor McClain, politicians, are coming more and more to the influencing of politics and strength of university men. All this helps the university in many ways. The legislature is bound to give us what we need in the way of building. More mo-
