SPRING TERM ATTRACTIONS

Spring Term Will be a Busy one in Every Line of Activity—Attractions Already Promised—Closely Crowded Together

The spring term bids fair to be a short, sweet period. The attractions already promised for it are many and every opportunity for student enjoyment, outside of his study and class hours, is provided. The only thing that will occur to many students is that they will have to choose carefully among the many attractions in order to square expenditures with allowances.

The athletic season starts out with a rush on Wednesday, April 17, when the series of six games with the Rock Island team commences. The games will be most interesting to all students, as affording the first view of the Iowa team at play and allowing the first estimates on the players. A game on April 11 or 12 has been talked of, and may be scheduled. The Rock Island games will be played on April 17, 18, 19, 20, 22, and 23. On April 24 the first college game of the season takes place—Knox contest. Base ball games then follow thick and fast for the rest of the term. Grinnell is here on April 27, Nebraska May 7, the Ames league game on May 11, and the first Coe game on May 16. Simpson comes to Iowa City on May 21 and Grinnell plays the league game here on the following day. On the first day of June, the State Normal comes to Iowa City and on alumni day, June 11, the best game on the home grounds occurs—that with Illinois.

The first track meet will be the home meet, to held about April 27. The next week will see the Drake or some other state college at Iowa City for the first dual meet of the term. Several students will want to accompany the track team on its trips to Northwestern and Minnesota, especially in view of the low rates offered by the railroads. On May 24 the state meet occurs at Des Moines, which will be attended by every student who can go to it.

The committee of the fraternities on the pan-hellenic party has postponed preparations for that event until after Lent. It will be the largest party of the year if held, the idea of putting all the proceeds into the party allowing the committee to surpass any of the class parties as now conducted. The annual concert of the glee clubs will occur April 8 and the junior prom April 12. The senior hop, the largest and best class party of the year, will occur June 16, and is the culmination of the brilliant commencement week.

Minnehaha will open May 1 and will be the scene of many fine parties and dinners. The boating season will open at the same time. Fitzgerald will add a number of new boats to his fine assortment of canoes and row-boats that so please collegians during the month of the spring term.

The Iowa City opera house will have a number of excellent attractions. Among the performances already booked are: A Wise Woman, a great London Success, by Marie Lamour; For Her Sake, with a plot laid in Russia; Roscoe and Hollands's minstrel's; and The Slaves of Opium, which made a hit last week in Minneapolis.

The Philomathean society elected the following officers last evening: President, J. A. Fesenbeck, vice-president, John Boler, treasurer, S. S. Stover, secretary, W. P. Hanson, June orator R. J. Clearman.

The Sigma Nu fraternity gave a dinner party in honor of Judge Deemer last evening.

MIDDLETONIAN MAGAZINE

Initial Number of the New Magazine a Successful and Inspiring Publication—Excellent Material Gathered by Editors

The Middletonian, Volume I, No. 1, L. A. Wescott, editor-in-chief, J. Clark Cooper, business manager, published semi-annually by the Middletonian Medical Society, the Hubbs press, Waterloo, March, 1901.

The Middletonian Magazine, fifty-two pages, bound in a neat yellow cover, made its appearance yesterday. It is a magazine that has a field in the medical department and will certainly prove an advantage to the Middletonian society under whose auspices it is issued. It is well edited in all departments and nearly all of its contributions are of worth and merit.

An excellent cut of Dean Middleton serves as a frontpiece and an introduction to the leading article, which is by Dr Middleton on Do We Progress? The paper shows that Iowa does progress in medical work, laboratories, clinics and hospitals and expresses the hope that as the university grows more progress will be made in the direction of immense laboratory equipments. An able and scholarly paper by R. D. Blackmore on Organo-Therapy is the next paper. Dr Bierring contributes an interesting and valuable paper on Rabies. Other papers are: Malia, Fred Puleston; A Few Words to the Middletonian by W. D. Middletonian; Waiting for the Resurrection Morn, Dr P. J. Farnsworth; Early Reminiscences Dr J. C. Shrader; The Middletonian society, by Henry Albert.

The alumni department is conducted by Dr R. E. Conniff, the class editors, ranked from senior to freshman, are: A. B. Hender, Henry Albert, H. E. McCall and G. E. Lyon.

The article on malaria by Fred Puleston deserves comment for many reasons. It lacks style, is deficient in grammar, has no scientific worth and comes to no conclusion, except to show that the author has really been in Africa. The author concludes that whites takes the disease because of "Psychichal" causes—in other words, because of their imagination. In the case of negroes, the "psychichal" cause seems to fail in its workings and the malarial parasite is called in at the last moment to account for malaria among the native inhabitants of the country. The paper is really amusing.

For Earlier Hours

At the invitation of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity, the three girls' fraternities of the University met at Close Hall, Thursday afternoon to consider the question of earlier hours for parties. The meeting decided that all present would go home from the junior prom at 2:30. This action practically means that the prom will close at that hour.

Dean Young, whose able article advocating earlier hours, published in the VIDETTE-REPORTER of Feb. 28, created much interest in the question, said of the meeting: "I am pleased to hear of the action of the meeting. It is a step in the right direction. I think that the hour of closing the parties might be earlier, but 2:30 is better than a later hour. I hope that the junior prom will begin earlier now that this action is taken. I see no reason why it can not begin at 8 o'clock as well as two hours later."

H. G. McClain, ex-'03 is on the sick list today.

PENNSYLVANIA-IOWA

Negotiations now Pending Looking Toward Pennsylvania-Iowa Football Game Next Fall to be Played on Franklin Field

George Woodruff, for the football management of Pennsylvania University, has made advances to the Iowa management which may result in an opportunity for Iowa to measure strength and skill with the football warriors of Pennsylvania. Many of Pennsylvania's football enthusiasts think that, on account of the reputation Iowa has established in football circles and the further fact that our popular coach is an alumnus of that institution, a game between these two universities would prove a very popular attraction on Franklin Field.

Dr A. A. Knipe, who is still in Philadelphia, is conducting the negotiations for Iowa and may close arrangements for the game before leaving there. If the game is scheduled the contest will doubtless be held on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, about the second of November.

Child Study

Assistant Professor Bolton will offer a course in Child Study for the spring term, the class meeting from 9 to 11 on Saturday mornings. The work will be a continuation of the winter term's work, though new students may enter at this time. It is open to all students who may take electives, and is designed to be of special practical value to prospective teachers. Parents or teachers interested may also be admitted.

A number of shirt waists, belts, and other fine pieces of dry goods were stolen from Bennison's new store on the opening day. Mr Bennison says that the thieves seemed to know just what they wanted and went after it in the most approved fashion. They have not been apprehended. It is probable that a number of persons worked the store together.

BROWN MEANS BUSINESS

Wants a Large Number of Track Candidates—No One Should be Backward About Turning Out the First of Next Term

"A large number of candidates for the track team should turn out the first day of next term," said Captain Brown today. "The 'Varsity needs new men in every event. It is to new performers that we must look for the help to win the meets that have been scheduled."

"No man should be backward about turning out. Many good athletes in embryo are lost to the University because of timidity in beginning track work. Every man in the University that is physically sound should turn out for practice. It will do him a great deal of good in the way of better health and spirits whether he makes the team or not. Every candidate will be welcomed by the management. No one should wait for a personal invitation because we cannot get around to all of the men."

"Johnnie Mack will be here by the first day of the spring term and everything will be in readiness for the candidates. We hope to have a great many of these and hope, too, that the University generally will encourage our efforts in every way."

'VARSITY SUMMER SESSION

Professor McConnell on the Purposes of the Session—Its Advantages to Teachers, Undergraduate and Graduate Students

The current number of Midland Schools is devoted to the University of Iowa. Among the many interesting articles is in one by Professor J. J. McConnell on the university summer session. It is as follows:

The summer session of the university had its origin in a desire on the part of the university authorities to enlarge the capacity of the institution for rendering service to the people of the state. The university is a part of the state's system of public education. By virtue of its position in this system there is incumbent upon it an important duty, not only in fitting teachers, originally, for positions in the higher grades of work in the public schools, but also in lending its aid, to increase the efficiency, if possible, of those already employed in the public school service.

It is the purpose of the university authorities to discharge this duty by making it possible for teachers to attend regular sessions of the university at times when they are not employed in their regular work.

If the university is to receive students from the high schools into its various colleges, in the spirit of the statutes which defines its relation to the public high schools of the state, it is highly important that the high school authorities on the other hand, and the university faculties on the other, hold a common view as to the nature and scope of public education, and that they cherish a common purpose in the accomplishment of the work in which each has an equal interest.

But the university is concerned in the education, not only of those who take advanced courses, but also owes it to the state to assist those who bear burdens of the other parts of the system, in bringing about the best possible conditions, in the interest of those who terminate their work in their local public schools. It is not then merely to recruit the ranks of its students that the university seeks this closer relation with the public schools, but it is rather in the spirit of service that the university opens its doors in a summer session and invites teachers to enter upon such university work as may be best suited to the requirements. The opportunities of this session are, however, not restricted to teachers. All classes of students are received on the same terms as are prescribed in the other sessions of the university. In maintaining this department of work, the board of regents has specially in view three classes of students.

1. The city superintendents, high school principals and teachers, and teachers in the higher grammar grades.

2. Undergraduates, college and university students.

3. Graduate students and others who may wish to engage in special research work.

It is the hope of the board of regents and the faculties of the university, that those who may be interested in the work offered in the summer session may co-operate heartily in this work and so make it possible for the university to increase the effectiveness of its service to the people of the state.

BUILDING FOR SOCIETIES

Proposition Agitated by Zetagathian and Irving Societies—Ten Thousand Dollar Building For Sole Society Use is Desired

There has been considerable talk on the campus of late of the Irving Institute and the Zetagathian societies combining to erect a society building. The project is for the two societies to raise $5,000 by subscription from among their members and alumni. The Hesperian and Erodelphian societies will probably assist to some extent in raising the amount. The regents are then to be approached with a request that they add $5,000 to this sum and construct the building for the sole use of the forensic societies.

The Zetagathian society originated the project. The Irvings have not yet determined upon their action in the matter. A position west of the dental building is desired for the society building.

President MacLean called the presidents of the societies to his office yesterday and informed them that beginning with next September, the university will find space for them on the campus, the accommodations to be just as good as they have enjoyed. The Zetagathians were promised a room in the new building but only till June, 1903. No provision will be made by the university to help the societies pay rent for their meeting places during the spring term, though rooms like the dental amphitheatre and law lecture rooms are open to them free of charge. These arrangements for the societies do not give general satisfaction though the kindness in making the effort to accommodate them is appreciated.

EDITORIAL.

As next week is examination week, this paper will, cease publication for the winter term with this issue. The first issue next term will appear Thursday, April 4.

The action of the girls' fraternities in regard to earlier hours for university parties is one that will meet with general approval. The moderate closing hour which they have chosen for the prom is calculated to succeed better than an earlier hour would. After the plan has once been tried, it may be that an even earlier hour will be adopted. The girls' fraternities are to be congratulated upon their stand.

As Regent Holbrook said Tuesday evening, a separate building for the forensic societies would be very desirable. The project now being agitated for the erection of such a building by the contributions of the societies, helped out by the regents, is a well-considered move and may be successful in securing the building. The societies of Cornell College, have a building devoted to their uses; why should not the Iowa societies?

In laying plans for the spring term, every student will want to arrange to attend all or a goodly majority of the 'Varsity games. Iowa athletics have progressed far beyond the material encouragement given them by the students of the University would warrant. Every game deserves to be attended by ninety per cent of the students instead of by ten per cent. This improvement in attendance can be obtained if every student will definitely plan to attend as many games as his allowance will warrant.

RED and BLUE, the annual publication of the University of Pennsylvania has adopted a manner of passing upon manuscripts submitted for publication that may well be considered by the editors of next year's Hawkeye. All manuscripts including those of the members of the board, will be read to the board, the name of the writer being withheld. No manuscript will be accepted except by a two-thirds vote. Such an arrangement would obviate several objectionable features that have appeared in annuals. It seems to be a fair method and one calculated to secure a high standard for the annual. The functions of the board are also increased, a desirable consummation.

Iowa State Conference of Charities and Corrections

The fourth annual session of the Iowa state conference of Charities and Correction will be held at Red Oak on April 3, 4, and 5. The object of the conference is to develop clearer ideas of the problems of charity and correction; to examine existing methods of poor relief, condition of lock ups, jails and police stations; and consider possible improvements for the care of the unfortunate, the infirm and the criminal. Special attention will be given to ways and means for repressing the tendencies in our modern life which multiply the delinquent, defective and dependent classes.

The officers of the association are as follows:

President—Isaac A. Loos, A. M., D. C. L., Iowa City; First Vice President—Judge G. S. Robinson, Sioux City; Second Vice President—Gershom H. Hill, M. D., Independence; Treasurer—H. S. Hollingsworth, Des Moines.

The local committee has arranged for an excursion to the Iowa Institution for Feeble Minded Children at Glenwood. Each delegate bears his own expenses, about $1.25 for the trip.

Friday, April 5—Child Saving, discussion by worker, led by Rev. W. H. Slingerland, superintendent of the Iowa Children's Home Society. Charity Organizations, E. P.
