The board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin—yesterday afternoon voted to propose the name of the new dean of the College of law in the hands of the president and the law committee of the board. The salary to be paid to not exceed $4,000. Dean Drake also said that he is the intention of the committee to make the selection of a new dean in a month or six weeks.

Dean Dr. Gregory Wilson was in the city yesterday, the guest of President MacLowt. He held business consultation with the board of regents and with the law committee of the board in connection with the desirability of the college law.

Dr. Gregory Wilson is a son of the late J. C. Gregory, who was never a resident of Madison, Wis., but was set December 27, 1897. When seven years of age he was sent to school at Madison, Wisconsin. He graduated at the University of Wisconsin, and received his degree of Ph.B. in the law of that institution. Graduating later from the University of Wisconsin, he received the degree of L. B. and, subsequently, of A. M. He practiced his profession in Madison and, as a partner of his father and the late Hon. B. C. Pinner of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin. Following this, he practiced more or less until about six years ago, when he went without solicitation to his part in the position of associate dean the college of law of the University of Wisconsin. The college has, during the period of his incumbency, greatly increased its attendance, its enrollment for course, and has maintained an attitude.

Dean Dr. Gregory Wilson is a son of the late J. C. Gregory, who was never a resident of Madison, now a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin, for many years as principal of the Asylum for the Insane and the Wisconsin State Historical Society and Wisconsin State Reformatory of the General Assembly of Wisconsin.

Dr. Gregory Wilson has been for three years a member of the executive committee of the American Bar Association, and is the fourth in number as general counsel of the National Civil Service Reform Association in Washington, D.C., the Wisconsin State Historical Society and the Wisconsin State Reformatory of the General Assembly of Wisconsin. He has been for three years, a member of the executive committee of the American Bar Association, and is the fourth in number as general counsel of the National Civil Service Reform Association in Washington, D.C.

He has been identified with a long list of offices in Wisconsin, against the exception of those which is not yet identified, with the struggle throughout the country. He has been closely associated with the judicial examination of the subject of the bar, and has contributed his labors to many others.

He has drafted the law for the new law in Wisconsin and throughout the state. A few years ago he was the author of the first article to appear in the Law Quarterly Review of London. The Law Times of London; The American Law Review; The Law Register Review; and in the publications of the American Bar Association; he has contributed literature articles in Littell's Weekly; the National Law Quarterly Review of Boston; the Independent; and other newspapers, quarterlies, and periodicals.

In addition to his law practice, he has been a member of the Executive Committee of the University of Illinois, as an alderman of the city of Madison; one year as a member of the Board of Education of the University of Wisconsin. The latter position was in the National Civil Service Reform Association in Washington, D.C., and throughout the state. A few years ago he was the author of the first article to appear in the Law Quarterly Review of London.
