PASSION
Persons following closely the activities of the state universities will not fail to observe that the increased number of athletic clubs and the greater frequency with which athletic contests are held has produced a general increase in the interest of the student body in athletic enterprises. The result is a marked improvement in the athletic department of the state university, which is now one of the strongest in the country.

At Valley Forge:

"At Valley Forge," William Roberts', Colonial drama, which will be seen here for the first time in this city at the homes, Thursday night is a play on a most interesting subject and deals with the love story of a captain of General Washington's Continental Army and a charming Tory maid, whose maroon home is situated near the Winter Camp of the Continental troops at Valley Forge. The dialogue is brief and convincing and cleverly managed in the point, while the homeyness is brought out in an easy natural manner. The play is mounted in an unusually elaborate manner, showing the quaint architecture and splendid woodwork of once-surrounding Valley Forge and Trenches. The play is a lay of our Colonial ancestors. The presence of the company is reported to be an unusual one, the acting is good, the dress is real, and the play is discreetly done. Excellent work. Members of Mr. Roberts and Miss Chadwick are full of promise. The leading roles. Pisa of 50 and 75 cents.
