VICTORY FOR MICHIGAN

MRS OTTO BRACKELTON
University of Iowa.

President Jones took a couple of turns up and down the platform.

"I am going to have a speech," he said. "I will stand on this platform and deliver the speech."

Mr. Jones insisted on delivering the address in person, as he was the only one available with the necessary equipment.

Following his address, the crowd erupted in enthusiastic applause, with many shouting "Michigan! Michigan!" and "Go Blue!" in response.

Mr. Jones was later presented with a plaque commemorating his contributions to the University of Iowa and the community.

The meeting was a great success, with many attendees expressing their gratitude for the opportunity to meet the President and share their ideas and concerns.

Summary of the meeting:

- President Jones addressed the attendees on the importance of education and innovation.
- The need for increased funding for research and student scholarships was emphasized.
- The importance of community engagement and partnerships was highlighted.

Conclusion:

The meeting was well-attended and productive, with many attendees expressing their support for the University of Iowa and the initiatives presented by President Jones.

The event marked a significant milestone in the University's history, and it is hoped that the initiatives presented will lead to continued success and growth.

Editorial

This showing made by the Drakes this afternoon was highly creditable. It is by no means too early in the season to pick the point winners in the contest. The city of Drake proved today that the contest for the state championship will be a close one and the Drake team will be there with necessary credentials.

Newspaper men of Iowa City have called our attention to the surprising charge made in yesterday's "Drake-Harvard" that the men of Drake proved today that the contest for team spirit would be a close one and the Drake team will be there with necessary credentials.

IOWA CITY VOGAL INSTITUTE

FACULTY LIST OF INSTRUCTORS.

The Director, C. Jayburns (prof. of the Royal Academy of Music, London), has named a series of names for this special teacher of singing, including six years in Chicago and five years in Iowa City. Experts have given him the highest praise for his talents and industry shown by his recent delivery and ability.

In a contest such as this there is glory and honor enough for all. The distinguished judges all kindly gave their time and attention to the hard and often thankless task of marking the orations and speeches exhibited by the talent of the entire league for the fair and able manner with which they performed their duties. The management of the contest by the officers of the league was excellent, and great credit is owing them for this. So can it be said, the University of Iowa performed its part in the contest without objection, for which the men who did the work, are entitled to great praise. There was any mistake, the league may rest assured that it was an error of head and not of the heart.

Iowa enjoyed the victory of the Northern Oratorical League. It is proper steadily in six years' ago among our other invasions. And may the time fly swiftly until it comes again to Iowa in 1913.
