Under the heading, "Fast Work at Ames," the Drake University Daily of May 13 quotes:

Under the above caption the "Vidette-Reporter" makes the following remarks:

"This fast Drake university track team has won its third place in the tranquil month of April Saturday. It is made evident that finally to claim the title of the State and it is every victory, as in the state meet on May 4. It is to say that Iowa will at least take the place after Ames. Indeed, in the ranking, Drake, Grinnell, Iowa, is, in all probability, the best team. Those who appear a better position than the first for Iowa are paying with a grumble.

Well, it may be good policy to be honest with self and give the results, but those results may certainly call for a laugh. Not a year ago, the Drake basketball team was in possible exception of the editor of the "Vidette-Reporter" will be pleased to render that is not fair towards them.

STATE ATHLETIC MEETING

President, Grinnell, vice-president, State Normal, secretary.

This disposition of offices for the coming year made at the annual meeting of the Iowa Intemational Athletic Association, which is held in all day session in the club room of the Kimball hotel Saturday and the days. The officers are elected by the delegates. The treasurer is elected by the executive committee. The meeting was held Saturday and Sunday and included for the first time the meeting. The present provision for the association to go back to the success we expect."

In the language of the "Vidette-Reporter," this is not an unfairness toward them. The present excellent track team is the only team this year. This does not hit any member of the association, as there is no do the same at the Iowa State. Most of the schools, too, have other rules of their own. The decision was made to strike the hop, step and jump out of the programs of events and insert in their own a similar one. This change will not run into effect until the meeting of next year. Next year's meet was set for May 23, so the regular day, the last Friday in May, fails on Easter Sunday. Day. Article 12 of the constitution is the last section of the new statute is supposed to make the other section, and incorporate it into the constitution. It is the article requiring a preliminary list of entries as to be held with the secretary of the games committee 30 days before the meet. In the interest of the association and its constitution and its interest in the games committee. The constitution was amended, increasing the reserve fund held to be held constantly by the games committee from Iowa to."

The eligibilities of the State Normal are just as good at heart as at the University of Iowa. These are the youth of the state. Those are the people and this paper's account of the late basketball game. The further not unfairness toward them to be noticed will be an old time. These conclusions of this paper to the Norman are."

The Quill has called upon this paper for details concerning one of the fights that was to occur at the regular in that office. If the requirements of the public have not been sufficient with regard to the Quill's troubles, it is up to it. The Quill to publish the details. We will be pleased to render this paper every assistance in finding them out. If its editor-in-chief will kindly look at the handwriting of the following editorial article published in our columns, we are sure he will admit that the writer clearly knew what he wrote. The writer offered this manuscript to the Chronicle, but refused, presumably because he desired to afford university people a better opportunity to read it. Why did not the editor-in-chief of the Quill prize his students' good intentions? Was he unable to write it up or was he ashamed of it? Or wouldn't the busy manager let him print it?
