MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Piloting Tributes Paid in Honor of Our Late President by Members of the Faculty and Citizens.

The Fall Convocation was held in the gymnasium, Thursday. This convocation is a usually one of joyous expectation, where class and college faculties are given with a will, was this year a quiet and sorrowful memorial service, in memory of the Nation's assassinated President. It was participated in, not only by the faculties and students, but also by the citizens of the city and the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The service was conducted by Rev. Charles Noble Gregory who paid a brave and touching tribute to the murdered President. He traced President McKinley's life from his birth to his tragic death bringing out clearly those instances and turning points in his career which best exemplifies the strong character of the man: his simple boyhood, his integrity, as a lawyer, his bravery and piety on the battlefield where he laid down his life as a youth, his strength of character, his deep piety, and his faith in God.

In closing Dean Gregory said: "President McKinley's noble life teaches us citizenship and loyalty to the American people. Let his grave be heaped with the highest praise of memory. He has this day the tears and the songs and the prayers of the people. He will live in time and eternity in the history and life of the people whom he served. He has gone, but he gives us our choice, what did he give?

He climbed the steep ascent of life and service and sacrifice, but not a separation from the people. He now sleeps in his little home forever. God bless him and keep him."

An address was then given by the Rev. Mr. Schloch, who dwelt on Mr. McKinley's usefulness to duty. Professor Samuel C. Stein gave a touching tribute on behalf of the Grand Army of the Republic and Senator Geo. W. Ball, in behalf of the citizens of Iowa. President MacLean spoke for the University of Iowa. The program was closed by the singing of "America" recitation rooms on the second floor Y.M.C.A. Daily.

FALL FIELD DAY.

Nine Annual Field Meet to be Held Saturday. Class Scoring and the Illinois Cup.

The ninth annual fall track and field meet of the State University of Iowa will be held on Saturday afternoon, September 28, 1901. All men in any department of the university who expect to do track athletic work during the coming year, and especially new students, are urgently requested to hand in their entries, either to Manager Fred C. McElroy or Captain R. M. Anderson. The athletic management were consulted in regard to an earlier date than usual, on account of how much work it is necessary to do during the next week. The west side of the track has been covered with sand, in order to roll down during the past summer. At good over the track in fair condition to limber up their muscles.

The athletic manager of each class should determine the selection of their respective classes at this time, in order to enter their names early, as the tournament may be selected on the basis of the results of the meet.

Society Halls.

At a recent meeting of the board of regents, Close Hall was appointed for the home for the forensic societies and the students may enter the second floor of the building in the fall, and the first floor will be used for the purposes of the various classes.

At Woodbine normal school, Ely, who is still in the Philippines, writes sending best wishes and says he is doing well and will be with his friends.

The daily newspaper of the University of Iowa, the Daily Nebraskan, Wilkins, of Red River, who is in charge of his father's farm, is expected to come back, as he is head coach at Simpson college, and he is head coach at the University of Iowa, and is head coach at the University of Pennsylvania, and is head coach at the University of Rochester.

The last week in August, the students of the University of Iowa will begin their classes. The first half of the semester will be spent in the study of the sciences, and the second half in the study of the arts. The university will be open for the fall semester on the 22nd of September.

The football team will line up with the scratch for the first time Monday morning.

FOOTBALL CANDIDATES.

Specialization as to Prospects — Personnel of Candidates — Many of Last Year's Eleven Out of School.

Specialization as to the probable strength of the Iowa football team for 1901 has been rife since the close of the spring athletic season. Conflicting stories concerning the present condition and the future outlook of athletics at the University have been sent out by the correspondents of Iowa City. Many of these stories which have emanated from unfriendly sources no comment will be made in this article.

The articles written in a friendly vein express the fear that the absence of so many of last year's first eleven, who graduated, and the lightness in weight of most of the new candidates, will make it impossible for Dr. Knipe to judge a third championship team. Mingled with this fear is a grain of hope from the new aggregation, composed of three members of the great team Iowa ever boasted, half a dozen or fifteen new men, may be selected a team that will maintain its position as one of the strongest in the west.

Captain B. C. Williams.

On August 31st and Assistant Coach Booth and Captain Williams went into camp at Minnehaha in charge of a squad consisting of Briggs, sub-center; the returning team, three fast young high school athletes, White, of Corrective, Williams, of Red Oak, and Terrill service of our late president were sufficient to occasion the deepest sorrow. The humiliation and rage are that so foul a crime against free society should have been committed in the very land whose free government has made it possible for the fiendish anarchism represented by Czolgosz to exist.

"Two pathetic coincidences place the murder of Wm. McKinley nearly on a plane with the murder of another Great Man two centuries ago. He was betrayed by an act of courtesy toward his betrayer and surely the first hastily expressed thought of McKinley for the safety of the murderer. "Don't hurt him," equals in greatness of pity and desire for justice, the last words wrong in agony from the Saviour on the cross, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." As it remained for centuries of education in religious sanctuary, college, and home, to teach the people of the world that law and order as taught by Christ was preferable to the oppression of tyrants, so it now remains for the same agencies to enlighten the ignorant few who desire the triumph of anarchy over law and order as represented by men like McKinley.

Meanwhile the patient suffering of the invalid wife at Canton is the nation’s suffering. Her grief is the nation’s grief. And the same solace she has in the memory of the nobility and loyalty of her husband, the nation has in the memory of the lofty patriotism of its martyred gentleman, soldier, statesman, and president.

The memorial exercises held at the opera house Thursday abounded in loving and eloquent tributes to the memory of our late chief magistrate, but it remained for President MacLean, in his brief closing address, to sound in most lofty and inspiring tone the just praise the great people of this great nation have for the work of McKinley, the statesman and president, and their admiration of the patience, faithfulness, and true, manly goodness of Major Wm. McKinley, the loving husband, the kind friend, the lofty citizen. It was a speech that appealed to the head, heart and soul of every true man and woman within hearing.

W. B. Bell, "o," has returned to the university after spending the summer in the U. S. Fish Commission laboratories at Wood’s Hole, Mass. He brings back a good assortment of marine invertebrates for the department of zoology.

Athletic Board Meets.

The board of athletic control held the first meeting of the year in the new athletic council room in the Liberal Arts building at 10 o'clock this morning.

President Smith, after approval of the minutes of the last meeting, called for election by ballot of president and secretary of the board for the ensuing year, whereupon Dr. Knipe offered a motion to re-elect President Smith and Secretary Hosford, and thanking them in the name of the Athletic Union for their past services. Both of these gentlemen declining to serve on account of lack of time, Professor E. A. Wilson was elected president, and Dr. John Westfall, secretary. Dr. Westfall was appointed on the board to succeed Professor Loos whose resignation was due to heavier work in other lines. A letter was read, from Joe Warner who was, last spring, elected as the manager of the foot ball team, in which his resignation was tendered as he will not be in the university this year. The resignation was accepted with regret as the members of the board as well as all friends of the team would have been glad if Warner should have been present during the season.

The date of the home field meet September 22, was then approved as was also the change in date of the fall meet from October 5th to October 11th.

The matter of a training table occasioned much discussion, as all offers had been secured that were considered satisfactory. When it became evident, however, that no better arrangements could be made, the board appropriated $30 per week for the purpose, thus providing for eighteen men. A motion was then taken till the next regular meeting date, October 5th.

Summer Botany.

During the past summer the botanical department of the university inaugurated a summer outdoor course (in botany), which it is hoped may become a permanent institution. Lake Okoboji, in Dickinson county, was selected as the vantage point for the study of both prairie and aquatic flora and a camp and laboratory facilities were maintained there from July 27 to August 20. About eighteen students took advantage of the opportunities offered, and all report their past work in other lines. A. T. Calkins, M. D., was the instructor, and great credit is due to him for the highly successful manner in which the experiment was carried out.
