MEDICS CARED FOR.

Temporary Arrangements for the College of Medicine—Pathological Laboratory

When the medical building was destroyed by fire last March and the collections of twenty-five years' work were lost, it was predicted that the college of medicine would never recover from the blow, and that the school would be in a crippled and semi-efficient condition for several years.

Of course the college of medicine is more or less scattered around through the different buildings but this is a temporary inconvenience which could not have been avoided. The physiological laboratory is well located in the old philosophy building and has more than its old quarters in the medical building. The pathological and physiological laboratories will be in the south wing of the arts hall on the ground floor. The pathological laboratory will be under the amphitheatre. These collections are to be re-examined and collected by Dr. Walter L. Biering in Europe this summer and consequently we have a wonderful collection of which the college and university are justly proud.

In the structure which has been erected on the old site of the medical building are located the museum tournament to be held at the Strawberry Point club house this summer. The museum is very large and is quite possible that the contest may be counted on after a little work. That this is the case is evidenced by the boys. After a good round of handshaking and friendly good nights, the Irving boys got their friends "good night" and invited them to their regular meetings and future receptions.

Fall Tennis.

R. D. Marsh, the university tennis captain, is in receipt of a letter from Manager C. D. Voran of Cornell, asking for a tennis team to be held at the latter place sometime this fall. The men interested in tennis are to be considered as by the tennis management and it is quite possible that the contest may be held.

Bailey and Shaw, of last year's team, are not in the university for the present season. The old English old guard may be counted on after a little practice. The new men are in fair condition and will have plenty of work to do. The tennis team will hold its meetings as usual and try for a place on the team.

Homoeopathic Notes.

E. P. Farrarn, '98, of New Hampton, brought a petition to the hospital Monday.

A. E. Cren,'95, returned Thursday to resume his studies in medicine.

Dr. Crowell practiced at Tipton during vacation.

H. H. Alden, '02, will return to the University September 30.

Humeston, i.e., his re-entered school and Called a Sophomore.

Dr. Cogswell and Johnstone of Cedar Rapids, gave their opening lectures Tuesday.

Dr. Bywater is filling Dr. Newberry's place in the eye and ear clinics during the latter's absence.

Newberry is spending a couple of weeks at Strawberry Point.

The first meeting of the board of regents for this school year will be held Thursday and Friday. The executive committee, consisting of Regents Karker K. Holbrook, Alonzo Atenary, M. A. Higley, J. H. Babb, is in session today.

A training table has been established in the medical building for the use of the men who are already registered and the p axes for which they are candidates. Castle, Smirch, guard; Hollebeck, guard, or tackle; Seibert, end or tackle; Sezler, end or tackle; Allen, end or tackle; Allen GIlbert, of Dayton, Ohio. The next game is with Michigan. Many of the men are already registered and the club is well up to snuff. The game is with Michigan. Many of the men are already registered and the club is well up to snuff.

FOOTBALL INTEREST.

Business Men of Iowa City Deeply Interested in Iowa Team's Success.

Will Aid in Advertising.

Members of the '01 Commercial Club, who was organised last spring, met in the K. of P. hall last evening, with Mayor Steiblin in the chair.

After allowing a number of bills for the matter of advertising, the meeting was then taken up, and, after considerable discussion, a motion offered by Judge Wade was passed, authorizing the committee on transportation to communicate with Secretary Cherry, with the other commercial clubs of the state with a view to organizing to the end of securing legislation looking to lower freight rates for Iowa ships.

In the matter of franchises asked by two Cedar Rapids companies, desire to build inter-urban electric lines between the two cities, the transportation committee with the understanding of Judge Yetter, were authorised to go to the Cedar Rapids companies and offer consideration relative to the advantages in the way of through freight and passenger transportation to the respective companies can offer.

Manager McCutchen then informed that a friendly game would be played the evening of the first and third fall for the round trip to Iowa City within a radius of seventy-five miles. Kum has been announced by the B. & O., R. & R. N. and the C. R. & P. railway companies for the dates of the five first team games. October 5 and 18, November 3, 9, 17, and 19, if the merchants did not feel that it would pay to decorate their store fronts with banners and bunting. This precipitated a general discussion, Movers Wade, W. C. Yetter, Henry Louis, Geo. Sueppel, Euclid Saunders, and in fact nearly every one of the twenty members present and but little work will make ready four courts. All those who are interested in the old English team should join the association ascertaining the whereabouts of the courts and try for a place on the team.

Irvings Entertain.

The Irving boys last night in Kenyon hall gave an entertainment. After the seventy-five freshmen were out, the first part of the evening was spent in getting a place and in the making of the freshmen at home. Refreshments consisting of several baskets of fruit were then brought out and everyone was bushed. A short program of speeches by some of the Irving men were given. After the Irving men had entertained the audience by reciting one of James Whitcomb Riley's most popular poems and also a comic recitation in German dialect.

L. Boughan was then called upon and he responded with one of his comic selections, which was responded to by a roar of laughter by the boys. After a good round of handshaking and friendly good nights, the Irving boys bid their new friends "good night" and invited them to their regular meetings and future receptions.

Application made to Iowa City post-office for second class mail matter.

A debt of abiding gratitude is owing to Prof. A. G. Smith and Dean W. S. Hosford, who last Saturday retired from the presidency and secretaryship of the board of athletic control. This much may be said, while in no degree depreciating the value of the services of the other members of the board, who have all performed their duties with unselfish zeal truly admirable. To these two gentlemen, however, has fallen a burden of responsibility greater in weight than the responsibility of any member of faculty in the University. As members of the executive committee, of whom Mr. Lin M. Butler was the student member, it has been the practice of the board to refer nearly all matters of business detail for action, they have been called upon to pass on expenditures of many thousands of dollars. To the executive committee, in fact, has fallen the duty of directing the strictly financial portion of the business of the athletic union. Any business man may acquire an idea of the magnitude of the business thus transacted by this committee, when it is stated that in multiplicity of business details and in importance of interests affected it is on a par with the business of the average merchant whose stock is represented by a capitalization of $20,000. To add to the general difficulties in the way of providing financially for the continuation of the athletic teams, the outstanding indebtedness of the Athletic Union, amounted at the advent of these gentlemen on the board, to more than $3,000. In the face of the feeling of distrust entertained by many the pressure of business with whom this money was owing, supplies for the football team of '99, Sam Tanner's Panitorium, the resources of the athletic union have been conducted, that its credit is such as to be good at any store in Iowa City for any reasonable amount of goods desired.

The business of the athletic department of the university has grown immensely in magnitude in the two years that have elapsed since the present board succeeded the preceding advisory board. For the first time the regents have felt it necessary to make appropriation towards the field, which in past years had seldom played to an attendance in which the paid admissions amounted to more than $200 to $500, has in the past two years participated in several games in which the gross receipts amounted to $1,500 to $3,000, while it is expected that the receipts from certain games will easily double the above figures. Of course this does not mean that profits will necessarily be larger, for the reason that the legitimate and necessary expenses in connection with these great games are very much larger.

It all goes to show, however, that the business that is passed upon by the board through this committee is much greater and in multiplicity of detail than it used to be.

For the first time, last spring, the board of athletic control felt that the resources of the athletic department, including its credit and future to pay, were such that it could consistently incur another debt in order that the track and baseball teams might be given all the advantages possible in the way of equipment and good salaries. This indebtedness has been further increased in the equipment of the football team and in the connection with the improvements at the athletic grounds. The indebtedness is not, however, regarded as a standing debt, but is used as a means by the board through this committee to meet the expenses of the athletic department.

These various matters are here mentioned for the purpose of showing that the financial responsibilities of the board have been great, and that these responsibilities have fallen most heavily upon the executive committee. In addition to all this, the two men in common with the other members of the board have devoted much of their own time, energy, and careful thought to the able policy that has done much towards keeping Iowa in the forefront in athletics in the west. They have been very faithful in the able performance of their respective offices, of which the improvements have consisted entirely of the consciousness of a work well done and they deserve the very great gratitude of the entire university, as well as its loyal support in their future connection with the merchants to whom they are constant as members.

Amusements
Like apple blossoms fall in the spring, after a shower of rain, when the wind blows through an orchard, so do tears fall from the eyes of spectators during a production of "Uncle Josh Sprucey" and just as the sun follows the rain, so does laughter succeed the tears in the rendering of the drama. It is not an affected story. It is a true tale of a few simple, but honest people, the principal incidents of their lives tied together with pure and at the same time, beautiful language. It is not a stage poem, filled with all those things which make laughter and tears co-mingle and is a manner truly dramatic. To be seen at the opera house for Saturday, matinee and night, September 28th: matinee 15 and 25 cents; evening 20, 30 and 50 cents.

"A Poor Relation," which made Sol Smith Russell famous, is by the same author who wrote "An American Tramp," the romantic comedy that will be seen here Monday night. In it the author touches that well-springs of emotion—the heart, and also will cause laughter to chase away the tears that come unbidden during the unfolding of its intensely interesting story. Admission 50 and 75 cents. Secure your seats in advance.
