MEDICS CARED FOR.

Temporary Arrangements for the College of Medicine--Pathological Collection.

When the medical building was destroyed by fire last March and the collections of twenty-five years completely ruined, many predicted that the college of medicine would never recover from the injuries, or at the least would be in a crippled and semi-efficient condition for several years.

Of course the college of medicine is more or less scattered around through the different buildings but this is a temporary inconvenience which could not have been avoided. The physiological laboratory is well located in the old philosophy building where it has more room than in its old quarters in the medical building. The histological and pathological laboratories are in the south wing of the arts hall on the ground floor. The pathological specimens are in the museum under the amphitheatre. These consist of plaster casts made and collected by Dr. Walter L. Biering in Europe this summer and constitute altogether a truly wonderful collection of which the college and university are justly proud.

In the structure which has been erected on the foundations of the old medical building are located an amphitheatre and lecture room together with several smaller museums of specimens. Here also is the dissecting room, and hereafter dissecting hours will come in the afternoon instead of the evening, this very agreeable change being made possible by the lengthening of the medical course to four years of nine months. Lastly the departments of Ophthalmology, Otology and Laryngology are located in the university hospital where the lectures and clinics both are given. It will be seen that though greatly spread out through the different buildings, occupying five in all, that the medical college is well provided with room and apparatus with which to carry on its work. That this is appreciated over the state is evidenced by the large number of freshmen enrolled, largely in excess of last year's freshman class.

Today the executive committee of the Board of Regents meet and on Thursday, the full board will come together for the purpose of completing their biennial report and legislative request to be presented to the 29th general assembly. At this time plans will be decided upon for the rebuilding of the medical building. There has been much discussion on the subject of placing it upon the east campus near the hospital and it is probable that this site will be selected.

Irving's Entertain.

The Irving's received the freshmen boys last night in Kenyon hall on Iowa Avenue. About seventy-five freshmen were out. The first part of the evening was spent in getting acquainted and in the making of the freshmen at home by the Irving's. Refreshments consisting of several baskets of fruit were then brought out, and then everyone was busy.

A short program of speeches by some of the Irving's were given. L. A. Minkel entertained the audience by reciting one of James Whitcomb Riley's most pathetic poems and also a comic recitation in German dialect.

W. L. Baughn was then called upon and he responded with one of his comic selections, which was responded to by a roar of laughter by the boys. After a good round of handshaking and friendly good nights, the Irving's bid their new friends "good night" and invited them to their regular meetings and future receptions.

Fall Tennis.

R. D. Marsh, the university tennis manager, is in receipt of a letter from manager C. D. Yoran of Cornell, asking for a tennis tournament to be held at the latter place sometime this fall. The matter will be considered at once by the tennis management and it is quite possible that the contest may be arranged.

Bailey and Shaw, of last year's team, are not in the university but Ellis, Marsh, Mather and Hull may be counted on after a little practice. The courts are in fairly good condition at present and a little work will make ready four courts. All those who are interested in the old English game should join the association ascertain the whereabouts of the courts and try for a place on the team.

Homoeopathic Notes.

E. P. Farnum, '98, of New Hampton, brought a patient to the hospital Monday.

A. E. Oren, '02, returned Tuesday to resume his studies. Mr. Crew practiced at Tipton during vacation.

G. H. Alden, '02, will return to the University September 30.

Humeston, ex-'02 has re-entered school and becomes a sophomore.

Drs. Cogswell and Johnstone of Cedar Rapids, gave their opening lectures Tuesday.

Dr. Bywater is filling Dr. Newberry's place in the eye and ear clinics during the latter's absence. Dr. Newberry is spending a couple of weeks at Strawberry Point.

The first meeting of the board of regents for this school year will be held Thursday and Friday. The executive board, consisting of Regents Karker K. Holbrook, Alonzo Abernathy, M. A. Higley, and W. I. Babb, is in session today.

A training table has been established and following are the men who are already registered and the places for which they are candidates; Briggs, center; Smith, guard; Hollenbeck, guard or tackle; Seiberts, end or tackle; Burrier, tackle; Watters, half back; Herbert, end; Terrell, White, Wilkins, and Williams, backs.

FOOT-BALL INTEREST.

Business Men of Iowa City Deeply Interested in Iowa Team's Success—Will Aid in Advertising

Members of the Commercial Club, which was organized last spring, met in the K. of P. halls last evening, with Mayor Stebbins in the chair.

After allowing a number of bills the matter of freight rates was taken up, and, after considerable discussion, a motion offered by Judge Wade was passed, authorizing the committee on transportation to communicate, through Secretary Cherry, with the other commercial clubs of the state with a view to organizing to the end of securing legislation looking to lower freight rates for Iowa shippers.

In the matter of franchises asked by two Cedar Rapids companies, desiring to build inter-urban electric lines between the two cities, the transportation committee with the addition of C. Yetter, were authorized to go to Cedar Rapids and secure information relative to the advantages in the way of through freight and passenger traffic connections the respective companies can offer.

Manager McCutchen then informed the club of the rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip to Iowa City within a radius of seventy-five miles that has been announced by the B. C. R. & N. and the C. R. I. & P. railway companies for the dates of the five first team games, October 5 and 18, and November 2, 9 and 17, and asked if the merchants did not feel that it would pay to decorate their store fronts with bunting and banners. This precipitated a general discussion, Messrs Wade, C. Yetter, Henry Louis, Geo. Suetzel, Euclid Saunders, and in fact nearly every one of the twenty members present taking part. Every man who spoke expressed the sentiment that something should be done by the club to help advertise the rates in the surrounding towns as well as to decorate the business portion of the city on the dates of the five games. As a result of the discussion a motion was unanimously adopted appropriating $50 to aid the athletic board in advertising these games in the surrounding towns. The manager was also requested and promised to furnish the merchants with cards designating the college colors of the visiting teams, in order that both the colors of the visiting and the home teams may be displayed. The discussion was altogether very animated and evidenced the fact that the merchants are deeply interested in the work of the football team, and that they want games to be played here at home and will do all they can to help draw the crowds here and to make the town as pleasant as possible for visitors.

Mr. Euclid Saunders then addressed the club on the subject of the proposed new dam in the Iowa river adjacent to the city and stated that he was willing that his offer in regard to the old dam might be considered and accepted if desired, entirely separate from his proposition to sell the land on the west side of the river, opposite the present dam site to the city for park purposes.

Arrow Head's Advice.

The Arrow Head of Nebraska University contains the following bit of excellent advice for the underclassman; "Freshmen are especially cautioned against registering for bench work. It requires more time than all other work combined and is less sure of producing the desired results. It may be an effort to attain to an ideal, but after four years of constant endeavor the ideal will vanish as a phantom and leave you as a reward an empty seat."

Knox Schedule.

Manager Dalrymple of Knox College announces the following football schedule:

Sept. 28 — Alumni, Willard Field.

Oct. 5 — Monmouth, Willard Field.

Oct. 19 — University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Oct. 26 — Cornell College, Willard Field.

Nov. 2 — University of Iowa, Iowa City.

Nov. 9 — Monmouth, Monmouth.

Nov. 15 — Lombard, Willard Field.

Nov. 23 — Eureka, Willard Field.

Alumni Notes.

Lafe Young, Jr., '01, has entered the Harvard Law School.

J. A. Fesenbeck, '01, is this year continuing his studies at Michigan.

Miss Florence A. Zerwekh, '96, was united in marriage with J. Allen Gilbert, of Dayton, Ohio.

Wm. Dennis, '01, is now of the firm of Randall & Dennis, attorneys at law in Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

C. H. Laartz, '01, who will be remembered as a prominent Y. M. C. A. worker and manager of the '01 track team, has begun his duties as principal of the high school at Atlantic, Iowa. He writes ordering the Iowan sent to his address.

B. D. Ilgenfritz ex-'01 writes from Shreveport, La., where he is connected with the Shreveport National Park, and after ordering the Iowan sent to his address adds the postscript "success to the football team this fall."

J. W. McBurney, '01, and R. D. Ogden of the same class, are practicing law at Seattle, Wash. In a personal letter to friends here they say that their practice has grown even beyond their expectations in the three months since they opened their office in the Boston Block in that city. Mr. McBurney was a member of the Vidette-Reporter board while in the University and Mr. Ogden will be remembered as an able debater of the Zetagathian society. The Iowan will visit them regularly.

Application made at Iowa City post-office for entry as second class mail matter.

A debt of abiding gratitude is owing to Prof. A. G. Smith and Dean W. S. Hosford, who last Saturday retired from the presidency and secretaryship of the board of athletic control. This much may be said, while in no degree deprecating the value of the services of the other members of the board, who have all performed their duties with unselfish zeal truly admirable. To these two gentlemen, however, has fallen a burden of responsibility greater in weight than the responsibility of any member of any faculty in the University. As members of the executive committee, of whom Lin M. Butler was the student member, to which committee it has been the practice of the board to refer nearly all matters of business detail for action, they have been called upon to pass on expenditures of many thousands of dollars. To the executive committee, in fact, has fallen the duty of directing the strictly financial portion of the business of the athletic union. Any business man may acquire an idea of the magnitude of the business thus transacted by this committee, when it is stated that in multiplicity of business details and in importance of interests affected it is on a par with the business of the average merchant whose stock is represented by a capitalization of $20,000. To add to the natural difficulties in the way of providing financially for the continuation of the athletic teams, the outstanding indebtedness of the Athletic Union, amounted at the advent of these gentlemen on the board, to more than $2,000. In the face of the feeling of distrust entertained by many of the merchants to whom this money was owing, supplies for the football team of '99, and money for the payment of preliminary training expenses were secured only on the personal responsibility of this committee, of which Geo. W. Egan was then a member, and of the manager. It speaks volumes for the manner in which the business of the union has been conducted, that its credit is today good at any store in Iowa City for any reasonable amount of goods desired.

The business of the athletic department of the university has grown immensely in magnitude in the two years that have elapsed since the present board succeeded the old advisory board. For the first time the regents have felt able to make appropriations, which in the aggregate amount to $3,500, for improvements on the athletic field. The football team, which in past years had seldom played to an attendance in which the paid admissions amounted to more than $200 to $500, has in the past two years participated in several games in which the gross receipts amounted to $1,500 to $3,800, while it is expected that the receipts from certain games will easily double the above figures. Of course this does not mean that profits will necessarily be larger, for the reason that the legitimate and necessary expenses in connection with these great games are very much larger. It all goes to show, however, that the business that is passed upon by the board through this committee is much greater bulk and in multiplicity of detail than it used to be.

For the first time, last spring, the board of athletic control felt that the resources of the athletic department, including its credit and future to pay, were such that it could consistently incur another debt in order that the track and baseball teams might be given all the advantages possible in the way of equipment and good schedules. This indebtedness has been further increased in the equipment of the football team and in the connection with the improvements at the athletic grounds. The indebtedness is not, however, regarded as a standing debt, but is rather to be considered in the light of cash bills, provision for the payment of which will be made out of the immediate receipts of the fall business, just as every merchant may have outstanding bills due for goods bought on 30 days credit,—a very common practice.

These various matters are here mentioned for the purpose of showing that the financial responsibilities of the board have been great, and that these responsibilities have fallen most heavily upon the executive committee. In addition to all this, the two men in common with the other members of the board have devoted much of their own time, energy, and careful thought to the able policy that has done much towards keeping Iowa in the forefront in athletics in the west. They have been very faithful in the able performance of their respective offices, of which the emoluments have consisted entirely of the consciousness of a work well done and they deserve the loyal gratitude of the entire university, as well as its loyal support in their future connection with the board of which they still continue as members.

Amusements

Like apple blossoms fall in the spring, after a shower of rain, when the wind blows through an orchard, so do tears fall from the eyes of spectators during a production of "Uncle Josh Spruceby" and just as the sun follows the rain, so does laughter succeed the tears in the rendering of the drama. It is not an affected story. It is a true tale of a few simple, but honest people, the principal incidents of their lives tied together with pure and at the same time, beautiful language. It is just a stage poem, filled with all those things which make laughter and tears co-mingle and in a manner truly dramatic. To be seen at the opera house for Saturday, matinee and night, September 28th: matinee 15 and 25 cents; evening 20, 30 and 50 cents.

"A Poor Relation," which made Sol Smith Russell famous, is by the same author who wrote "An American Tramp," the romantic comedy that will be seen here Monday night. In it the author touches that well-spring of emotion—the heart, and also will cause laughter to chase away the tears that come unbidden during the unfolding of its intensely interesting story. Admission 50 and 35 cents. Secure your seats in advance.
