PRACTICE MUCH BETTER.

State Normal Game.

William Watters.

Chairman of the athletic committee has completed a new schedule for the football team. The practice will be held Tuesday noon, and the game will be played Saturday.

The schedule will be as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Date</th>
<th>Opponent</th>
<th>Location</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tuesday</td>
<td>Iowa</td>
<td>Home</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Saturday</td>
<td>University of Chicago</td>
<td>Away</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wednesday</td>
<td>Normal</td>
<td>Home</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The team will then play a home game against the University of Iowa on Saturday, October 30.

The coaches have decided to use a new formation for the game against the University of Chicago, which will feature a strong line and a fast-moving offense.

The team is expected to win both games against Iowa and Normal, and will then travel to Chicago for the final game of the season.

The coaches are confident in the team's ability to win all three games, and are looking forward to the upcoming season.

The coaches have also decided to take the team on a trip to Iceland during the winter break, in order to give the players a break from the rigorous schedule.

The team is excited for the upcoming season, and is looking forward to a successful campaign.

COMMERCIAL FOOTBALL SEASON

Another season is rapidly approaching which is going to be that same old football season another season that is going to be beneficial to those who own stocks of the ball. Yes, the merchants are already taking action towards that end. The grandstand is being built, and the game is getting closer. The ball is rolling, and the football season is on again.

But what about the players? Are they ready? The answer is yes. The teams are practicing, and the players are getting into shape. The ball is being kicked, and the game is getting hotter. The football season is on, and the players are ready.

In conclusion, the football season is on, and the players are ready. The game is getting closer, and the ball is rolling. The season is going to be beneficial to those who own stocks of the ball. Yes, the merchants are already taking action towards that end. The grandstand is being built, and the game is getting closer. The ball is rolling, and the football season is on again.

Carnivals. They will decorate the business houses with old gold and the colors of the visiting teams. It is now up to the professors and students to do what lies in their power. The games that will be played here are all good games, and everyone should buy a season ticket. Whether you play football or not, if you wish to see a winning team and a successful season, your heart support will go far towards realizing these hopes.

Exchanges that come to the Iowans are full of challenges for the foot-ball games between classes, boarding houses and other student bodies. At present no such challenges have been issued at Iowa. There are many men in school who played on their high school team but when they entered the University did not appear for practice. The men who go out to train all have a spark of hope of getting on the first team and the greatest care is exercised not to get hurt. Why should not the different classes and student organizations form teams? The coaches watch these minor games, and if any rough diamond is found, he will immediately be led to the 'Varsity squad for practice under the head coach. Other universities of Iowa’s rank have inters-fraternity games, and if Iowa had a freshman team it would receive challenge. Very often a good foot-ball player is developed in less than a half season's practice. These class games would certainly bring out men who otherwise had no intention of playing. The great secret of having a strong athletic team at any institution is that everyone try.

Amusements

A splendid company will appear at the opera house on Saturday evening, Oct. 5th, in the great success “When We Were Twenty One.” “Dick Carewe,” the leading character, is the quiet bachelor of the period. But he doesn’t remain one long, O! no. The play ends with his head bowed to the yoke of matrimony, and after the most charming four acts ever penned, Dick Carewe ambles gently in double harness, side by side with the beautiful Phyllis Ercison. We don’t wish to anticipate pleasure, so the plot of the play we will keep until we give our further views of the plays, but this we say without fear of contradiction—“When We Were Twenty One” will make your mind and heart better in every way, so don’t fail to see it.

While the comedy “Two Merry Tramps” as presented by Wood & Ward’s company has been pronounced a bright satire by the press throughout the country during the past two years, the play in itself is of minor importance, the specialties and musical numbers introduced almost continuously during the action of the play being the features that have placed this organization at the head of its class. Some twenty pleasing, tuneful and novel specialties are given, among the most noted being the “Hobo Two-Step” by Wood and Ward and the Elmore Sisters, the rage of New York; “Tell Us Pretty Ladies,” as sung in “Floradora,” “My Blushing Rosie,” with chorus the entire company; “The Big Detective,” a musical satire on Sherlock Holmes; The Bowery Quartette in “The East Side Belle;” the Indian Opera and numerous individual specialties. The abundance of bright and pretty costumes, dashy, tuneful music, and scenery make the production of the “Two Merry Tramps” so closely resemble an elaborate extravaganza that theatre-goers scarcely realize that they are witnessing a force composed of being so different from the ordinary play of its class.
