SIGMA XI LECTURE.

THE Y. M. C. A. WORK.

Preparations Have Been Made for a Most Prolific and Bountiful Harvest; Each Plant Will Yield Its Proper Portion. Most Prosperous Year and Indi- cure. The prospects for the work of the Young Men's Christian Association are looking up. In the various lines of activity the outlook is good. The association is vigorously advertised during the summer, by circulars and by correspondence, and the result is a rapidly growing membership. Already the receipts for fees are in excess of those paid by Nov. 1 of last year.

The newly tinted halls and of- fices are a suggestion of what the Association needs to make Close Hall an attractive student home. Such a work is always convenient on the first floor but new paper and furniture will be required to render it really suitable.

In the gymnasium the mats have been repaired and filled so that tumbling can be practiced. A new bulletin pole and basketball have been added, while a new coat of paint and esthetic decoration have made the matting inviting and cheerful. New grape irons have been cast for the seniors and new pre-brick will be put under the boiler so that better heating with less fuel may be available this winter. This means better service and better attractions for all. It also makes it possible to conduct the real work of the Association much better.

The opening of the new gymnasium is attended by more than three hundred, and the union reception following was estimated to be the largest ever given in Close Hall. These are but the beginnings of the social life which Close Hall offers.

At Cambridge-Harvard 28,

The following is a statement by Dr. Williams, Minnesota's university coach, published in the Minneapolis Journal concerning Nebraska's protest of Roger's the, Car- lisle Indian.

"The protest of Nebraska is on the face of it, illadvised. Rog­ gers is a graduate of the Carlisle school, and if that institution were a college and capable of granting a degree, he would have a degree, which according to section 4, would entitle him to play.

"If any objection were to be made to Rogers, it should be on the basis of sects of which it is as follows: No student shall participate in a particular sport upon the teams of any college for more than four years in the ag­gregate.

"But Carlisle is not a college. It does not carry its students to a sufficiently grade to enter the freshman class of a college.

"In the report of United States Commissioner of education for 1900, volume II, page 2148, in the classification of American state schools and colleges western and Car­ lisle classed as 'an industrial school for Indian children,' and at another place in the same volume where a list is given of the colleges and universities in Penn­ sylvania—no mention is made of Carlisle.

"Carlisle is, as a matter of fact, a grade school, which car­ ries its students to a point about equal to that reached the second year in the high school.

"No concession can, therefore, be given to the protest. Minne­ sota will play no man against Ne­ braska whom she does not con­ sider eligible to play. The protest has been made in the foundation of more classes and at times con­ sistent as far as all classes will be formed in each college and will be led by stu­ dents of the same college. Mr. Johnson, chairman of the study com­ mittee, is pushing the work vig­ orously and with good success.

The course in Medical Missions bids fair to be a most popular study of 'Missions in the East' by an authority. Lawmen, are as such a study would be of great benefit to those who are interested in the work of the missions.

If thus the physical, the social and the religious aspects of the work are harmoniously carried on, the future of Association work in the 'Varsity is most promising.

At Harvard tomorrow evening, President D. S. Stimson will speak on the subject of automata and as shown in the use of the driving rod in search for underground water.

The following men will consti­ tute the coaching staff of Prin­ ceton University: Lyon, Lees, Hirshled, Edwards, Wheeler, Kelley, Matz and Poe.

Due to the great work in the registrar's office, the enrollment has not been checked up, so that exact figures cannot be obtained. The figures for the next week will be published and will be available and will be published.

"A forerunner of anarchism," from the pen of Professor Loos, is the title of a strong article in the current number of the World Review. Professor Loos' connection with this publication, as one of the editors, is a partial cause for its success.

The lecture given under the auspices of the Sigma Xi was one of the most entertaining and very pleasingly delivered. The local chapter of this scientific fraternity is to be congratulated for having among its members such a man as Professor Calvin, who presents lectures so scholarly and interesting. There is no need of importing lecturers when so capable ones can be obtained at home.

Every student should make a special effort to be at Des Moines tomorrow so as to be able to root for the football team that represents old gold. The $2 rate is popular and many have already signified their intention to be present at the contest with Drake University. Both the football management and the President of the University have done all within their power to make it possible for the student body to attend if it is so desired. The former has secured this extra reduced fare, while the latter makes the customary ruling that every one who is registered at the Iowa headquarters at the will be excused from all recitations which were missed on account of his being there. This demonstrates that the students are wanted at Des Moines tomorrow. Now it is up to the body to take advantage of the opportunity, which the management of the football and the President has provided for their benefit.

The scrubs in their game with the second team of Drake University Saturday deserve the hearty support of the students both in the way of attendance and good healthy rooting. They do more good for the cause of football here than many of us realize. Rooting will do wonders in encouraging them. It is just as hard work and takes just as much to play and practice with the scrubs as it does on the first team. There are no class teams here and since this is true the success of the only means of training new and inexperienced men to finally gain a place on the varsity team. Three of the players in the game last Saturday with the State Normal School were on the scrubs last fall and have earned their places by a season's work there. Six games have been scheduled for the second team, the first being the Coe game of Saturday in which our boys put up a good steady art.

Should the team be ball consistent with the work done by the varsity team. The remaining games we can be confident will be the same quality, if not better with the more practice and training. With Sam Hobbs as coach, it will take a great many difficulties to keep him from putting out a first-class team of scrubs, for in his eight years at the university he has always been specially adept in the game of football.

The Writers' Club meets for the first time this year with Miss Rainbow this evening. The club reports three new members, Messrs. Percival Hunt, John G. Bowman and Miss Mamie Polk.

The following officers were elected at a recent meeting of the Elder Daughters of the University: Mrs. Sterling, president; Miss Ella Wilcox, vice-president; Miss Louise Merrifield, recording secretary; Mrs. L. A. Clearman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Marshall, treasurer; Mrs. Jennie Hardy, custodian; Mrs. Kate Braided Rogers, member of the executive committee.

Captain Bothe, of the Chicago P. and S. says of the U. boys: "Minnesota this year has the biggest team I ever saw and the fastest, too, when they want to be. Of course we are not in condition today and they did not have to work, but they will have to play with more spirit if they are to win from Iowa or Nebraska. If they win the game next week, they will be well started toward the championship if they play the game they are capable of. Their forward work is good and gradual, and they will perfect their use of it if they will be of good team leadership and frame line-up and thinking the game.
