FINKBINE BESTS STUART.

CEDAR RAPIDS WINS CONTEST.

Golf Contest at Cedar Rapids Remarkable for work of Robt. H. Finkbine '05 against the Tsans-Mississippi Club's Champion.

The University golf club's team was defeated at Cedar Rapids Saturday by two holes. The match was close and exciting throughout. Arthur Gordon, one of the best visiting players, lost two holes because of the rule counting a hole lost if a ball be not found within five minutes after beginning to hunt for it.

The feature of the contest was the match between John Stuart, of Princetown, Trans-Mississippi Champion, and Robert H. Finkbine, '05, Champion of Iowa. Finkbine won out four up and three to play after some brilliant work. Stuart has easily qualified in a number of national championship contests.

The score of the several matches were as follows;

IOWA CITY	CEDAR RAPIDS
Eastman 0	Douglis 1
Coast 4	Harrison 0
Hull 1	Benedict 0
A. Gordon 0	Dunshee 3
Prof. Gordon	Bolton 2
Berryhill 0	Morrison 3
Finkbine 4	Stuart 8
E. H. Carpenter 0	Ferguson 1

Under this caption, Dr. Gilchrist will give a public lecture in the lecture room of the department of physical science on Tuesday evening, October 29. This lecture is the sequel to the one delivered by Dr. Gilchrist last year entitled "The Tower of London," and will be illustrated by stereopticon. The lecture will be given under the auspices of Dr. Gilchrist's students and will be open to the public.

This morning on a special, a company of forty-one students of the State University at Iowa City, and Prof. Macbride of that institution, arrived in Muscatine. They had chartered Whitmore's launch, the Mignon, and were taken up the river to the Grotto, where they spent the entire day in geological research. This class was here a year ago, it being one of the classes in geology at the Uuiversity. They returned to the city about 4 o'clock, and left on their special train at 5 for Iowa City.—Muscatine Journal, 19th.

The U. of Chicago has made two important changes in its religious activities, one a seemingly backward step, in that the afternoon Vesper service has been given up and a morning service at regular church hours instituted to take its place; the other change, the plan adopted by Beloit of having College Preachers, each one visiting the college for a short period to help the faculty in the religious work of the school.

MISSOURI HITS HAZING.

TWENTY-NINE '04's SUSPENDED.

Offenders must Apologize to their Victim Before they can Return to Their Work.

As a result of a hazing escapade which took place at Missouri university some time since twenty-nine sophomores have received notice of their suspension from the university. L. L. Thompson of Slater, Missouri, was the victim of their pranks and when each one has made a written apology to him and pledged good behavior for the remainder of the year, they will be re-installed.

President R. H. Jesse is quoted as having strenuous objections to the custom of hazing and when the discipline committee of the faculty recommended this action he was not slow to indorse it. The action of the suspended members, who are mostly from the engineers, will be awaited with interest. All those concerned willingly confessed their part in the matter, but treat their actions as as a joke, insisting thrt Thompson was simply spanked, instead of being lashed as reported.

He Played Poker Too.

There had been difficulties in the German class, which caused Professer Klein to give up his old custom of calling upon the pupils in alphabetical order. He purchased a package of blank cards and on each of them wrote the name of one member of his class. The cards were to be well shuffled before every recitation and the names called as they chanced to turn up in the pack.

Now it happened that there were two young men in the German class who thought themselves quite witty and had often caused the professor much trouble by disturbing the calmness of the recitations. On the day of the first appearance of the cards, as Mr. Klein slowly shuffled and cut the pack, one of these disturbing elements remarkad in a voice quite audible to the rest of the class:

"Full house."

The professor looked up and smiling sweetly at the two young men, replied:

"Oh, no! All I see is a pair of Jacks."—Chicago Weekly News.

"Eddy" Wilson, '00, passed through here on a late train last evening on his way to Chicago to have an operation performed for appendicitis. His address while there will be Hahnemann Medical Hospital.—The Cornellian. Mr. Wilson will be remembered by his friends here as a student in the college of law during the school year '99-'00.

F. C. Campbell, L '03, had his shoulder dislocated, Saturday, while engaged in a friendly scuffle.

RALLY THURSDAY NIGHT.

MEETING BY TORCHLIGHT.

Students, Faculties and Citizens meet on Campus to hear Speeches and Yells and Escort Team to the Train.

Who wah wah! Who wah wah!
Iowa! Iowa! Who wah wah!

Come right this way,
I—O—W—A!
Football we play
Rah, rah, rah!
Rush lines we break!
Touchdowns we make!
We take the cake!
Rah, rah, rah!

Haw, haw, hawk!
Hi, hi, hi!
Hawkeye, Hawkeye,
S. U. I.

Hero! Hiro!
Play ball, Iowa!

Yelling these college yells, and cheering the members of the varsity team to the echo, the students of the university will rally on the campus Thursday night for the grandest meeting in Iowa's athletic history. The meeting is to brace the team for its struggle with Minnesota, is to arouse the football spirit that is just beginning to surge through the university, as the hope of victory over Minnesota grows brighter.

"Your team is all right; all you have to do is to encourage them and they will beat Minnesota," said Ralph Hoagland, the great, western football authority.

This is what Iowa is going to do Thursday night, and every student in every college must be in the grand rally for all he is worth. The speakers will be the same speakers who have roused Hawkeyes in past days to the victorious pitch. Everyone of them will be better than ever before, citizens, professors, students.

The rally will be lighted by torches borne by students and at the conclusion of the speeches and yelling, the crowd will form in procession to escort the team to the depot. The team leaves at 8:50, Thursday, over the Burlington. The following night all those in the grand torchlight procession will want to leave for Minneapolis, which is, on Saturday, the Mecca of two great western states.

Come out to the rally. Get the frog out of your throat and be filled with the football spirit, Thursday night, on the university campus.

Frank E. Horack, '97, has returned to the United States after a year's travel and study abroad. Mr. Horack has a fellowship in political science in the University of Pennsylvania and will receive his degree of Ph. D. from that institution next June.

The lecture by Dr. Richard T. Ely will be given in the general lecture room in the hall of liberal arts, Thursday, at 2:10 p. m. The doors will be open to students at 1:55 p. m.

BASKET BALL OUTLOOK.

GOOD MATERIAL IS AT HAND.

Several Good Games are Already Scheduled and Practice in Gymnasium has Begun in Earnest.

The basketball manager is negotiating for games of basketball to be played with the following teams which insure a splendid scedule:—Des Moines College; Iowa College, Grinnell; Wilton College, Wilton; Upper Iowa University, Fayette; University of Minn., Minneapolis; Des Moines Y. M. C. A.; Burlington Y. M. C. A.; Dubuque Y. M. C. A.

Our last year's team was a credit to the school, having lost but one game in the state, that being one in which nearly half the team were substitutes, and yet we have not had practice to compete successfully with such teams as Minn. where our men found, to their sorrow, that their opponants had been training for six months under careful coaching, and as carefully as our own football team.

Practice here got underway early this year and material is already working into shape. Of last year's team but two are eligible this year, Williams, the football captain, and Plumm Schenck. Of the other men Griffith is coaching the Penn football team, Charles Bailey is teaching in Iowa City highschool and Rule is gymnasium director. Even with these men gone prospects are very bright. Among the many candidates for positions on the team are Captain Ross, of Des Moines fast 1901 team; Parsons, center on Western College Champain team; Brock and Griffith both formerly captains of Iowa City Highschool teams: Sam Stover, sub. on last year's team; Farrel, of U. I. U.; two men from Tabor College. Walter Ball shows a nice eye for baskets and D. S. Miller, of Guthrie Center will make a speedy guard.

Director Rule wishes all men who have ever played on class or college teams to appear for practice at 3 o'clock Saturday.

The Daily Iowan takes pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of following tribute from the hand of our esteemed President:

STATE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA.
Offiice of the President.
Iowa City, Iowa, Oct. 17, 1901.

Dear Sirs: Permit me to congratulate the university upon the Daily Iowan. The members of the faculties have expressed themselves, so far as I have heard, as gratified at the consolidation of university newspaper interests. It is a sign of progress of university spirit. With the united support of alumni, faculties, and students, The Daily Iowan promises much for the future of the university. The paper already compares favorably with the college press elsewhere. I wish you the success you deserve.

Sincerely yours,
GEORGE E. MACLEAN.

Notice that the directory has already been published at Ames makes us ask where is that handbook which was to have been issued three weeks after the opening of the term. Now, right now is the time when the book would be of so much value to the students and the men who have its publication in charge should make every effort to get the book to press.

The Hawkeye board has decided to issue the '03 book a little later this year than has been the custom in the past few years. This change is in no way detrimental and should result in a material improvement in the work. Those elected to issue the '03 Annual are determined to make their's the peer of any yet published and in this endeavor they should have the hearty co-operation of all students. Without this it is almost impossible to issue an annual which will be representative of all the departments of university life.

Mr. Fred C. Drake was last night selected to be editor-in-chief of The Daily Iowan. His promotion to this position of trust and influence has been well-earned by his three years of faithful service in the field of college paper work at Iowa. Beginning in his sophomore year, the fall of 1898, as a reporter, he was promoted in the following year to a managing-editorship on the old Vidette-Reporter board. In the fall of 1900 he became one of the managers of that paper. When the consolidation of the Quill and the Vidette-Reporter to form the Daily Iowan occurred this fall, it was deemed best to conduct the new paper for a few weeks without an editor-in-chief. In the meantime the combined boards of both papers have been laboring faithfully to produce as good a paper as possible for the university. A recent canvass of the board demonstrated that the time had come, when an editor-in-chief was desired and Mr. Drake was chosen for the position.
