SNAPPY VARSITY PRACTICE
CAPT. WILLIAMS AT QUARTERBACK

SECRET WORK BEGAN LAST NIGHT: Jones, Griffith and Williams Directly in the Practice and ending with "Lea" and "three deep." The signal practice was snappy and full of life. Jones was tried first at quarter. He managed the team well, but naturally he was compelled to use much of his attention in learning to pass the ball in the new formations. Griffith went in after a quarter of an hour had passed and the team ran its formations with a speed and precision that a week ago was only obtained when the varsity captain directed them. When another quarter of an hour had passed Knipe told Watters to get in at quarter. Then the team shouted for joy and went through the signs with the same verve as if the old new formations were tried preparatory to the Illinois game when perfection itself will have to be obtained in masses on Jake Stahl, the Illinois star tackle. Several of the tactical offensive mistakes of the game against Michigan were carefully explained to the team by the coach. The practice ended with several games so that the students Captain Williams' side defeated Captain Watters' side uninanimously, and an amusing ten-minute game of "three deep." The line-up last night was: Silberman, Marcus, I. C., Coughard, I. T., Headrick, R. I. O., Cripps, E., Smith, Berry, r. g., Bear, Herbert, 2. C., Wilkins, I. h., Watters, 5. b., Macy, Buckley, f. b., Jones, Griffith, Williams, q. b.

BRITON WANTS DEGREE.

Ambitious Englishman Offers Money to the University for a Degree. Proposition Rejected.

The astounding proposal that the University of Iowa confers the degree of Doctor of Laws upon any person who is an Englishman for a consideration of money has been received by the president of the university and refused. The proposition reads:

"Central Building, 41 North John Street, Liverpool, England, Sept 24. The Registrar, University of Iowa. Dear Sir: A son of a client of mine is desirous of taking the degree of Doctor of Laws at your college. The father is one of the leading members of our House of Commons and the son, who is a member of the Middle Temple, London, is also, I may say, an aspirant of Parliament. He feels that he was possessed of such a degree as above mentioned, it would open many doors to him in his legal and his political career. I now write to ask you if it would be possible to have the degree of Doctor of Laws conferred upon him by your university. Necessary fees would, of course, be forthcoming. A. Ogden Taylor."

President MacLean's answer reads in part:

"I wish simply to say that the principal of whom you are the dishonest agent has disgraced his nationality, the Middle Temple and himself, and I only hope that when he comes to stand for Parliament he will learn at least that a man's word, unless limited, cannot be realized."

The Difference.

The football coach at Harvard says: "Pierce the line fiercely." At Yale the coach says: "Get through, you lobster, with your toes, tear'em up, or one which is not likely to be stopped." "At a recent meeting of men at the line fiercely." The college of homeopathic medicine has been badly affected by the burning of the building and the lengthening of the college of law as might have been expected, according to Mere. Smith, the head of this state's registration. The college of pharmacy contains half of the last year's number. The college of arts, with the largest freshman class ever enrolled in any college, falls 19 short. The graduate college, whose students think it unfounded probably to hurry their registration, now has 392 less students than were enrolled there during 1900-01. The college of homeopathic medicine has dropped from to 2, 4, to 2, . A rather rapid ratio of decrease and one which is not likely to be made up during the balance of the year.

The reason that the College of Liberal Arts does not come up, in this showing, to last year, is that the unclassified students, doing professional work, are not counted. There are also about 60 registered in the graduate college who are not included, they being in absencia at present.

The total number of new students registered is 535 or 36.7 per cent, of the whole.

LITTLE "REDDY" A HERO.

Little One Hundred and Thirty Pound. Dwight Griffin is Praised by BENJ. F. SHOMBAUGH."

The hero of the campus this week is little Griffith, the 130 pound boy who ran the Yale teams against the Minnesota giant. Though he is only well and frequently got them mixed, he played a grand game for a boy who was hardly prepared to substitute at all. The team did everything for him in the game that they could and now they worship him. The way they ran signals on Iowa field Monday afternoon when he went in as quarterback showed the spirit of the Iowa team under Prof. Watters' game against Iowa, in the second half, little "Reddy," as he is called, stood beyond the Iowa line to receive the ball for punts, mental and fingers apparently not bigger than a baby's, and his foot, short, so for punting. Yet he did off the line fiercely. The story of his feats in kicking on Northrup field will always be told in the history of Iowa's football history. — Des Moines Capital.

Receipts at Minnesota.

The total paid attendance at the Minnesota Iowa game, Saturday afternoon, was $1,548. The receipts were in the neighborhood of $60,000, of which Iowa's share was $350.

The executive committee of the board of regents will meet Friday. Jas. Pinkham, ex-92, is located in the insurance business at Chicago, Ken.

The students of the vocal training classes under Prof. Gordon and Miss Everts expect to give a play this last of the term.

The seniors of Michigan this year will give a "smoker." They profess anti-coed sentiment and express their ideas that way.

Cecilia Loxeaux, ex-'95, is taking an advanced course in English, music under Prof. Percival Dietgen, of Des Moines.

The October number of the University News contains a schedule and announcement of the clinics in both of the university hospitals for this month.

President MacLean goes to Council Bluffs tomorrow where he will speak before the South Dakota Medical Association, on the subject: "American schools and Anarchy."

In the annual report of the Agriculture Extension Office, printed by the government, at Washington, there is a paper on "results and relations with associations" by Prof. Benj. F. Shombaugh.
