THANKSGIVING GAME

Between 1 and 12 o'clock, to see the performance of will run to kets will be good leaving and started a strike for a trip to Michigan, and Cochems, of not being sufficiently rewarded against Minnesota. Heston, of the band, for the band when it of songs were sung by the went to Minneapolis turned the demand down flat and playing for the glory of the any time during the GRADUATE CLUB MEETS.

Dean L. G. Weld Presents Scholarly Paper before Society—Balance of Evening Spent with Music and Refreshments.

The first open meeting of the year of the Graduate Club of three of the university was held in the Hall of Liberal Arts last evening. The meeting was a success, but it was one of the very happy events in university life. At eight o'clock the program was opened in the auditorium by the reading of a paper by Prof. L. G. Weld, entitled, "The Relation of the Material to Social Sciences." Vividly Prof. Weld pictured this relation, contrasting the problems of the political economist with the tasks of the astronomer. The point of view was perfect, it was pure that of a scientific man making a speculative peep into the econo- mics. By the reading of the paper which was heartily applauded, Claude Horack, president of the Graduate Club, announced that the second number on the program was an adjournment to the reception room on the first floor of "where you are all invited to talk." But there was more than talking to be found at the reception room. Here the High School orchestra was playing, a number of songs were sung by the quarter- tre, Arthur Bailey then sang a solo accompanied by Miss Helen Eddy at the piano, and a recita- tion was given by Miss Besie G. Parker. Including the members of the club and their guests there were about 100 present. The evening was informal and between the scattered numbers of the program there was no talk of lacking.

Board of Control Report.

The Board of Control in their recent report speaks well of the manner in which they find the university has been conducted, the secretary's books, they find it in a most careful and pains-taking manner. While they criticize a few minor details their report sums up the whole matter in this brief and pertinent state- ment: "The great bulk of the business is conducted with ability and fidelity. On the whole, but little to criticise and much to commend in the business methods of the university."

Applications for the fellowships to be awarded by the university next year have already begun to arrive from the sister colleges of the state.

Prof. Weld will read the paper at the Baconian Club tomorrow evening. His subject will be, "Are the Other Worlds Inhabited?"

Miss Wilma Felker, '03, has gone to New York to enter upon a two-year course at St. Luke's hospital.

Leele Leslie, of Iowa City, and S. Nelson, both of the law class of 1901, have located for the practice of law at Sioux City.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST

Members of Zetagathian Society Will Compete for a Society Medal

The Zetagathians will give a declamatory contest in the east room of the library this afternoon as usual program. To make the contest an interesting one, a prize will be awarded to the winner, and as the best talent of the society will appear the pro- gram is assured to be an entertain- ing one.

Three musical numbers will be given, one of which is a vocal solo by Mr. W. Swaffard. Mr. Swaffard has toured the country's second bass of the Midland quartette and is a singer of excep- tionable voice.

The judges for the declamatory contest are Miss Kathryn Everts, Prof. Doreas and Dr. B. F. Shambaugh.

The critics are Messrs. Barr, Hunter, Files, Gaumer- man, Willie and Dykstra.

Chicago's Class.

Chicago's football team might not be called a first rate team now and then if she would play insti- tutions of her class. For in- stance, we will suggest the elevens of the "Clearly Business College," "State Normal," "All-Freshman Eleven," "Mar- shall High School," or even "Morgan Park" and "Englewood High.

We hope the teams from the schools—mentioned will not take offense and think we are disparaging them, for we're not. We are only advising Chi- cago.—Michigan Daily News.

As Others See Us.

The following taken from the College Era, the official publica- tion of Western College at Toledo, Iowa, shows the friendly attitude that exists toward Iowa at Western.

"During the last two years, the Admissions Committee of the university has made a splendid record. The people of the state took an active part in Western, and the university has received from various colleges though desiring to win from, or at least make a good showing against it, were glad to see it climb to a place of recognition. We feel safe in saying that the defeat, last Saturday, was felt almost as keenly in the different colleges of the state as it is in the university itself."

Elder Daughters Receive.

The Elder Daughters of the university of Iowa will receive their friends in the women's drawing- room of the liberal arts building, Saturday, November 13, from two to four.

Three or four volunteers are desired in the battery. Candida- dates are requested to report to Captain K. A. Anderson.

The students are requested to continue his work in the college of law.

Miss Ada Lany, '03, is at her marriage in the city, and to set as bridesmaid at the marriage of a lady friend.
The Minnesota Daily which has boarded of the western championship during the whole season, finds it exceedingly hard to admit of defeat at the hands of Wisconsin. When Minnesota defeated Iowa by a score of 18 to 0, the defeat was "overwhelming" in their eyes and Iowa was "outclassed" but when Wisconsin piled up 18 counts in the first half against the Minnesota Daily's boasted "champions" the "overwhelming defeat" is conspicuous for its absence and instead we find that the "Gophers had an off day and did not play up to their standard." True, it is sad Minnesota, and we realize how your premature boasts sound to us now, but such excuses as the above sound decidedly flat when originating in your camp. Wisconsin surprised you, defeated you, to use your own terms, overwhelmed you and though vastly inferior in weight, played your massive giants clear out of the field. If you don't have it of your own, better assume enough of the sportsman-like spirit to allow you to admit of your defeat in a truly graceful manner.

Amusements

At the opera house tomorrow night the two principal comedians of "Dangers of Paris," the new melodrama, are one of its strong features. They are direct contrasts—one being exceedingly tall and thin and the other short and stout. They are rivals for the same girl, and their mimic encounters are the source of much hilarity in the audience.

Mr. Thos. M. Hunter, who plays Nero in the production of "Can Vadis," copied the celebrated bust of the tyrant in the Vatican cangalleries, for his make-up. He had a wig made for the part after an engraving of the bust. This portrait of Nero differs somewhat from the generally accepted likeness of Aheomburbas, as Petronius delighted to style the tyrant. It is predicted by persons who have seen the performance that actors in the future will adopt the same plan in preparing themselves for the correct portrayal of historical characters. At the opera house Tuesday, Nov. 26th.

Perhaps the most important opereric announcement for this city in the near future is that of the new Pixley-Luders comedy opera, "King Dodo." This is a purely American product, and has enjoyed a season of uninterrupted prosperity in Chicago throughout the past summer. There are no less than eighty people in the big company, an orchestra is carried, the complete scenic equipment and all the features which attracted such favorable comment during the record-breaking run in Chicago. The Castle Square Opera Company, a concern which has undoubtedly provided the most elaborate and important operatic offerings in the country for the past five or six years, is responsible for "King Dodo." This fact should assure a perfe-tion of detail not frequently observed. At the Opera House next Wednesday night, Nov. 27.

joying a visit from his mother from Superior, Wis.
