TWO GREAT TEAMS THIS YEAR

Expert Comparison of Play on Thanksgiving Day
Wisconsin's Strengths in Michigan Are Strong

The football season just closed brought together the two greatest teams in the west with the championship undecided. The supporters of the Crimson are claiming the Western pennant, while the admirers of the Maize and Blue are equally strong in voicing their belief in Michigan's primacy. Both Wisconsin and Michigan are very strong teams. Either would defend the standard of western football and be a decided favorite against the strongest teams of the east.

The first desideratum in picking a champion team is the one that has neither been defeated nor tied throughout the season. Michigan and Michigan are both claimants. Wisconsin made a total of 33, and Michigan 29 points. Wisconsin broke all football records by scoring the grand total of 50 points with nothing to the credit of her opponents. After picking the unfair team, comparison of scores is unreliable. Either Wisconsin or Michigan could be crowned champion. Michigan has the better of six by Michigan by 40 to by Wisconsin, or on the Chicago defeat by Michigan by Wisconsin. In each case, circumstances and conditions were so constant that no conclusion on the "dope" untenable if not ridiculous.

The test between Michigan and Chicago showed the playing of each team when at its best. The Thanksgiving Day game, however, is the Thanksgiving Day. The spectacle of Coach Stagg at the infringement of his divine right to the territory embraced in the environs of Chicago and the District of Lake Michigan did not operate to prevent the free use of each team's finest tactical improvements to permit the sight of the Michigan-Iowa game and the last half of the Wisconsin-Chicago game, the half in which Wisconsin was at her best.

Comparison of the two teams as they played on Thanksgiving day gives the laurels unquestionably to Wisconsin. Voit's team has done work far superior to that of King's. Wisconsin has more individual stars than Michigan, but the eleven Badgers do not give the impression of a team, a characteristic of the Wolverines. In formings, resource, and the grand strategy of football, Michigan is a far superior team. Wisconsin, while the swiftness of her execution is also greater than Michigan, Wisconsin could never be able to stop the line plunges of Michigan who are already burdened with the prospect of electing officers. All nominations must be made to the present of the candidates for the twenty members before January 4th. L. M. Butler, Pres., H. E. Spangler, Sec.

Athletic Union Election

There will be a meeting of the Athletic Union Monday evening December 26th in room 54, LeConte Hall, for the purpose of electing officers. All nominations must be intended for the present of the dues of the Union, $5.00.

The CONFERENCE MEET.

RULES MADE MORE STRINGENT

At a Very Important Meeting the Conference Straightsome Losing to Powers Excels Wisconsin—The Sec.
conds of the Season. With the last brought together the greatest gathering of athletes and athletic authorities ever held in the West. Football stars were there in force. Athletic managers of the various college teams were busy and many prospective dates for football and base ball games were talked over. Perhaps the most interesting group was that of the coaches who got together and talked over the work of the various teams during the past season.

The faculty members, who are the great governing body of our intercollegiate athletics, passed some very important regulations, both in regard to the conduct of the men who play in a so called semi-professional or professional base ball game where any student who plays in a professional base ball game where any student who plays in a professional base ball game will be suspended from the college and athletic authorities.

The probability is that Iowa's Thanksgiving game for 1902 will be with the University of Minnesota at the University of Iowa. Following is the record of the 1902 Wisconsin teams.

Michigan 56, Albion o. 35, Case o. 29, Northwestern o. 29, Illinois o. 22, Carlisle Indians o. 21, Ohio State o. 9, Beloit o. 56, Iowa o. 56. Iowa o. 56.

Junior Debates

The annual Junior debates Ward C. Henry, George E. Hill, and L. J. Reed, have submitted the following questions to the Junior debate: Wisconsin is a greater team than any other season of the Hawkeye. The board of athletic control will probably be in charge of the debate.

B. U. M. S.

The meeting of the senior girls secret society, which was called for yesterday, was postponed until this afternoon. Besides important secret work a constitution was adopted and officers elected. Plans for the initiation of members were also made. Black and light blue were chosen as colors. The name adopted is represented by the initials of the words composing it.

The Probability are that it will be Alternating in the Schedule with On of the Big Games on the Home Grounds.

Student Delegates.

Every student organization recognized by the university is entitled to representation by a delegate in a board of student delegates. The following classes of organizations have been recognized: the classes in all colleges, the classes in all colleges, the literary and professional societies, fraternities, sororities, various clubs.

These bodies are requested, if they have not done so, to choose their delegates and to leave the names of the delegates at the president's office during the week. Where no delegates are chosen, the president of an organization will be considered as a delegate. It is important that the list of delegates be completed this week as it is hoped to call a meeting of the board some time during the ensuing week.
